Annally Calls Orders To 'Break Down Doors Per-

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—By unusual expedient of ordering its seats at arms to arrest absentee members, the senate summoned a rum today for a filibustering discussion of the measure to abolish state taxes as a prerequisite for voting federal elections.

For three hours and 42 minutes after arrived at noon, a minority of the state sat twiddling thumbs while inte attempts were made to obtain a quorum of 49. Administration members were determined not to yield inches to the proponents of delay an adjournment to Monday.

Finally, after an hour and a half waiting had produced only 44 members, Democratic Leader Barkley Kentucky moved to instruct Vice President Wallace to issue warrants for the arrest of all absentees who could be located in the District of Columbia.

Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, retorted but the drastic action was prevented and for the first time since Boulder day fight of May, 1932, presiding officer signed warrants for the arrest of eight members.

The eight included Senators Doxey, Democrat, Mississippi; Maybank, Democrat, South Carolina; O'Daniel, Democrat, Texas; McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee; Russell, Democrat, Georgia; Hill, Democrat, Alabama, and McNary, Democrat, Louisiana, opponents of the poll tax bill, and General Kilgore, Democrat, Nevada.

McKellar, placed under technical arrest at his apartment in a Boulder hotel, walked into the chamber to make the 49th senator present.

Senator Bilbo, Democrat, Mississippi, told reporters he thought he would be arrested.

LOUISIANA'S YOUTHS TO BE DRAFTED SOON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—(P)—The bills of many of Louisiana's 50-year-old and 19-year-old youths in the army by Christmas was announced today.

Although we have received no specific instructions as yet from Washington, we will probably begin classifying these boys at once, but it likely be about 30 days before we have any actually inducted," announced Colonel Harmon P. Agnew, chief of the manpower division of selective service, stated today.

Approximately 50,000 Louisiana boys aged under the selective service high school for registration of 18-19-year-olds on June 30 of this year.

"I don't know just how many of number may have volunteered for armed services already, so it is possible to say just how many will be immediately affected by the passage of the ten-year draft bill," Colonel Agnew said.

November Shows Bleak Face To German Efforts At Conquest

Interpretation By Kirke L. Simpson

(Wide World War Analyst)

November has shown a bleak face to German conquest hopes in other years and this November is no exception.

November saw the Kaiser's glory dreams burst like a soap bubble in 1918. His strutting successor as a war lord has admitted that in 1941 the vision of a Nazi-dominated world was close to utter disaster in Russia and saved, not by Hitler, but by providence.

It was a slightly humbled Hitler who gave credit only a few weeks ago to some more potent force than his own intuitive military genius for the 1941 escape. He capped the admission, however, with assurance to his German listeners that he, not providence, had seen to it that there would be no repetition of that dread winter of 1941 for Nazi Germany.

Yet this November winter is again upon Hitler's dangerously far-stretched armies in an unconquered Russia.
Moreover, Anglo-American forces of ever expanding size and power are confronting him from across the Mediterranean. A complete Axis rout in Africa is in the making. Italy, the

RED GAINS MADE ON TWO FRONTS

Repel Fresh German Attacks On Stalingrad; Nazis Lose More

MOSCOW, Sunday, Nov. 15.—(P)— Three days of continuous attacks in the Stalingrad factory area have cost the Germans several thousand dead and have gained them only a few yards in a single street of that battered city, the Russians announced early today.

MOSCOW, Nov. 14.—(P)—The Russians drove forward on both critical Caucasian fronts around Nalchik and Tuapse today and repelled fresh German attacks in Stalingrad after the enemy "made an insignificant advance" there Friday.

The latest German offensive against the skeleton Volga city was described as sharp but of rather small scale compared to the massive assaults which a few weeks ago drained the German army of 100,000 of its finest shock troops.

The army newspaper Red Star said the latest offensive already has cost the Nazis 2,800 casualties, 700 killed and 2,100 wounded. The Germans were no nearer their objectives and were suffering from deadly frontal and flank fire as well as bitterly cold winter blasts.

The Germans said they captured dominating heights in the western Caucasus and bombed Tuapse, repulsed strong Russian attacks in the central Caucasus, and took more blocks of houses in hard fighting in Stalingrad. Russian attacks south of the city were reported repelled.

The most dangerous German drive on the high Leningrad plains appeared completely checked, and the resilient Red army was reported isolating and exterminating German groups in the mountain forests leading to the Georgian military highway.

The noon communiqué listed 900 Germans killed and the destruction of a great quantity of material. Laboriously battled for a thousand miles through hostile, frozen territory. The

MADCAP ELEPHANT STILL ON LOOSE

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Nov. 14.—(P)— Madcap Modoc, the two-ton circus elephant that has given this section of Indiana an unwelcome and unpleasant circus for three days and nights, had not wavered tonight of the call of the wild.

But that was not the case with the battered Hoosier safari of peace officers, farmers and circus men who have been trying to return the animal to captivity since it broke away from keepers Wednesday night and ruined a scheduled indoor circus in the Wabash high school.

"I can get along without any more elephant hunting," sighed Sheriff Marvin Idle. "Anybody who wants to hunt an elephant can have it."

The latest maneuver designed to turn Modoc from the error of its ways was the use of two decoy elephants, the theory being that Modoc, a female, would forget about the whole business and rejoin its male mates.

All they did was trumpet mournfully up and down the Wabash river bottoms while Modoc answered with elephantine sneers from a safe distance.

SINGLE COMMAND SOUGHT FOR ALL WAR PRODUCTION

Drive Launched To Set Up
Office Of Mobilization
By Dec. 7

GROUP BELIEVES WAR CAN BE WON IN EIGHT MONTHS

Pepper Says Plan Endorsed By William Green And Philip Murray

By Richard G. Massock
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—Congressional proponents of a single civilian command over all war production, with its manpower problems, announced today a drive to set up a central office of war mobilization by December 7. They declared that the war could be won in eight months by "a resolute overhauling of the war production machine."

Senators Kilgore, Democrat, West Virginia, and Pepper, Democrat, Florida, and Representative Tolson, Democrat, California, said executives and production engineers of twenty corporations with half the war orders had been invited to testify at hearings opening Monday before a senate labor sub-committee under Pepper's chairmanship.

"We want to get from them the complete story of the operations of the present production procedures," they said in a joint statement. Chairman Truman, Democrat, Missouri, of the senate defense investigation committee and chairman Murray, Democrat, Montana, of the small business committee, endorsed the program.

The sponsors told reporters they intended to press it through congress as a directive to President Roosevelt.
The president has the power now to set up such an office, Tolson observed,
"but it hasn't been done yet."

Tolson said the plan was based on a report of shortcomings which he prepared as chairman of the house committee investigating national defense migration and that it calls for a "streamlined central agency with a man at the top who can say 'yes' or 'no.'"

Kilgore explained that the war mobilization office would be a sort of "war cabinet" or "super WPB," taking over and "closing the gaps" behind the present agencies.

2 ARRESTED AFTER ROBBERY OF BANK

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 14.—(P)—
State police reported today that two youths, who gave the names of Robert Wade, 21, of Maxton, N. C., and Albert Scott, 17, of Rockingham, N. C., were arrested by a state trooper and Bogalusa state police yesterday afternoon two hours after they had held up and robbed the Bank of Wiggins, Miss., and escaped with $1,550.

State police said the youths confessed the Wiggins robbery and two other robberies and the theft of four automobiles in the past week.

One of the stick-ups and auto thefts occurred at Charlotte.

State police were notified of the bank robbery at 10:55 a.m. yesterday and immediately detailed a state policeman at Bogalusa to join Bogalusa city police in blocking the Pearl River bridge at Bogalusa.

Sheriff L. B. Barker of Wiggins was notified and arrived later to claim the prisoners.

War In Mediterranean Area

The British Royal Air Force smashed at an airbase near Tunis (B) November 12 in delivering the first blow in gaining control of the Mediterranean corridor. Meanwhile, United States forces raced across Algerian sands (A) toward Tunis and Bizerte in their drive to head off General Rommel's retreating Axis forces in Libya. The Vichy radio reported that American troops have occupied the Algerian town of Bone, 60 miles from the Tunisian border. Axis forces were shifted around the area (2) skirted by Bizerte, a principal port in Tunisia, and the islands of Sicily, Sardinia and Corsica. Some Italian troops were sent into Corsica, and others reached Nice (3), a French port. German forces arrived on the coast of southern France but Axis sources said Toulon (A), the French naval base, would not be occupied.

Six Found Guilty In Treason Trial

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—(P)—Six relatives and friends of the executed Nazi saboteur Herbert Haupt were convicted tonight by a federal court jury in Illinois' first treason trial.

They face possible sentences ranging from five years' imprisonment and $10,000 fines to death. Federal Judge William J. Campbell will fix the penalties later.

The jury deliberated two hours and 30 minutes in bringing in the second treason conviction in 148 years of American history.

Found guilty of giving "aid and comfort" to the young saboteur, smuggled by submarine into the United States last June 17 on a mission to cripple war plants were:
Hans and Erna Haupt, parents of the saboteur; Walter and Lucille Froehling, young Haupt's uncle and aunt; and Otto and Kate Wergin, friends of the Haupt family.

The jury was polled at the defense request and each of the eight women and four men said "it was and is my verdict."

Next Friday, November 20, Judge
William J. Campbell said, the court will hear any further defense motions and also any arguments in mitigation in behalf of the defendants.

Rickenbacker And All But One Of Plane Crew Saved

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)— Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, the man who saves enemy planes, has done it again—rescued by a big navy Catalina flying boat after three perilous weeks adrift in a tiny rubber raft on the broad expanse of the south Pacific.

The navy announced the rescue today, adding that all seven of the airmen who, with Rickenbacker, were forced down by an empty gas tank
October 21, had now been accounted for.
But one, Sergeant Alexander Kaczmarek, died on the raft and was buried at sea.

With the celebrated World War flying ace, in the raft were Colonel Hans C. Anderson and Private John F. Battek. It was they who watched Kaczmarek succumb to exposure and hardship. It was they who buried him.

Three more of the Rickenbacker party—Lieutenant James C. Whitaker, Lieutenant John J. De Angelis and Staff Sergeant James Reynolds, were found on a small island in the south Pacific.

The rescue at sea of Captain William Cherry, the pilot of Rickenbacker's plane, was announced yesterday. Thus, the roll call of the group was complete.

Rickenbacker, 52 years old, with another of his many close brushes with death safely behind him, was reported in good condition, as was Anderson.
Bartek's condition was serious but he was expected to recover.

An army announcement in Honolulu said: "Captain Rickenbacker and certain other members of his party aboard an army plane which disappeared weeks ago are safe and are being cared for at a south Pacific base," a brief army announcement said.

"Medical attention and care are being provided for those survivors who require it."
"The navy played a major role in the rescue."
Rickenbacker, an adviser to Secretary of War Stimson, was enroute to the south Pacific war zone from Hawaii to make a survey of air force activities there. On October 21 he re-

SEA ACTION BIG PART OF FIGHT OVER GUADALCANAL

Outburst, Raging Since Thursday, First Reported By Nipponese

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—Powerful groups of American and Japanese warships were slugging it out in the vicinity of the Solomon Islands today in an aftermath of a heavy American naval bombardment of enemy positions on Guadalcanal.

Both sides have "suffered losses," a navy communiqué said, but it added that no details would be reported while the battle continues because of the value of such information to the foe.

The communiqué described the battle as "a series of naval engagements."
This was authoritatively interpreted to mean that the ships of both sides were widely deployed in the Solomons area, so that the battle consists of a number of individual actions between groups of ships, rather than a single mass fight.

It seemed probable that aircraft were participating fully, both as weapons of attack and as the eyes of the opposing fleets, although the communicé made no mention of them.

First word of the first outburst of sea warfare in and around the battlecored island where the critical conflict on Guadalcanal is the prize which Japan seeks and the United States is determined to hold—came today from Tokyo.

had lost two destroyers and more than ten aircraft and had a battleship dam-

IOWA OFFICIALS VISIT CAMP POLK

CAMP POLK, La., Nov. 14.—(P)— Governor GEORGE A. Wilson of Iowa and Brigadier General Charles H.
Grab, adjutant general and director of Iowa selective service, paid a surprise visit to Camp Polk today and conferred unofficially with Major General Willis D. Crittenger, commander of the Third armored corps and Major General Edward H.
Brooks, commander of the Eleventh armored division.

Governor Wilson's 20-year-old son, Sergeant James H. Wilson, is a member of the Eleventh's maintenance battalion.

The distinguished Iowans reviewed a formation of the maintenance battalion and then met the Iowa brothers-in-arms of the young sergeant.
They told them that Iowa had 2-500,000 citizens who are "both proud and interested in the work they are doing at Camp Polk."

Sergeant Wilson, granted a furlough to meet his parents in Shreveport, remained in the north Louisiana city with his mother, while the governor visited the post.

Secret Visitor

The army has disclosed in Washington that Major General Mark W. Clark (above), deputy commander of the Allied forces in French North Africa, went secretly by submarine to enemy-dominated territory before the Allied attack in North Africa and opened negotiations with representatives of General Henri Giraud, the friendly French commander. The disclosure came in the announcement that President Roosevelt has nominated Clark for promotion to a lieutenant general.

7 Big Nazi Transports Shot Down

CAIRO, Nov. 14.—(P)—British planes from Malta destroyed seven large transports from a formation of 60 enemy planes flying north toward Sicily yesterday after heavily damaging the Tunis airport, while the British Eighth army chased and hacked at the utterly routed enemy land forces west of Gazala, 40 miles beyond Tobruk.

Whether the enemy was trying to rescue the remnants of the shattered African army, or whether he was reinforcing his elements in the French protectorate of Tunis, which other Anglo-American forces were menacing from west, was not immediately apparent.

The communiqué did not say whether the planes contained troops, as did the transports shot down earlier in the week. No formation of Axis troops flying south have been reported here, although Allied headquarters in Algeria said the Germans had landed light tanks by air in Tunisia.

The British desert victory was so complete that Marshal Erwin Rommel was believed totally unable to make a stand anywhere in the wide but swiftly narrowing vise between Gazala and Tunisia.

The victor, General B. L. Montgomery, said 12 enemy divisions had been beaten so thoroughly they ceased to exist as effective fighting formations and that the surviving Axis troops were "completely crippled" because of the vast destruction and capture of their material.

Of Rommel's 140,000 front liners, fewer than 20,000 were believed to remain in the pell-mell flight toward Tripoli and Tunisia beyond.

The British, with their supply lines lengthening, moved their forward aircrafts swiftly into Libya and continued to attack the foe retreating along the Mediterranean west of Gazala. United States fighter-bombers and fighters joined the R. A. F. in sweeps against the ragged enemy,
"with good effect."

German prisoners were captured at Tobruk and some native South Africans.

ORLEANS BAR PILOT IS FEARED DROWNED

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—(P)—Captain George Peterson, 51, veteran New Orleans bar pilot, was feared drowned last night when he lost his footing climbing from a United States coast guard picket boat to a ship, and fell into the Mississippi river at its mouth.

Coast guard planes and boats searched throughout the night and workers at the mouth of the river today were grappling for the body.

According to reports from Pilot Town, Captain Peterson had gone out to board a vessel about 7:30 p.m.
He slipped and fell as he attempted to step between the boats. A life preserver was immediately thrown out, but he failed to grasp it.

Hope that he may have swum ashore and might now be in the swamp land about the river's mouth dimmed today as searching parties failed to reveal a trace of the missing captain.

He had been a bar pilot for 28 years. His son also is a bar pilot.

BELIEVE HITLER DECIDED TO MAKE STUBBORN STAND

May Even Hope To Give Assistance To Rommel's Fleeing Army

LONDON, Sunday, Nov. 15.—(P)— Powerful American and British forces struck toward Tunis by land, sea and air today for a showdown clash with German and Italian troops who continued to land in increasing numbers despite resistance of French forces reported led by General Henri Giraud.

The exact position of the Allied vanguard was not known, but some reports said United States and British ground forces already were pouring across the Tunisian border, only 30 miles from Tunis, and the parachute troops were preparing to land in the capital.

Authorized dispatches from Lieutenant General Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters indicated that the main body was somewhere east of the Algerian town of Bone, 50 miles from the Tunisian frontier, and that it was advancing rapidly, with strong naval and air support.

These reports also said the Germans and Italians, trying desperately to establish themselves in Tunis and Bizerte before the Allies arrived, were rushing reinforcements both by sea and air.

Aerial observation showed that French and German troops already were engaged in fierce fighting through the narrow, winding streets of the capital and struggling for possession of airports on its outskirts.

In the absence of direct word from American forces charging eastward from Algeria, an unconfirmed report reaching here declared that Allied paratroopers were preparing to land in Tunis and assist their new French commanders in the preliminary battle against the Germans.

This Hitler had decided to make a serious stand in Tunisia and perhaps even was hopeful of forming a junc-

MILLIONS MORE TO LEAVE JOBS

Task Of Filling Places Of Men Called To Army Is Problem

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(P)—The number of jobs available in this country may be nearing a peak but around the problem of keeping them filled is swirling now the whole question of manpower control. It still appears far from solution. Some economists view the situation thus:

There are now about 54 million persons employed on farms, in factories and otherwise. The number may climb to 55 million by year's end and the go-no higher while the war lasts.

But out of that 54 or 55 million must come at least four million men who will go into the armed forces while the president this week said now toted 5,810,000 and would reach 9,700,000 by the end of 1943.

This would be an increase of 3,890,000 in the next 14 months but was not clear whether the President's estimate included all men to be called into the services within that time.

If Mr. Roosevelt meant the armed forces by the end of 1943 were to have a total active strength of 9,700,000 men, then more than 3,890,000 would be needed since replacements would have to be made.

Thus the total needed between now and December, 1943, might reach five million.

Therefore—between four and five million jobs now held by those who will go into the armed forces will have to be filled as they don uniforms.

But this is one problem the government must face sooner or later. Making sure that workers are channeled into jobs that need them most.

Legislation to give the government manpower controls is pending in congress but this week compulsory methods were frowned upon by the senate defense investigating committee. A bill by the labor management committee of the war manpower commission is self.

The senate committee: Advised against compulsory controls; said the WMC had failed to formulate a national program; said it was impossible to determine—until question of policy had been settled—whether any legislation was needed.

President Roosevelt made public recommendations of the labor-management committee which suggested transfer of the selective service system from the army to the war manpower commission and delegation of supreme authority over the national manpower to the WMC—without formal labor draft by legislation otherwise.

The senate committee additionally recommended lengthening of the work week to 48 hours with any additional overtime wages to be paid in government bonds.

The Brookings institution at same time declared that if the president's 9,700,000-man goal for armed forces was to be reached, government must take immediate steps to lengthen the working week substantially.

The president said he was devoted a lot of time to the entire manpower problem but reiterated opinion of last week that there is immediate urgency to the situation.

MILLIONS MORE TO LEAVE JOBS

Task Of Filling Places Of Men Called To Army Is Problem

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(P)—The number of jobs available in this country may be nearing a peak but around the problem of keeping them filled is swirling now the whole question of manpower control.

It still appears far from solution. Some economists view the situation thus:

There are now about 54 million persons employed on farms, in factories and otherwise. The number may climb to 55 million by year's end and the no higher while the war lasts.

But out of that 54 or 55 million must come at least four million men who will go into the armed forces while the president this week said now tot 5,810,000 and would reach 7,700,000 at the end of 1943.

This would be an increase of 3,890,000 in the next 14 months but was not clear whether the President's estimate included all men to be called into the services within that time.

If Mr. Roosevelt meant the armed forces by the end of 1943 were to have a total active strength of 9,700,000 men, then more than 3,890,000 would be needed since replacements would have to be made.

Thus the total needed between now and December, 1943, might reach five million.

Therefore—between four and five million jobs now held by those men who will go into the armed forces will have to be filled as they don uniforms.

Where are those potential job-filers now? Economists say there is still about 1,500,000 unemployed in this country. How many are employable is unknown. The rest of the job would have to be filled by women, older men, etc.

But it is by no means certain that if there are 55 million jobs by the end of 1942 there will still be the many by the end of 1943 and for the reason:

Concentration of industries will eliminate jobs, force workers into other jobs. Concentration means the government will order all firms in certain industry—such as stoves—shut down, except for a few key firms that will continue operating. The shut-down firms will either be closed or turn to manufacturing articles more directly needed for war. It remains to be seen how widespread this concentration becomes. It is ready under way.

But this is one problem the government must face sooner or later. Making sure that workers are channeled into jobs that need them most.

Legislation to give the government manpower controls is pending in congress but this week compulsory military orders were frowned upon by the senate defense investigating committee, a bill by the labor management committee, and the war manpower commission.

The senate committee, advised against compulsory controls; said the WMC had failed to formulate a national program; said it was impossible to determine—until question of policy had been settled—whether any legislation was needed. The shut-down of manufacturing essential civilian production.

President Roosevelt made public recommendations of the labor-management committee which suggest transfer of the selective service system from the army to the war manpower commission and delegation supreme authority over the national manpower to the WMC—without formal labor draft by legislation otherwise.

The senate committee additionally recommended lengthening of the week to 48 hours with any additional overtime wages to be paid in government bonds.

The Brookings institution at same time declared that if the president's 9,700,000-man goal for armed forces was to be reached, government must take immediate steps to lengthen the working week substantially.

DOES NOT ENVY PILOT OF ZERO

First American To Down Jap Plane Is Visiting At Camp

NATCHITOCHES, La., Nov. 14.—(P)—“The Japanese can fly all right, but I wouldn't trade places with a Zero pilot,” Captain Randall D. Keator of Camp, La., said yesterday.

Draper and mustache, the 25-year-old Camp, La., airman is credited with shooting down the first Japanese plane of the current war when 10 Zeros raided Clark Field in the Philippines, December 8. He returned home yesterday from Australia to spend a 15-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Keator of Camp.

Keator told how he was one of the American pilots lucky enough to lift his ship through a spray of Zero fire and knock down three planes when the Japanese struck at his base.

“First one I got was in a head-on attack, with both of us firing point blank, but the second one I dropped from behind. He never even knew I was there.”

He said the third Zero “just started falling” after he machine-gunned it and that the details were vague in his mind.

Following the evacuation of Luzon, Keator was given a company of men to prevent Japanese beach landings at Bataan. He said there was little action there except for a night raid on his post by Japanese snipers, two of whom were killed.

He made a last-minute escape from Bataan the night of his surrender, April 9, flying out in a P-35 and making a midnight crash landing off the island of Leyte.

After the American flyers based at Mindanao picked him up and he remained with them almost a month, gunning a pursuit observation plane through enemy-riden skies.

Keator is a graduate of Louisiana State Normal college here and won his wings at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas. He has been awarded the distinguished service cross for his action over the Philippines.

HANDSOME NEW CHAPEL OPENS

“Daddy” Flowers Memorial Will Be Inspected Today

The F. C. (Daddy) Flower Memorial chapel, on the campus of the Louisiana Baptist Children's home, erected from funds donated by Baptists from all over the state, and costing an approximate $75,000, will be formally thrown open for inspection to the general public this afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m., states Superintendent T. W. Gayer.

He urges that the general public of all denominations, club members, civic and welfare workers come in large numbers to inspect this handsome edifice which comprises an impressive expression of love and devotion to “Daddy” Flowers, first superintendent of the home in Monroe, and one of the most beloved civic workers.

The chapel is of brick veneer, of English half-timbered effect, and forms an impressive addition to the campus. It provides a large dining hall for all the children of the home, a large and completely equipped kitchen, an office that is ample in dimensions and modern in appointments and the chapel itself which is stately and possesses much of the dignity of an old English place of worship.

The building was started several years ago but was slow in progressing

A. G. Atnip, owner of a local nursery and greenhouse, giving more than $3,000 worth of trees and shrubs, heads the list of Monroe and nearby residents who are contributing hundreds of plants, flowering bulbs, trees and shrubbery for the landscape decoration of the grounds of the Army Air Forces Pre-Flight Navigation School, Advanced Navigation school, and other organizations on the local post.

“I am glad to give anything here that the boys on the field can use in the name of my two sons in the service,” said Mr. Atnip to Colonel Thomas V. Webb, seen above with Mr. Atnip, when that commanding officer of the Pre-Flight school called at the nursery this week to thank the owner.

Atnip is with the marines somewhere in the Pacific, and Cayley is in the Army Air corps in California. Both sons were associated with their father in the greenhouse business before entering the service.

Coming here from Colorado, where he was engaged in the florist business, Mr. Atnip has been a greenhouse and landscape operator in Monroe for the past ten years. His prize winning carnations, chrysanthemums, and other blooms have won ribbons in flower shows in Chicago and many other large cities in the country.

due to difficulty of securing building materials and it was only completed recently when the final interior finishing touches were added.

The building will be formally dedicated at 3 p.m. Wednesday in an important ceremony to be held in connection with the state Baptist convention that will then be in session in Monroe.

NAVY ANNOUNCES LOSSES SUFFERED

aged. They claimed—wholly without confirmation from other sources—that Allied losses had been six cruisers and one destroyer sunk, 19 planes shot down, two cruisers and three destroyers heavily damaged and three transports set afire.

Taken in the past has always minimized Japanese losses and greatly exaggerated the damage to our forces. The navy declined to comment on the Japanese claims.

Except for sporadic bombardment of our positions by light Jap naval forces and attacks by American planes on Jap surface ships, there had been no naval action of consequence in the Solomons area since October 26 when the Japanese pulled their warships away following the battle of the Stewart islands, which lie on the eastern flank of the southeastern Solomons.

The present outbreak of activity began Thursday, Solomons time, when United States cruisers and destroyers bombarded enemy positions on Guadalcanal northwest of the airfield from dawn until mid-afternoon. Japan's first reaction was to attack the United States ships with 23 torpedo bombers, escorted by eight Zero fighters.

The aerial onslaught was intercepted by 28 Grumman Wildcat fighters—presumably from the Guadalcanal airfield—since there was no mention of American carriers in the vicinity—and 16 enemy bombers and five Zeros were shot down. Another nine planes were destroyed by ships' anti-aircraft fire so that only one Jap aircraft out of the 31 which came over escaped.

The heavy cruiser San Francisco and destroyer Buchanan were damaged in this action.

On Thursday night the engagements between American and Japanese surface forces began. The Japanese apparently having decided to send in warships to do what their planes had been unable to accomplish—inflict heavy damage on the American flotilla.

Beyond this immediate objective is the aim of each side to make the Solomons campaign so costly to the other that the fate of the airfield on Guadalcanal will be largely determined by fighting at sea.

A steady flow of supplies to the American force now holding the airfield obviously depends on the ability of the United States Pacific fleet to keep open the supply lines from American bases to the south. Similarly, continued operations by enemy ground forces on the island depend on the ability of their supporting naval units to keep supplies and reinforcements moving in to them.

AUTO LICENSES ON PINE PULP BOARD

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 14.—(P)—The Arkansas revenue department, unable to obtain metal for motor vehicle license plates, today adopted a pressed pine pulp board for 1943 plates on trucks, buses and motorcycles. Clips will be issued for attachment to 1942 tags on passenger license plates.

The new plates will be processed by the Masonite corporation of Mississippi from yellow pine grown in Arkansas and Mississippi. Corporation representatives said the plates were water and heat resistant.

“DELICACY” SPUDS

In the American colonies of the early 1700's, white potatoes were considered a rare treat and were served only on special occasions, with roast meats.

RED GAINS MADE ON TWO FRONTS

Reds “occupied several enemy positions.”

“Northeast of Tuzpore our troops advanced somewhat in one sector and routed an enemy infantry company,” the communique said of the other Caucasian front. Booty and prisoners were taken.

Premier Stalin's view that the African operations had thrown the balance of European power in favor of the Allies and would relieve pressure on Russia, expressed in an exclusive letter to the Associated Press, was read over the radio several times and was given precedence in the press.

A cheering dispatch in Red Star said the Germans had been unable to take a single drop of oil from the Maikop oil fields which the Russians destroyed before yielding it to the enemy three months ago.

The Germans were said to have tried feverishly to drill a new well but guerrillas destroyed it. The refinery at Krasnodar also was destroyed, the dispatch said.

Artillery duels were fought on the early 1700's, white potatoes were considered a rare treat and were served only on special occasions, with roast meats.

VISITS MOTHER

Lieutenant Joseph A. Ballard, with the 20th engineers, stationed in camp in Virginia, recently came to Monroe for a short stay with his mother, Mrs. L. C. Ballard, 411 Layton avenue. He attended St. Matthew's Parochial school and Louisiana State university before entering army life.

ELECTRICAL THOUGHT

REV. SEREX WILL HOLD SERVICES

Methodists To Hear New Pastor; To Donate Building Funds

Rev. A. M. Serex, named Friday as pastor of the First Methodist church of Monroe, will preach in his new pulpit here at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. today.

His assignment to this pastorate was a surprise to many members of the congregation but they expressed they were well pleased to know that a leader of so high educational attainments had been named by the Methodist conference to carry on the important work initiated here by Dr. A. M. Freeman. The two pastors are to exchange duties, Dr. Freeman becoming district superintendent of the Shreveport area, and Rev. Serex, relinquishing this work to accept the duties in Monroe.

It is expected that there will be an unusually large attendance at the services at the First church here today as many are anxious to greet their new pastor, and to promise their wholehearted support in carrying on the church program.

Today will also be of importance at this church as reports are to be made on money that has been devoted to the fund that is to erect the proposed handsome new educational building at the close of the war. Already in less than two years' time, over $35,000 has been raised and it is expected that today's offerings will swell the sum, the goal for this year being another $25,000 or total of $50,000 on a proposed $75,000 structure.

All who have stamp books, even if unfilled in completeness, are urged to submit them at the church today together with United States war bonds. The money that is received is all being placed in war bonds as a patriotic gesture and as a safe place of deposit for the duration.

Those who have not filled out stamp books or bought bonds are asked to make cash contributions to the fund as some prefer this method, but the desire of the building fund committee is to get in the money and thereby show that the church is making financial progress.

DOES NOT ENVY PILOT OF ZERO

First American To Down Jap Plane Is Visiting At Campi

NATCHITOCHES, La., Nov. 14.—(P) —“The Japanese can fly all right, but I wouldn't trade places with a Zero pilot,” Captain Randall D. Keator of Campi, La., said yesterday. Drapper and mustached, the 25-year-old Campi, La., airman is credited with shooting down the first Japanese plane of the current war when 10 Zeros raided Clark Field in the Philippines, December 8. He returned home yesterday from Australia to spend a 15-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Keator of Campi.

Keator told how he was one of the American pilots lucky enough to lift his ship through a spray of Zero fire and knock down three planes when the Japanese struck at his base.

“First one I got was in a head-on attack, with both of us firing point blank, but the second one I dropped from behind. He never even knew I was there.”

He said the third Zero “just started falling” after he machine-gunned it and that the details were vague in his mind.

Following the evacuation of Luzon, Keator was given a company of men to prevent Japanese beach landings at Bataan. He said there was little action there except for a night raid on his post by Japanese snipers, two of whom were killed.

He made a last-minute escape from Bataan the night of his surrender, April 9, flying out in a P-35 and making a midnight crash landing off the island of Leyte. American flyers based at Mindanao picked him up and he remained with them almost a month, gunning a pursuit observation plane through enemy-ridden skies.

Keator is a graduate of Louisiana State Normal college here and won his wings at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas. He has been awarded the distinguished service cross for his action over the Philippines.

HANDSOME NEW CHAPEL OPENS

'Daddy' Flowers Memorial Will Be Inspected Today

The F. C. (Daddy) Flower Memorial chapel, on the campus of the Louisiana Baptist Children's home, erected from funds donated by Baptists from all over the state, and costing an approximate $15,000, will be formally thrown open for inspection to the general public this afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m., states Superintendent T. W. Gayer.

He urges that the general public of all denominations, club members, civic and welfare workers come in large numbers to inspect this handsome edifice which comprises an impressive expression of love and devotion to “Daddy” Flowers, first superintendent of the home in Monroe, and one of the most beloved civic workers.

The chapel is of brick, veneer, or English half-timbered effect, and forms an impressive addition to the campus. It provides a large dining hall for all the children of the home, a large and completely equipped kitchen, an office that is ample in dimensions and modern in appointments, and the chapel itself which is stately and possesses much of the dignity of an old English place of worship.

The building was started several years ago but was slow in progressing

The building was started several years ago but was slow in progressing

The building will be formally dedicated at 3 p.m. Wednesday in an important ceremonial to be held in connection with the state Baptist convention that will then be in session in Monroe.

aged. They claimed—wholly without confirmation from other sources—that Allied losses had been six cruisers and one destroyer sunk, 19 planes shot down, two cruisers and three destroyers heavily damaged and three transports set afire.

Tokyo in the past has always minimized Japanese losses and greatly exaggerated the damage to our forces. The navy declined to comment on the Japanese claims.

Except for sporadic bombardment of our positions by light Jap naval forces and attacks by American planes on Jap surface ships, there had been no naval action of consequence in the Solomons area since October 26 when the Japanese pulled their warships away following the battle of the Stewart islands, which lie on the eastern flank of the southeastern Solomons.

The present outbreak of activity began Thursday, Solomons time, when United States cruisers and destroyers bombarded enemy positions on Guadalcanal northwest of the airfield from dawn until mid-afternoon. Japan's first reaction was to attack the United States ships with 23 torpedo bombers, escorted by eight Zero fighters.

The aerial onslaught was intercepted by 28 Grumman Wildcat fighters—presumably from the Guadalcanal airfield since there was no mention of American carriers in the vicinity—and 16 enemy bombers and five Zeros were shot down. Another nine planes were destroyed by ships' anti-aircraft fire so that only one Jap aircraft out of the 31 which came over escaped.

The heavy cruiser San Francisco and destroyer Buchanan were damaged in this action.

On Thursday night the engagements between American and Japanese surface forces began, the Japanese apparently having decided to send in warships to do what their planes had been unable to accomplish—infllicting heavy damage on the American flotilla.

Beyond this immediate objective is the aim of each side to make the Solomons campaign so costly to the other that the fate of the airfield on Guadalcanal will be largely determined by fighting at sea.

A steady flow of supplies to the American force now holding the airfield obviously depends on the ability of the United States Pacific fleet to keep open the supply lines from American bases to the south. Similarly, continued operations by enemy ground forces on the island depend on the ability of their supporting naval units to keep supplies and reinforcements moving in to them.

Reds “occupied” several enemy positions.”

“Northeast of Tuapse our troops advanced somewhat in one sector and routed an enemy infantry company,” the communique said of the other Caucasian front. Booty and prisoners were taken.

Premier Stalin's view that the African operations had thrown the balance of European power in favor of the Allies and would relieve pressure on Russia, expressed in an exclusive letter to the Associated Press, was read over the radio several times and was given precedence in the press.

A cheering dispatch in Red Star said the Germans had been unable to take a single drop of oil from the Maikop oil fields which the Russians destroyed before yielding it to the enemy three months ago.

The Germans were said to have tried feverishly to drill a new well but guerrillas destroyed it. The refinery at Krasnodar also was destroyed, the dispatch said.

Artillery duels were fought on the frozen Kalinin front northwest of Moscow and on the Voronezh and Don-Volga steppes northwest of Stalingrad.

VISITS MOTHER

Lieutenant Joseph A. Ballard, with the 20th engineers, stationed in camp in Virginia, recently came to Monroe for a short stay with his mother, Mrs. L. C. Ballard, 411 Layton avenue. He attended St. Matthew's Parochial school and Louisiana State university before entering army life.

REV. SEREX WILL HOLD SERVICES

Methodists To Hear New Pastor; To Donate Building Funds

Rev. A. M. Serex, named Friday as pastor of the First Methodist church of Monroe, will preach in his new pulpit here at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. today.

His assignment to this pastorate was a surprise to many members of the congregation but they expressed they were well pleased to know that a leader of so high educational attainments had been named by the Methodist conference to carry on the important work initiated here by Dr. A. M. Freeman. The two pastors are to exchange duties, Dr. Freeman becoming district superintendent of the Shreveport area, and Rev. Serex, relinquishing this work to accept the duties in Monroe.

It is expected that there will be an unusually large attendance at the services at the First church here today as many are anxious to greet their new pastor, and to promise their wholehearted support in carrying on the church program.

Today will also be of importance at this church as reports are to be made on money that has been devoted to the fund that is to erect the proposed handsome new educational building at the close of the war. Already in less than two years' time, over $35,000 has been raised and it is expected that today's offerings will swell the sum, the goal for this year being another $25,000 or total of $50,000 on a proposed $75,000 structure.

All who have stamp books, even if unfilled in completeness, are urged to submit them at the church today together with United States war bonds. The money that is received is all being placed in war bonds as a patriotic gesture and as a safe place of deposit for the duration.

Those who have not filled out stamp books or bought bonds are asked to make cash contributions to the fund as some prefer this method, but the desire of the building fund committee is to get in the money and thereby show that the church is making financial progress.

VICHY ASSERTS REVOLT QUIETED

Bewilderment Expressed As French Officers Help
Americans

LONDON, Nov. 14.—(P)—Vichy announced today the suppression of a miniature revolt in metropolitan France and professed bewilderment over the situation in French North Africa where the Americans were sharing governing and defense powers with Frenchmen on the Allied side, some of them recently out of Vichy.

Lieutenant General Mark W. Clark, the modern "message to Garcia" soldier, said in a broadcast from Algiers that his commander, Lieutenant General Dwight D. Eisenhower, was acting in cooperation with Admiral Jean Darlan, erstwhile head of all the Vichy armed forces, for the defense of North Africa.

"British and American troops," Clark said, "have landed in Morocco and Algiers for a reason which every Frenchman will understand—that of protecting French North Africa from attack by the Axis powers."

The Vichy expressions carried as official French communications but doubtless inspired by Germans, were seen here as evidence of increased German influence, or perhaps partly resisted pressure, on aged Marshal Petain.

The abortive revolt was said to General Lattre de Tassigny, military commander of Montpellier and former commander in Morocco, who "after hearing of the departure of General Giraud to Africa on Nov. 8 abandoned his post and took with him several officers and men and two guns to form a dissident unit in France."

The communists went on to say that General De Tassigny wandered about the countryside until learning of measures taken to insure order, and then surrendered.

He was accused of plotting to be chief of the general staff of French rebel forces, and will be tried by a military court, the communists said.

Why such a small incident should be made the subject of a formal communiqué was not clear, but Allied quarters thought it might have been broadcast for exemplary purposes dictated by the Germans.

Another communiqué said a "very confused situation reigned in North Africa" since French resistance had ceased.

"In view of the difficulties of communication with Admiral Darlan, Marshal Petain and his government did not know exactly whether, obliged by force, Admiral Darlan had negotiated a simple cease-fire order or whether he was engaging with Americans in agreements which went beyond his powers and which in fact did not correspond with the marshal's orders."

"Admiral Darlan's broadcast last night and his telegraphed reply to Marshal Petain show he had embarked on a course contrary to instructions which he had received."

Darlan's pro-American radio proclamation and General Auguste Nogues' announcement that he was placing himself under Darlan's orders "in the name of the marshal" were especially significant since both were comparatively new arrivals in Africa from Vichy.

Nogues received orders to act as Petain's deputy only last Tuesday in the belief that Darlan had become a prisoner of the Americans but when he found Darlan free, Nogues subordinated himself. Now both are working beside the Americans—with or without the blessing of Petain, who took over command of all the French armed forces from Darlan when the admiral ordered "cease-fire."

The Americans, in sharing governing powers with the Allied French while they concentrate on winning over Tunisia, made clear that the future government of Africa is subject to further negotiation.

It remained unclear also as to how Darlan and Nogues would fit into the picture with the Fighting French forces of General Henri Honoré Giraud, in Africa, and General Charles De Gaulle, in London, or even how Giraud and De Gaulle would stack up beside each other.

The puzzle of the French fleet's eventual disposition remained unsolved through the second day after Darlan's radio appeal to its commanders to leave Toulon for Africa.

The German-controlled Paris radio during the day said the commander of the French naval squadron interned and immobilized at Alexandria since the 1940 armistice would take orders only from Marshal Petain.

2,000,000 YOUTHS SUBJECT TO CALL

Roosevelt Promises To Help
In Schooling After War
Is Ended

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—More than 2,000,000 youths in the 18 and 19-year-old classes are subject today to military duty in the near future, but they have the promise of President Roosevelt that they will be helped in resuming their school and college careers after the war.

The chief executive, in signing the youth draft bill last night, disclosed that a committee of educators under war and navy auspices will study plans for young men to go back to their schooling after leaving the armed forces.

An equal opportunity, the president said in a formal statement, will be afforded other young men who desire training and other forms of education after their army or navy service.

He said he also would announce in the near future a plan to utilize during the war certain colleges and universities to train a limited number of men for "highly specialized" duties in the armed forces.

"These men will be selected solely on the basis of their ability," the president said, "and without regard to whether or not they are now in college or whether they could otherwise afford to go to college."

In signing the bill only a day after final congressional action on a measure stripped of all restrictions as to length of training before combat duty, the president said the time had now come "when the successful prosecution of the war requires that we call to the colors the men of 18 and 19."

While many in these age groups have already volunteered, Mr. Roosevelt said, others have been "eagerly awaiting the call" and "all are ready and anxious to serve."

He expects large numbers to come from schools and colleges and said while some action to help youths resume interrupted educational careers was improvised at the end of the last war, this time "we are planning in advance."

Officials have estimated that there are about 2,400,000 youths between 18 and 20 already registered and that about 2,000,000 or more might go toward making up the 4,500,000 additional men needed in all the four armed services by the end of the 1943 calendar year.

These calculations take into account the youths who will become 18 between now and well into 1943. From the present 18 and 19 year olds registered, officials believe about 1,500,000 eventually will find their way into the service.

Inductions of this new reservoir of fighting power are not expected to begin until around the first of the year.

While many may be called within 30 or 40 days, the induction times will vary, depending on the extent of preparations of local boards to meet quotas with older men and how quickly the boards classify the new groups for service.

In connection with the two conventions, two outstanding Baptist leaders will participate. They are former Governor Pat M. Neff, president of the Southern Baptist convention, and Lawson H. Cooke, executive secretary of the Baptist Brotherhood of the South.

Former Governor Neff will address the Brotherhood on the theme "Tomorrow" at the First Baptist church, Monday at 8:30 p. m. He is an orator of note and the public is invited to hear his address. Mr. Cooke will address the Brotherhood, Tuesday at 11:15 a. m.

While the sessions will be held in the First Baptist church in Monroe, eight other Twin City Baptist churches will also assist in carrying out the convention plans, as well as participating in the dedication of the Flowers Memorial chapel, Wednesday at 3 p. m.

The presence of former Governor Neff, president of Baylor university and also president of the Southern Baptist convention, is regarded with unusual interest by Baptists and the general public.

Since 1932 he has been president of Baylor university, the largest Baptist school in the world and the only non-sectarian institution chartered by the state of Texas. He is a clear thinker, a leader in church, state and education, affairs and one of the last remaining golden-tongued orators. William Jennings Bryan once termed him the south's best bet for the White House, but Neff chose private life. He stepped from the governor's chair in Texas in 1934. He has brought the university out of debt, has more than doubled the student body, and built up the largest teaching staff in the history of Baylor.

He was born on a Texas farm and came up a hard way through college. He entered law practice in Waco and in 1901 was elected to the house of representatives and as the youngest speaker of the house served in that capacity with distinction.

He served as a hard-hitting prosecuting attorney of McLennan county from 1906 to 1912 and then for the next nine years engaged in law practice. He became governor in 1921 in a hard fought campaign.

As a Baptist layman, Neff has been an active member of the church since boyhood. For many years he was moderator of the Waco association, and served as president of the Baptist general convention of Texas 1927-1929. He was named vice-president of the Southern Baptist convention in 1935 and later became its president.

Mr. Cooke, another outstanding speaker at the Brotherhood convention, was for 25 years connected with a large Richmond (Va.) bank. In 1938 he moved to Memphis having been elected associate secretary of the Baptist Brotherhood of the Southern Baptist convention. In 1938 he became secretary. He is a deacon in the First Baptist church of Memphis.

His work requires much travel, fully 40,000 miles a year but he is always glad to be able to serve his denomination.

Another prominent speaker at the Brotherhood convention will be A. L. Wedgeworth, Shreveport, who will speak on "Stewardship," Tuesday at 9:30 a. m.

He is president of the Home Federal Savings and Loan association of Shreveport. Is past president of the Chamber of Commerce and has led the Community Chest drive during its recent campaign. He is deacon of the First Baptist church in Shreveport and is prominently connected with the civic and business life of his city. He is a native of Sabine parish and is regarded as one of the outstanding citizens of Shreveport.

COFFEE HOARDING WILL DO NO GOOD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—Coffee hoarders will have no advantage over other persons after rationing starts November 23, under regulations issued today by the office of price administration.

Any coffee in the cupboard in excess of one pound per person on that date should be consumed thereafter at the ration rate of one pound per person every five weeks, the OPA directed, and no more should be purchased until the supply on hand is used.

This ruling will be enforced through a registration to be conducted later when a new universal ration book is issued. For the start of coffee rationing, stamps at the back of the sugar ration book will be used and no immediate registration will be entailed.

EVERYTHING ON WHEELS NEEDED

Public Asked Not To Travel
On Holidays Except On War Business

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—It will take "practically everything on wheels" to handle the country's holiday bus and train travel, an Office of Defense Transportation spokesman said today, but the government does not intend to put priority restrictions on passenger space.

Addressing itself to the public at large, the government has requested: "Please don't travel over the Christmas and New Year holiday season unless you are moving on war business." But it has imposed specific restrictions on its own employees.

Joseph B. Eastman, director of defense transportation, recommended earlier this week that federal departments and agencies cancel all leaves between December 18 and January 10 if the leave would involve bus or rail travel.

Virtually 100 per cent cooperation on the part of the federal bureaus was expected. One agency, OPA, even anticipated Eastman's action by cancelling leaves, on its own initiative, for its 40,000 workers.

The bulk of holiday travel, ODT expects, will be that of furloughed service men coming home from camp or of relatives and sweethearts going to army posts to see them.

"We think that kind of travel is as necessary as any travel can be," the spokesman said. "It means much to the morale of the soldiers and sailors and it's equally important to the home front morale of their families."

Eastern trains will be working under a general slow-down by Christmas, and probably nowhere in the country is there assurance that every one who wants to go away for Christmas can get a reservation.

"We don't know how heavy troop movements will be in December and if we knew we couldn't tell," the spokesman said. The railroads carried 6,500,000 service men traveling under government orders in the first nine months of this year.

The slow-down will be brought about by a general revision of time tables proposed by WPB, to go into effect December 6. Under it the Broadway Limited and the 20th Century Limited, crack New York-to-Chicago trains of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads, respectively, will add one hour to their schedule.

VICHY ASSERTS REVOLT QUIETED

Bewilderment Expressed As French Officers Help
Americans

LONDON, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Vichy announced today the suppression of a miniature revolt in metropolitan France and professed bewilderment over the situation in French North Africa where the Americans were sharing governing and defense powers with Frenchmen on the Allied side, some of them recently out of Vichy.

Lieutenant General Mark W. Clark, the modern "message to Garcia" soldier, said in a broadcast from Algiers that his commander, Lieutenant General Dwight D. Eisenhower, was acting in cooperation with Admiral Jean Darlan, erstwhile head of all the Vichy armed forces, for the defense of North Africa.

"British and American troops," Clark said, "have landed in Morocco and Algiers for a reason which every Frenchman will understand—that of protecting French North Africa from attack by the Axis powers."

The Vichy expressions, carried as official French communications but doubtless inspired by Germans, were seen here as evidence of increased German influence, or perhaps partly resisted pressure, on aged Marshal Petain.

The abortive revolt was laid to General Lattre de Tassigny, military commander of Montpellier and former commander in Morocco, who "after hearing of the departure of General Giraud to Africa on Nov. 8 abandoned his post and took with him several officers and men and two guns to form a dissident unit in France."

The communique went on to say that General De Tassigny wandered about the countryside until learning of measures taken to insure order, and then surrendered.

He was accused of plotting to be chief of the general staff of French rebel forces, and will be tried by a military court, the communique said.

Why such a small incident should be made the subject of a formal communique was not clear, but Allied quarters thought it might have been broadcast for exemplary purposes dictated by the Germans.

Another communique said a "very confused situation reigned in North Africa" since French resistance had ceased.

"In view of the difficulties of communication with Admiral Darlan, Marshal Petain and his government did not know exactly whether, obliged by force, Admiral Darlan had negotiated a simple cease-fire order or whether he was engaging with Americans in agreements which went beyond his powers and which in fact did not correspond with the marshal's orders."

Admiral Darlan's broadcast last night and his telephone reply to Marshal Petain show he had embarked on a course contrary to instructions which he had received.

Darlan's pro-American radio proclamation and General Auguste Nogues' announcement that he was placing himself under Darlan's orders "in the name of the marshal" were especially significant since both were comparatively new arrivals in Africa from Vichy.

Nogues received orders to act as Petain's deputy only last Tuesday in the belief that Darlan had become a prisoner of the Americans but when he found Darlan free, Nogues subordinated himself. Now both are working beside the Americans—with or without the blessing of Petain, who took over command of all the French armed forces from Darlan when the admiral ordered "cease-fire."

The Americans, in sharing governing powers with the Allied French while they concentrate on winning over Tunisia, made clear that the future government of Africa is subject to further negotiation.

It remained unclear also as to how Darlan and Nogues would fit into the picture with the Fighting French forces of General Henri Honoré Giraud, in Africa, and General Charles De Gaulle, in London, or even how Giraud and De Gaulle would stack up beside each other.

The puzzle of the French fleet's eventual disposition remained unsolved through the second day after Darlan's radio appeal to its commanders to leave Toulon for Africa.

The German-controlled Paris radio during the day said the commander of the French naval squadron interned and immobilized at Alexandria since the 1940 armistice would take orders only from Marshal Petain.

BRITAIN OBSERVES
CIVIL DEFENSE DAY

LONDON, Sunday, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Britain recalled today, as events in Africa seemed to presage an eventual return of the war to Europe, that two years ago she stood in imminent danger of invasion.

Prime Minister Churchill issued the following message to mark civil defense day:

"It is a piece of good fortune, it is symbolic that this civil defense day, witness and reminder of the great defensive effort of the people two years ago, should fall now in the midst of a great offensive success over the Nazi enemy."

"While we rejoice in the deeds of the navy, army and air force in Africa, we remember those other days when the deeds of civil defenders did so much to keep our will to victory invincible."

2,000,000 YOUTHS SUBJECT TO CALL

Roosevelt Promises To Help
Is Ended

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(AP)—More than 2,000,000 youths in the 18 and 19-year-old classes are subject today to military duty in the near future, but they have the promise of President Roosevelt that they will be helped in resuming their school and college careers after the war.

The chief executive, in signing the youth draft bill last night, disclosed that a committee of educators under war and navy auspices will study plans for young men to go back to their schooling after leaving the armed forces.

An equal opportunity, the president said in a formal statement, will be afforded other young men who desire training and other forms of education after their army or navy service.

He said he also would announce in the near future a plan to utilize during the war certain colleges and universities to train a limited number of men for "highly specialized" duties in the armed forces.

"These men will be selected solely on the basis of their ability," the president said, "and without regard to whether or not they are now in college or whether they could otherwise afford to go to college."

In signing the bill only a day after final congressional action on a measure stripped of all restrictions as to length of training before combat duty, the president said the time had now come "when the successful prosecution of the war requires that we call to the colors the men of 18 and 19."

While many of these age groups have already volunteered, Mr. Roosevelt said, others have been "eagerly awaiting the call" and "all are ready and anxious to serve."

He expects large numbers to come from schools and colleges and said while some action to help youths resume interrupted educational careers was improvised at the end of the last war, this time "we are planning in advance."

Officials have estimated that there are about 2,400,000 youths between 18 and 20 already registered and that about 2,000,000 or more might go toward making up the 4,500,000 additional men needed in all the four armed services by the end of the 1943 calendar year.

These calculations take into account the youths who will become 18 between now and well into 1943. From the present 18 and 19 year olds registered, officials believe about 1,500,000 eventually will find their way into the service.

Inductions of this new reservoir of fighting power are not expected to begin until around the first of the year.

While many may be called within 30 or 40 days, the induction times will vary, depending on the extent of preparations of local boards to meet quotas with older men and how quickly the boards classify the new groups for service.

ASSERTS MANPOWER
BUCKET IS LEAKING

WINATCHEE, Wash., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Lieutenant Colonel James T. Coatsworth, from the office of Major General Lewis B. Hershey, selective service national director, told the National Grange today the nation's manpower bucket is leaking fast.

"Everything points to universal conscription of labor," he said. "Apparently everyone would like to see universal service for the other fellow, but when it would strike him he wouldn't like it."

"Such a plan would not only hit the worker, because the employer would be told whom he could hire, and if he didn't like a certain work, but when there are several bills on the subject up for consideration now, but they are loaded with dynamite."

POLICE GUARDING
PETAIN RESIDENCE

LONDON, Nov. 14.—(AP)—A Reuters report from Stockholm said tonight that strong police forces had surrounded the Hotel du Parc, Marshal Petain's official residence at Vichy, France.

The message added that information received by the German-controlled Scandinavian telegraph bureau was that the aged chief of state was holding endless talks with Pierre Laval and other ministers of the Vichy government.

The presence of former Governor Neff, president of Baylor university and also president of the Southern Baptist convention, is regarded with unusual interest by Baptists and the general public.

Since 1932 he has been president of Baylor university, the largest Baptist school in the world and the only now-existing institution chartered by the historic republic of Texas. He is a clear thinker, a leader in church, state and educational affairs and one of the last remaining golden-tongued orators. William Jennings Bryan once termed him the south's best bet for the White House, but Neff chose private life when he stepped from the governor's chair in Texas in 1924. He has brought the university out of debt, has more than doubled the student body, and built up the largest teaching staff in the history of Baylor.

He was born on a Texas farm and came up the hard way through college. He entered law practice in Waco and in 1901 was elected to the house of representatives and as the youngest speaker of the house served in that capacity with distinction.

He served as a hard-hitting prosecuting attorney of McLennan county from 1906 to 1912 and then for the next nine years engaged in law practice. He became governor in 1921 in a hard fought campaign.

As a Baptist layman, Neff has been an active member of the church since boyhood. For many years he was moderator of the Waco association, and served as president of the Baptist general convention of Texas 1927-1929. He was named vice-president of the Southern Baptist convention in 1935 and later became its president.

Mr. Cooke, another outstanding speaker at the Brotherhood convention, was for 22 years (for 20 years in Richmond (Va.) bank. In 1936 he moved to Memphis having been elected assistant secretary of the Baptist Brotherhood of the Southern Baptist convention. In 1938 he became secretary. He is a deacon in the First Baptist church of Memphis.

His work requires much travel, fully 40,000 miles a year but he is always glad to be able to serve his denomination.

Another prominent speaker at the Brotherhood convention will be A. L. Wedgeworth, Shreveport, who will speak on "Stewardship," Tuesday at 9:30 a. m.

He is president of the Home Federal Savings and Loan association of Shreveport. Is past president of the Chamber of Commerce and has led the Community Chest drive during its recent campaign. He is deacon of the First Baptist church in Shreveport and is prominently connected with the civic and business life of his city. He is a native of Sabine parish and is regarded as one of the outstanding citizens of Shreveport.

dict the defendants showed but little emotion.

However, Mrs. Froehling virtually collapsed a little later. Judge Campbell said court was adjourned. The jurors were excused. Deputy federal marshal assisted Mrs. Froehling from the courtroom.

She and the other defendants were taken to the marshal's lockup a floor above the courtroom. From there they were to be taken back to the Cook county jail where they have been held.

The trial began October 26 and revolved around the "aid and comfort" passage of this definition of treason in the United States constitution:

"Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court."

Those on trial were accused of harboring and assisting Herbert Haupt. He was a Chicago youth who went to Germany in 1941, and became a Nazi saboteur. He and seven other saboteurs were smuggled into the United States by German submarines last June. They were captured before they could cripple any American war planes. Herbert and five fellow conspirators were executed August 8 in Washington after a trial by a military commission. The other two were sentenced to prison.

COFFEE HOARDING WILL DO NO GOOD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Coffee hoarders will have no advantage over other persons after rationing starts November 23, under regulations issued today by the office of price administration.

Any coffee in the cupboard in excess of one pound per person on that date should be consumed thereafter at the ration rate of one pound per person every five weeks, the OPA directed, and no more should be purchased until the supply on hand is used.

This ruling will be enforced through a registration to be conducted later when a new universal ration book is issued. For the start of coffee rationing, stamps at the back of the sugar ration book will be used and no immediate registration will be entailed.

EVERYTHING ON WHEELS NEEDED

Public Asked Not To Travel
War Business

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(AP)—It will take "practically everything on wheels" to handle the country's holiday bus and train travel, an Office of Defense Transportation spokesman said today, but the government does not intend to put priority restrictions on passenger space.

Addressing itself to the public at large, the government has requested: "Please don't travel over the Christmas and New Year holiday season unless you are moving on war business." But it has imposed specific restrictions on its own employees.

Joseph B. Eastman, director of defense transportation, recommended earlier this week that federal departments and agencies cancel all leaves between December 18 and January 10 if the leave would involve bus or rail travel.

Virtually 100 per cent cooperation on the part of the federal bureaus was expected. One agency, OPA, even anticipated Eastman's action by cancelling leaves on its own initiative, for its 40,000 workers.

The bulk of holiday travel, ODT expects, will be that of furloughed service men coming home from camp or of relatives and sweethearts going to army posts to see them.

"We think that kind of travel is as necessary as any travel can be," the spokesman said. "It means much to the morale of the soldiers and sailors and it's equally important to the home front morale of their families."

mas, and probably nowhere in the country is there assurance that every one who wants to go away for Christmas can get a reservation.

"We don't know how heavy troop movements will be in December and if we knew we couldn't tell," the spokesman said. The railroads carried 6,500,000 service men traveling under government orders in the first nine months of this year.

The slow-down will be brought about by a general revision of time tables proposed by WPB, to go into effect December 6. Under it the Broadway Limited and the 20th Century Limited, crack New York-to-Chicago trains of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads, respectively, will add one hour time to their schedule.

Mr. Montgomery served on the jury from Ward 10 for 12 years. He was the third candidate in the race in 1940, being defeated by John M. Breard and Mr. Pipes in a runoff primary.

Mr. Montgomery is president of the Ouachita Association of Insurance Agents and a member of the Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe. He has taken an active part in civic affairs here for many years.

MEXICO PROTESTS SEIZURE OF FILES

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The Mexican government today received official confirmation that German agents seized the files and funds of its legation in Vichy and immediately forwarded a protest to Berlin through the good offices of Sweden.

Mexico broke diplomatic relations with the Vichy government immediately after receipt of news of the German invasion of unoccupied France. The violation of her legation, however, was termed in a government bulletin today as an "infringement of international law."

GEORGIA TECH EDGES OUT ALABAMA, 7 TO 0

ENGINEERS SCORE IN FIRST PERIOD, REMAIN UNBEATEN

Clint Castleberry Puts On Two-Minute Show For Lone Marker

By Ramsey Wheeler
ATLANTA, Nov. 14.—(AP)—A pitted freshman halfback left over from Friday, the 13th-slender 150-pound Clint Castleberry—put a two-minute box on Alabama's great football team today, and Georgia Tech won a 7-0 decision before 34,000 fans to remain one of the nation's unbeaten, untied football powers.

Castleberry, dumped into the game midway of the first period, ran back an Alabama punt 27 yards to his own 35 to start the winning touchdown drive. When a line back was smothered, he skittered around left end for 21 yards to Alabama's 40.

Then Pat McHugh whipped a pass to Castleberry for another touchdown. "Bama's 9. From there it was straight football. Castleberry eased off tackle for three and Ralph Plaster flung himself twice over center to score in a head-long plunge. Rabbit Jordan, substitute end, place-kicked the extra point.

The victory sustained Tech's ranking as the nation's No. 2 team, and paved the way for a possible national championship game when Tech meets unbeaten, untied Georgia November 22.

"Bama missed a chance to tie the score just before half-time, when Rock Mosley faked a pass and galloped 36 yards for an apparent touchdown. The play was called back for an Alabama offside penalty, and although Mosley completed a 15-yarder to Tech's 6, the ball changed hands on downs.

"Bama ground its way as far as Tech's 19 in the third quarter—down Tech returned the call by pushing to "Bama's 15 in the fourth—but the scoring punch wasn't there.

Part of the story was told by the statistics. Alabama gained 187 yards rushing against Tech's 171, picked up 23 yards passing to 62 by the Engineers. Each team displayed superior pass-defense, holding each other to identical completions—4 out of 13. Tech intercepted twice, Alabama once. Tech shaded "Bama in first downs, 11 to 10.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Little Hal Hamberg of Arkansas, a mighty mite weighing all of 150 pounds, outdid the great Paul Governali at his own game in the dying minutes of a stirring battle today, passing Navy's Middles to a 13-9 triumph over Columbia's Lions and finally saving the contest by a pass interception with 15 seconds to go.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Ever hear of a forward pass catching the receiver instead of vice versa? Well, it happened in a schoolboy game at Washington, D. C., between Western and Devitt the other day. Quarterback Alex Papanicolas on the back of the neck and stuck between his helmet and shoulder pad. . . . Pap ran 15 yards before he realized what had happened and then he reached around and grabbed the ball, making a 20-yard gain.

Willie Pep, the Hartford, Conn., featherweight who fights Chalky Wright for the title next week, probably has the largest personal following of any out-of-town fighter to show in the Garden. More than $20,000 worth of tickets already have been sold to Connecticut buyers. . . . Georgia Tech staged its traditional "rambling wreck" contest last night, but the rules were that the jolopies couldn't use gas and they had to be consigned to scrap metal heap afterward. . . . Although Spence Moseley, Yale's grid captain, never has played on a team that beat Princeton, his dad, a member of Cupid Black's famous 1916 team, never lost to the Tigers. . . . When a Washington naval officer phoned the Pimlico press box Tuesday to ask a sports-writing friend to make a $5 bet for him on Count Fleet, he wound up loser by eight cents. The officer collected $5.50 and the call cost 58 cents.

Tim Cohane, New York World-Telegram: "It might not be a bad idea to have Williams and Colgate meet for the shaving bowl championship. . . . That would be one battle in which both teams would get a good lathering."

Coach Bach, civilian coach of the Fort Knox, Ky., football team that plays the Pittsburgh Steelers tomorrow, expects to join the army after the season. He was interested in the navy before the Americans signed him up. . . . When Private Stanley Evans reported for boxing at Fort Custer, Mich., he knocked 'em over by announcing that he held a decision over Joe Louis. But Stan produced the evidence that he had beaten Joe before their amateur days. . . . Corporal Buddy Knox, who has fought most of the good heavyweights, leads an officers' class in calisthenics at Bolling Field and plays squash and badminton. . . . "And say," remarks Buddy, "that badminton is tough."

Wisconsin Scores Late To Down Northwestern
EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Trailing 19 to 14 in the last 18 seconds of the game, Wisconsin kept its Big Ten championship hopes alive with a dramatic thrust for a touchdown which defeated Northwestern 20 to 19, today before 35,000 spectators.
Northwestern's Wildcats, beaten six times in a row, bounded from the depths of football despair to play their best game of the season with their brilliant forward passer, Otto Graham, tossing two thrilling touchdown aerials.
Wisconsin, beaten only by Iowa in one of its strongest title bids in 30 years, was experiencing a terrific scare until Len Seelinger, a substitute halfback, in the game for only three minutes, fired the winning touchdown pass.

GREENIES PROVE TO BE NO MATCH FOR CADET '11'

Thomas Sees Little Service; One Score By Visitors Is Called Back

By Elliott Chase
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Georgia's pre-flighters outplayed and beat Tulane 7 to 0 here today before 18,000, the lone counter coming in the second immediately after Don Hightower's 75-yard kick rumbled for the victors had been officially discounted because he stepped out at midfield.
The Skyrockets evened up their loss at Louisiana State a month ago when Darrell Tully, former East Texas State star, split the running duties with Frank Filchock, formerly of Indiana, in the touchdown drive, and Tully scored from the one-foot line. Bob Fox, late of Tennessee added the extra point.

Noble Doss, once of Texas university, and Charley Timmons, Clemson, braced the Georgia Navy offense which marked 13 first downs to Tulane's 12. The Navy was taking no chances today, having faced Coach Bear Wolf's official curfew last night in lieu of the customary rollick he had allowed before other contests. A full lieutenant carried the Skyrockets' water bucket.
Tulane's bruised Lou Thomas was allowed to go in just before the end of each half, but his passing wasn't enough. Winding up the second quarter, Thomas failed with three straight passes from 12 yards out. He hit End Marty Comer on the five on the fourth attempt, but Comer was stopped dead.

In the final minutes of the fourth period Filchock intercepted a Thomas pass on the Navy one and ran out of trouble.
Bil Patterson provided a consistent kicking toe for the Georgians, out-punting Ed Fisher and Joe Renfro with an average of 44 yards per boot to Tulane's 32.
On the ground Georgia Navy out-gained Tulane 142 yards to 99. Sophomore E. Fisher gave the Greenies an edge in passing. Tulane completed seven for 64 yards and the Navy, six for 47.

At the close an excited public address announcer wanted Tulane fans against offering resistance to Navy men who streamed for the goal posts. A few Tulane rooters fought indifferently, then forgot about it and joined in the cheering.

PORKERS SCORE MUSTANGS IN CONFERENCE CONTEST

DALLAS, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Southern Methodist university's Mustangs, shocked when the Arkansas Razorbacks tallied the first score in their Southwest conference football game today, jumped to life and pushed over two quick touchdowns to win, 14 to 6.
After a comparatively dull first two periods, Arkansas End Virgil Johnson intercepted a pass thrown by Abel Gonzales and ran 28 yards across the S. M. U. goal. Shortly afterward, with the Mustangs in possession, C. D. Allen slammed through the line, found himself in the clear and veered toward the left to cross the goal line untouched after a 58-yard scamper. Ed Green kicked goal.
Early in the fourth, the Mustangs started working passes effectively. Gonzales threw one over the center of the line to Simpson for the last score.

TULSA SCORES 24-0 VICTORY OVER BEARS

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Mighty Tulsa proved its claim to national football prominence today by smashing Baylor, 24-0, for its eighth consecutive victory.

A homecoming crowd of 18,000 saw the Golden Hurricane come back after a hard-fought first half to crack the Bears wide open with a spectacular running and passing attack that produced three touchdowns and a field goal.

Tailback Glenn Dobbs, bidding for All-America honors, engineered two scoring marches and elusive N. A. Keithley led the third.
But it was Sophomore Clyde LeForce who broke the deadlock and set off the offensive fireworks with a beautiful placement kick from the 33-yard line which gave Tulsa a 3-0 lead late in the third period.
Baylor who threatened twice in the second and again in the third with power drives deep into Tulsa territory, lost its fire after that kick and thereafter the Hurricane roared up and down the field almost at will.

DUKE, NORTH CAROLINA IN 13 TO 13 DEADLOCK

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Duke and North Carolina, rated even at the kickoff, were still even with the score 13-13 after a thrilling football game played before a crowd of 33,000 today.

The Blue Devils had things pretty much their own way on the ground, but the Tarheels took to the air and came within an ace of winning in a hectic fourth period as you could dream up.

Duke blocked a punt for a touchdown in the first period, and North Carolina evened things at 7-7 in the second.
Duke's veteran Tom Davis went over from the one-foot mark in the fourth. From the 20 Billy Myers, California's sophomore standout, passed to Joe Austin for 38 yards. Myers passed to Hussey for 12 to the Duke 27 and again to Hussey on the nine. The Myers-Hussey combination clicked again for a touchdown this time.

WOMEN TO STAGE MAIN EVENT BOUT AT MONROE ARENA

Dorothy Johnson On Battle Alice Broome On Local Card Tuesday

Dorothy Johnson, woman wrestler of Shreveport, will meet Alice Broome of Kansas City, Mo., in the main event on Tuesday night's card at the Monroe Wrestling arena, Promoter G. Kallio has announced.

Promoter Kallio revealed earlier in the week that Miss Johnson has been contracted and efforts were being made to secure an opponent for her. Miss Broome, who will be making her first appearance before Monroe area fans, is from the home town of Miss Mildred Burdette, world's champion woman wrestler.

Women wrestlers have always produced big attractions at the local arena and a large crowd is expected to turn out Tuesday night to see the Johnson-Broome fracas.

Miss Johnson appeared here once before, meeting Mrs. Elvira Snodgrass, the Quark hill billy, here last spring. Local fans approved of Miss Johnson's during that scrap and will no doubt welcome her back.
They will tangle over the regulation men's time limit route of minutes, two falls to win.
If the weather should be a little nippy the mat followers shouldn't be of becoming chilled as Promoter Kallio has installed gas heaters at various points about the arena and the building will be warm and comfortable.
Some doubt was also expressed last night as to whether or not Bill Boney would come back as referee. Boney, who left the officiating business to C. C. Schaff last week while appearing on the card as a wrestler, has enlisted in the navy, according to a report. If Barney leaves he will be the second referee lost within a month. Aldin "Butch" Martin, an experienced of local mat officials, has been in training with the United States marines at San Diego, Cal. for the past two weeks.

WEST VIRGINIA 7; KENTUCKY 0
LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Second string back and a reserve combined talents and luck today (the last 60 seconds to give West Virginia's Mountaineers a 7-0 touchdown over Kentucky in the Wildcats' home game of the season and possibly for the duration.
A desperate last-minute pass from Kentucky's quarterback, Dick McElwee, into Fred Morcraft's arms and Mountaineer wingman stepped the maining five yards across the Kentucky goal line. Dick McElwee threw the extra point from placement.

Georgia Subdues Chattanooga, 40 To 0

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 14.—(AP)—The fleet-footed Frankie Sinkwich led the undefeated-untied Georgia football team to a 40 to 0 victory over the University of Chattanooga today in a game which wasn't as one-sided as the score might indicate. Some 3,500 homecoming fans were in the stands.
Fireball Frankie and some 40 mates taught the scrapping Moccasins a lesson in how to play football, but the out-manned Chattanooga took their lesson the hard way, fighting every inch of the route.

Sinkwich added lustre to his name and plenty of distance to his total gains as he picked up 140 yards by rushing, passed for another 66, and personally accounted for three of the Bulldogs' six touchdowns. He bucked over two of the scores and passed to Van Davis for the third.
Defensively the Moccasins showed up well against the vaunted Georgia backs, time and again breaking through to snare the ball carriers for losses. Twice in the second quarter, the Moccasins held the Bulldogs for downs, once on the 20-yard line and again inside their own ten.

Only one of Georgia's touchdowns came on a long run. Sub Back Reals Lee breaking through the center of the line to scamper 60 yards for the score in the fourth quarter.

GEORGIA TECH EDGES OUT ALABAMA, 7 TO 0

Clint Castleberry Puts On Two-Minute Show For Lone Marker

By Romney Wheeler
ATLANTA, Nov. 14.—(AP)—A pixilated freshman halfback left over from Friday, the 13th-slender 150-pound Clint Castleberry—put a two-minute hex on Alabama's great football team today, and Georgia Tech won a 7-0 decision before 34,000 fans to remain one of the nation's unbeaten, untied football powers.

Castleberry, dumped into the game midway of the first period, ran back an Alabama punt 27 yards to his own 39 to start the winning touchdown drive. When a line buck was smothered, he skittered around left end for 21 yards to Alabama's 40.

Then Pat McHugh whipped a pass to Castleberry for another first down on 'Bama's 9. From there it was straight football. Castleberry eased off tackle for three and Ralph Plaster fung himself twice over center to score in a head-long plunge. Rabbit Jordan, substitute end, place-kicked the extra point.

The victory sustained Tech's ranking as the nation's No. 2 team, and paved the way for a possible national championship game when Tech meets untied Georgia November 22.

'Bama missed a chance to tie the score just before half-time, when Russ Mosley faked a pass and galloped 16 yards for an apparent touchdown. The play was called back for an Alabama offside penalty, and although Mosley completed a 15-yarder to Tech's 6, the ball changed hands on downs.

'Bama ground its way as far as Tech's 19 in the third quarter—and Tech returned the call by pushing to 'Bama's 15 in the fourth—but the scoring punch wasn't there.

Part of the story was told by the statistics. Alabama gained 187 yards rushing against Tech's 171, picked up 33 yards passing to 62 by the Engineers. Each team displayed superior pass-defense, holding each other to identical completions—4 out of 13. Tech intercepted twice, Alabama once. Tech shined 'Bama in first downs, 11 (Continued on Eleventh Page)

NAVY 13; COLUMBIA 9

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Little Hal Hamberg of Arkansas, a mighty mite weighing all of 150 pounds, outdid the great Paul Governale at his own game in the dying minutes of a stirring battle today, passing Navy's Middles to a 13-9 triumph over Columbia's Lions and finally saving the contest by a pass interception with 15 seconds to go.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

MEAT ON THE TABLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Ever hear of a forward pass catching the receiver instead of vice versa? ... Well, it happened in a schoolboy game at Washington, D. C., between Western and Devitt the other day. ... Halfback Duke O'Connell of Western pitched a pass. ... The ball hit Quarterback Alex Papanicolas on the back of the neck and stuck between his helmet and shoulder pad. ... Papanicolas ran 15 yards before he realized what had happened and then he reached around and grabbed the ball, making a 20-yard gain.

Willie Pep, the Hartford, Conn., featherweight who fights Chalky Wright for the title next week, probably has the largest personal following of any out-of-town fighter to show in the Garden. More than $20,000 worth of tickets already have been sold to Connecticut buyers. ... Georgia Tech staged its traditional "ramblin' wreck" contest last night, but the rules were that the jaloopies couldn't use gas and they had to be consigned to scrap metal heap afterward. ... Although Spence Mosley, Yale's grid captain, never has played on a team that beat Princeton, his dad, a member of Cupid Black's famous 1916 team, never lost to the Tigers. ... When a Washington naval officer phoned the Pimlico press box Tuesday to ask a sports-writing friend to make a $5 bet for him on Count Fleet, he wound up loser by eight cents. The officer collected $5.50 and the call cost 58 cents.

Tim Cohane, New York World-Telegram: "It might not be a bad idea to have Williams and Colgate meet for the shaving bowl championship. ... That would be one battle in which both teams would get a good lathering."

Coach Bach, civilian coach of the Fort Knox, Ky., football team that plays the Pittsburgh Steelers tomorrow, expects to join the army after the season. He was interested in the navy before the Armoraiders signed him up. ... When Private Stanley Evans reported for boxing at Fort Custer, Mich., he knocked 'em over by announcing that he held a decision over Joe Louis. But Stan produced the evidence that he had beaten Joe back in their amateur days. ... Corporal Buddy Knox, who has fought most of the good heavyweights, leads an officers' class in calisthenics at Bolling Field and plays squash and badminton. ... "And say," remarks Buddy, "that badminton is tough."

Thomas Sees Little Service; One Score By Visitors Is Called Back

By Elliott Chaze
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Georgia's pre-flighters outplayed and beat Tulane 7 to 0 here today before 18,000, the lone counter coming in the second immediately after Don Hightower's 75-yard kick runback for the victors had been officially discounted because he stepped out at midfield.

The Skycrackers evened up their loss at Louisiana State a month ago when Darrell Tully, former East Texas State star, split the running duties with Frank Filcheck, formerly of Indiana, in the touchdown drive, and Tully scored from the one-foot line. Bob Fox, late of Tennessee added the extra point.

Noble Doss, once of Texas university, and Charley Timmons, Clemson, braced the Georgia Navy offense which marked 13 first downs to Tulane's 12. The Navy was taking no chances today, having faced Coach Bear Wolf's official curfew last night in lieu of the customary rollick he had allowed before other contests. A full lieutenant carried the Skycrackers' water bucket.

DARK PASSES TO LONE SCORE FOR BAYOU BENGALS

Gafford Stars For Victors; Upset One Of Biggest Of Grid Year

By Leroy Simms
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Paced by the brilliant running and punting of Monk Gafford, the Auburn Tigers pulled one of the year's most stunning upsets here today in a 25 to 7 victory over Louisiana State before 8,000 fans.

The victors scored in every period and dominated the contest throughout, except for one brief lapse when Alvin Dark passed his teammates to their single score, mid-way of the third period.

Last week, Auburn lost, 41-14, to the Georgia pre-flight eleven which L. S. U. had beaten, 34-0, and the invaders were almost prohibitive favorites before game time.

Gafford, after a fine exhibition in the first half while his mates were gaining a 12-0 lead, gave L. S. U. the real knockout punch in the third period with a 60-yard run for a touchdown. He and Finney had made 19, and the ball was on Auburn's 40, near the west sideline. Gafford started to his right, found himself hemmed in and reversed the field to sprint the full distance.

A few minutes later, he ended an L. S. U. threat by intercepting Dark's pass on his 20 and throwing his way through several L. S. U. players in a sparkling 44-yard dash.

Auburn's first touchdown resulted with Jim Reynolds smashing across from the 13. Auburn's first marker came early, when Captain Viv Costello blocked Walter Gorinski's punt and Jim McClurkin scooped the ball up and ran 15 yards to make the touchdown.

The second, late in the next period, was almost as easy. Suleer Harris took Gafford punt on his 8, but dropped the ball when McClurkin hit him hard and Bert Trapani recovered the fumble on the one. Reynolds took it over in the first play.

After Gafford's long sprint in the third, L. S. U. sent the injured Dark to the ball game, and he passed them to a score in two minutes. His first shot went to Jim McLeod on the Auburn 49. His next shot missed fire, it again he tossed to McLeod, this time at the Auburn 40, and McLeod took off several tacklers and went cross standing up. Dark added the "ra point."

KEEFE PREDICTS DODGERS WILL TRAIN IN ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Bill Keefe, sports editor of the Times-Picayune, declared tonight that the Brooklyn Dodgers most probably would train here next spring after hooking up with the New Orleans Pelicans in a working agreement.

Charlie Hurth, business manager of the local Southern association team, is an "uncle-in-law" of Branch Rickey, now with the Dodgers. Keefe said, "The Pelicans, no doubt, will welcome a chance to sever their connection with the St. Louis Cardinals and line up with the Dodgers, whose Montreal team in the International league is their only farm, whereas the Cards have Rochester, Columbus, Sacramento, Houston and a few others."

"If you want any more 'most probable,' Keefe said in his column, 'Burt Shotton very likely will succeed 'Lippy' Durocher as manager of the Dodgers.'"

RAMS CRUSHED BY UNBEATEN EAGLES

Boston College Starts Slow, Goes On To Mercilessly Humble Fordham Eleven, 56-6, In Rams' Worst Defeat On Gridiron Since 1913 Season

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Unbeaten Boston College took Fordham slowly and methodically apart today in a merciless humbling in which the Rams took a 56-6 plastering before a throng of more than 35,000 at Fenway park.

Boston College was slow to get under way, its scoring being limited to a mere safety in the first period. But once it warmed up there was no heading the awesome Eagles as they rolled up 440 yards on the ground and 155 more in the air while limiting Fordham to a scant 26 yards by rushing and 109 by passing.

It was the worst licking the Rams have taken in almost three decades. In fact it was way back in 1913 that Fordham was really humbled, losing 60-0, to Holy Cross, and 69-0 to Princeton.

Joe Andrejco intercepted an Eagle pass and Fordham took over on its 11. The New Yorkers picked up a first down but then elected to kick and Big Gil Bouley was rushed in to smother George Cheverko's boot. The ball rolled back into the Fordham end zone and Steve Filipowicz was just ahead of three Boston players to smother it and take a safety.

Mickey Connolly ignited the Boston College explosion with a long pass which Don Currian took over his shoulder and right out of the hands of Cheverko which made it first down on the Ram 14. Five plays later Connolly was over from the one and seven minutes later he was over from the five at the end of a 47-yard drive.

Currian also scored in the third period, taking a Connolly pass on the 40 and tight-ropeing his way down the sideline as Charlie Furush blotted out Jim Hearn at the 20 to make the touchdown possible. Eddie Doherty added another with a quarterback sneak play which was good for 35 yards on the end of a 71-yard journey.

It was one of the biggest scores piled up thus far this season in a major conference. The small crowd of about 5,000 saw the kind of performance that brought Stanford a league title and the Rose Bowl championship two years ago.

PULLED TENDON THREATENS RICE

Leg Injury, May End Career Of Noted American Distance Ace

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(NEA)—A pulled tendon in the calf of his right leg threatens the brilliant track career of Gregory Rice.

The greatest distance runner ever developed in this country suffered the injury when he stepped in a hole while working out in Central Park more than a month ago.

Greg Rice has rested for days at a time, but the injury has recurred each time the barrel-chested little Notre Dame product has started to prepare himself for another fall and winter season.

At the moment, the calf is inflamed as though it were infected. Rice, now a New York accountant, does not expect to be ready for the Metropolitan Cross-Country in Van Cortlandt Park, Nov. 22, when he planned to return to the ways.

Rice's loss would be a terrific blow to the indoor season, for he is being counted on to supply the bulk of the competition for the invading Swedes, Gunder Hagg and Arne Anderson.

The Amateur Athletic union awards mid-December air priority for Hagg, Anderson and Hakan Lindman, who has done 14 seconds in the 110-meter high hurdles.

Anderson chased Hagg to world outdoor records all summer—4:04.5 for the mile, 8:47.8 for the two-mile, 13:32.4 for the three, 3:45.8 for 1500 meters, 5:11.3 for 2000, 8:01.2 for 3000 and 13:58.2 for 5000.

Dan Ferris, in charge of arrangements, is not certain whether the 23-year-old Hagg is a fireman or a mail-carrier, but in either case he gets there in a hurry and takes many a busman's holiday.

The 3:45.8 for 1500 meters is the best of Hagg's phenomenal performance. It is the equivalent of a 4.3 mile.

Rice holds the world indoor records for two and three miles—8:51.1 and 13:51.

The 5-foot-10, 180-pounder from Youngstown, O., has to watch his diet like a movie star. His two last-quarter touchdown passes beat Alabama in Georgia's big test.

Frankie quit the team in 1941 spring practice saying he needed time for study and social life. After students cold-shouldered him, he rejoined the squad and since has been popular.

Sinkwich's jaw was fractured in his second game last season. Despite the injury he played other games in specially constructed headgear and became the year's outstanding back.

After last football season he married pretty Adeline Weatherly, a dancer who has appeared in Dixie supper clubs and now is a Georgia U. drama student. Frank joins the Marines in January.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN BEATS LONGHORNS

13 To 7 Win Throws Southwest Loop Grid Race Into Three-Way Tie

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Little Beaver Montgomery jumped off the Texas Christian bench and led the Horned Frogs to a dramatic fourth-quarter, 13-7 victory over Texas today before 18,000 to throw the Southwest conference football race into a three-way tie.

He came in with seven minutes to go and Texas ahead 7-0. On his first play he rumbled over right tackle and cut back to the left to race 36 yards for a touchdown. Next, after a fumble had given T. C. U. the ball deep in Texas territory, he pitched two passes for another touchdown. From the Texas 17, where the Frogs had been set on a clipping penalty, Montgomery passed to Alford for 11, then three more over the goal line to Drummond Slover.

A fumbled punt by Dean Bagley led to the Texas touchdown midway of the third period. Audrey Gill the outstanding lineman for the Longhorns, covered the ball on the T. C. U. 13. Jackie Field and Max Minor smashed to a first down on the one. Field then lapped left guard for the score. Field also converted.

That looked like the ball game but they hadn't counted on Montgomery's score by quarters.

Texas Christian 0 0 0 13-7
Texas scoring: Touchdown, Field point after touchdown, Field (placement).

MAROONS DEFEAT DUQUESNE, 28-6

Mississippi State Turns Game Into Near-Rout In The Final Quarter

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Striking with lightning plays in the last three quarters, Mississippi State knocked over Duquesne's Ducks 28-6 today before 10,000 homecoming fans in one of the wildest games ever played on Scott field.

The Maroons used Billy Murphy's strong-arm passing and Blondy Black's speed to disorganize Duquesne's defenses and turn the game into a near-rout in the final quarters.

After a scoreless first quarter, Murphy shot a pass to Wingback Lamar Blount who planted the ball on Duquesne's eight-yard line for a 54-yard gain in the second. Murphy scored through center.

Black got the Maroons' third quarter touchdown on the game's most sensational play. Backed up on his 3-yard line, Black passed a punt from behind his goal line and whipped around right end for 97 yards and a touchdown. Not a Duke touched him.

Duquesne got down to business late in the third and started a drive from its 15 that ended behind the Mississippi State goal with the final period less than three minutes old. Jim Gottlieb, Forest Hall, and Max Kielbass alternated in driving 85 yards for the score, Gottlieb scoring on fourth down from the one-yard line. Kielbass missed the point from placement.

It took the Maroons two plays to get their third touchdown. End Kermit Davis returned Gottlieb's kickoff 25 yards to the Ducks' 49-yard mark, and on the next play Davis took a 25-yard pass from Lamar Blount on the 12 and scooted into pay dirt.

Shuff returned to the game long enough to get his third point from placement. The hefty freshman got four for four for the afternoon.

Apparently still remembering the 16-0 licking Duquesne handed their conference championship club last year, the Maroons rushed back for another touchdown before calling quits. Tailback Eagle Matulich returned Kielbass's punt 32 yards and the Maroons worked the ball to the 13 from where Sophomore George McIngvale scored on a reverse.

The Maroons picked up 230 yards rushing against 138 for Duquesne and gained 116 yards passing against the Ducks' 16. Duquesne led in first downs 10 to 6.

Army 36 and Elmer galloped across. Cadets chucked up ten first downs to two and gained 118 yards rushing to the Virginians' 47.

Red Black reached down among his third and fourth stringers for most of his last-half talent. Army might have added another touchdown or three.

Hank Mazur scored the first Army marker, going over his own right guard for the last five yards. Tom Lombardo, sub fullback, produced the second tally on a 26-yard pass from Mazur. Bob Woods came up with the third six pointer on a three-yard buck.

After being held to two first downs for two quarters, V. P. I. finally got into the scoring column in the third. Chasen recovered an Army fumble on the Gobbler 43 and a buck took it to the 45, from where Joe Polz heaved a long pitch to Elmer Wilson on the

AUBURN UPSETS LOUISIANA STATE, 25 TO 7

Gafford Stars For Victors; Upset One Of Biggest Of Grid Year

By Leroy Simms

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Paced by the brilliant running and punting of Monk Gafford, the Auburn Tigers pulled one of the year's most stunning upsets here today in a 25 to 7 victory over Louisiana State before 8,000 fans.

The victors scored in every period and dominated the contest throughout, except for one brief lapse when Alvin Dark passed his teammates to their single score, mid-way of the third period.

Last week, Auburn lost, 41-14, to the Georgia pre-flight eleven which L. S. U. had beaten, 34-0, and the invaders were almost prohibitive favorites before game time.

Gafford, after a fine exhibition in the first half while his mates were gaining a 12-0 lead, gave L. S. U. the real knockout punch in the third period with a 60-yard run for a touchdown. He and Finney had made 19, and the ball was on Auburn's 40, near the west sideline. Gafford started to his right, found himself hemmed in and reversed the field to sprint the full distance.

A few minutes later, he ended an S. U. threat by intercepting Dark's pass on his 20 and then, 'ing his way through several L. S. U. players in sparkling 44-yard dash, Auburn's first touchdown resulted with Jim Reynolds smashing across from the 13.

Auburn's first marker came early, when Captain Viv Costello blocked Walter Gorinski's punt and Jim McClurkin scooped the ball up and ran five yards to make the touchdown. The second, late in the next period, was almost as easy. Suleer Harris took Gafford punt on his 5, but dropped the ball when McClurkin hit him hard and Bert Trapani recovered the fumble on the one. Reynolds took it over in the first play.

After Gafford's long sprint in the third, L. S. U. sent the injured Dark to the ball game, and he passed them to a score in two minutes. His first shot went to Jim McLeod on the Auburn 49. His next shot missed fire, but again he tossed to McLeod, this time at the Auburn 40, and McLeod took off several tacklers and went cross standing up. Dark added the extra point.

Dark's passing was almost L. S. U.'s only offensive threat. McLeod and big back Fulkerson made excellent targets.

Rice holds the world indoor records for two and three miles—8:51.1 and 13:51.

Should Rice be unavailable, the Swedes' main trouble would have to come from Gilbert Dodds, Don Burnham of Dartmouth, who closed the outdoor season with a rush; and Frank Dixon, the New York university negro freshman who last winter as a schoolboy turned in a 4:14 mile indoors.

Neither Hagg nor Anderson has competed on boards, but switching from cinders to wood should not affect a mile or a two-mile.

The trouble with most foreign runners who flopped here was that they had a good time first. Lumber failed to slow down Paavo Nurmi and his wristwatch. Hagg, Anderson and Lindman would have plenty of time to work on boards and to become acclimated before the Millrose Games start the indoor season rolling at Madison Square Garden, February 6.

Germany charges that the invitations to Gunder Hagg, Arne Anderson and Hakan Lindman are propaganda.

If that were true, this type of propaganda has been going on for 20 years.

Londoners smoke more than 150,000,000,000 cigarettes a year, in normal times.

The 5-foot-10, 180-pounder from Youngstown, O., has to watch his diet like a movie star. His two last-quarter touchdown passes beat Alabama in Georgia's big test.

Frankie quit the team in 1941 spring practice saying he needed time for study and social life. After students cold-shouldered him, he rejoined the squad and since has been popular.

Sinkwich's jaw was fractured in his second game last season. Despite the injury he played other games in specially constructed headgear and became the year's outstanding back.

After last football season he married pretty Adeline Weatherly, a dancer who has appeared in Dixie supper clubs and now is a Georgia U. drama student. Frank joins the Marines in January.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN BEATS LONGHORNS

13 To 7 Win Throws Southwest Loop Grid Race Into Three-Way Tie

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Little Beecher Montgomery jumped off the Texas Christian bench and led the Horned Frogs to a dramatic fourth-quarter, 13-7 victory over Texas today before 18,000 to throw the Southwest conference football race into a three-way tie.

He came in with seven minutes to go and Texas ahead 7-0. On his first play he ripped over right tackle and cut back to the left to race 36 yards for a touchdown. Next, after a fumble had given T. C. U. the ball deep in Texas territory, he pitched two passes for another touchdown. From the Texas 17, where the Frogs had been set on a clipping penalty, Montgomery passed to Alford for 11, then threw one over the goal line to Drummond Slover.

A fumbled punt by Dean Bagley led to the Texas touchdown midway of the third period. Audrey Gill the outstanding lineman for the Longhorns, covered the ball on the T. C. U. 13. Jackie Field and Max Minor smashed to a first down on the one. Field then rapped left guard for the score. Field also converted.

That looked like the ball game but they hadn't counted on Montgomery. Score by quarters:

Texas 0 0 7 0—7
Texas Christian 0 0 0 13—13
Texas scoring: Touchdown, Field; point after touchdown, Field (placement).

Texas Christian scoring: Touchdown, Montgomery (for Bagley); Slover (for Balaban); point after touchdown, Patton (placement).

Mississippi State Turns Game Into Near-Rout In The Final Quarter

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Striking with lightning plays in the last three quarters, Mississippi State knocked over Duquesne's Ducks 28-6 today before 10,000 homecoming fans in one of the wildest games ever played on Scott field.

The Maroons used Billy Murphy's strong-arm passing and Blondy Black's speed to disorganize Duquesne's defenses and turn the game into a near-rout in the final quarters.

After a scoreless first quarter, Murphy shot a pass to Wingback Lamar Blount who planted the ball on Duquesne's eight-yard line for a 54-yard gain in the second. Murphy scored through center.

Black got the Maroons' third quarter touchdown on the game's most sensational play. Backed up on his 3-yard line, Black faked a punt from behind his goal line and whipped around right end for 97 yards and a touchdown. Not a Duke touched him.

Duquesne got down to business late in the third and started a drive from its 15 that ended behind the Mississippi State goal with the final period less than three minutes old. Joe Gottlieb, Forest Hall, and Max Kielbasa alternated in driving 55 yards for the score. Gottlieb scoring on fourth down from the one-yard line. Kielbasa missed the point from placement.

It took the Maroons two plays to get their third touchdown. End Kermit Davis returned Gottlieb's kickoff 25 yards to the Ducks' 49-yard mark, and on the next play Davis took a 25-yard pass from Lamar Blount on the 12 and scooted into pay dirt.

Shuff returned to the game long enough to get his third point from placement. The hefty freshman got four for four for the afternoon.

Apparently still remembering the 16-0 licking Duquesne handed their conference championship club last year, the Maroons rushed back for another touchdown before calling quits. Tailback Eagle Matulich returned Kielbasa's punt 32 yards and the Maroons worked the ball to the 13 from where Sophomore George McIngvale scored on a reverse.

The Maroons picked up 230 yards running against 138 for Duquesne and gained 116 yards passing against the Ducks' 16. Duquesne led in first downs 10 to 6.

Army 36 and Elmer galloped across. The Cadets chalked up ten first downs to two and gained 178 yards rushing to the Virginians' 47.

HARDIN-SIMMONS DOWNS TECH

TEXANS OVERCOME BULLDOG '11' BY 47 TO 13 COUNT

Powerful Victors Have Things All Their Own Way In Grid Contest

ABILENE, Texas, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Rudolph (Little Doc) Mobley, the hard-to-catch mite of the unbeaten and untied Hardin-Simmons university's Cowboys, set a new national ground-gaining record tonight in the course of a 47 to 13 victory over Louisiana Tech.

Mobley scored three touchdowns and reeled off 115 yards rushing in 25 carries to boost his rushing yardage to 1,148 for seven games, to surpass the total of 1,121 in eight games by Colorado's Whizzer White in 1937.

Little Doc and his teammates still have two games to play, with Texas Tech on next Saturday and with Howard Payne on Thanksgiving day.

Camp Wilson, the "other half" of the Hardin-Simmons ground-gaining punch, had the bigger night, the big fullback scoring twice, and compiling 220 yards in 26 carries.

The Cowboys' other scores came on pass interceptions, Gayle Campbell, sub for Mobley, galloping 27 yards for one such tally, and Center Jim Callam racing 30 yards for the other.

Louisiana Tech's hustling club, headed by Johnny Perritt and Ray Peace, scored the final counter in both halves. Jones passed to Newman late in the second period for one score, and Pearce Didier skirted right end from the seven for the other.

Tonight's win was the seventh in a row for Texas' only remaining unbeaten and untied team, and was played before a crowd of 5,000, ending the Cowboys' home season.

Hardin-Simmons, nation's leading rushing eleven, gained 404 net yards on the ground.

MIAMI DEFEATS FLORIDA FOR STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Blasting Bob McDougal and Al Kasulin lead the way today as Miami downed a surprisingly stubborn Florida football team, 12 to 0, and took the state championship before 15,538 spectators in the Orange Bowl stadium.

It is Miami's second victory over the Gators in their five-game rivalry, and marked the end of a three-year Florida reign over football on the peninsula.

Florida's fleet backs and bulls-eye passers piled up 176 yards from scrimmage to ruin the Hurricanes' previous statistical average of 93 yards, the best in the nation.

MICHIGAN DEFEATS IRISH IN SECOND-HALF RALLY, 32-20

Ohio State Defeats Illinois, 44 To 20

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Ohio State, attacking with devastating fury, trounced its old rival, Illinois, 44 to 20 today to take over undisputed first place in the Western conference football race before 68,656 chilly fans.

The loss eliminated Illinois, with one of its strongest teams since the boom gridiron days of the '20s, from the title chase. Iowa, which had been in a three-way tie for the lead with Ohio and the Illinois, was toppled by Minnesota 27 to 7.

From the time little Leslie Horvath, Ohio halfback, sprinted 36 yards for a touchdown in the first conference game ever staged here, the Bucks held the edge.

Horvath, hard driving Paul Sarringhaus, the other half back, and Sarringhaus' alternate, red-haired Tommy James, held the spotlight in the high scoring game at Cleveland's Lakefront stadium.

Ohio State scoring: Touchdowns, Horvath 2, James (sub for Sarringhaus) 2, Sarringhaus 2, Points after touchdown, Fekete, Palmer, (sub for Smith), place-kicks. Field goal, Fekete (placement).

Illinois scoring: Touchdowns, Butkovich (sub for Smith), Suec (sub for Carroll), Gibbs (sub for Engel). Points after touchdown, McCarthy, Wilson (sub for Agase), placements.

Wolverines Score Three Quick Touchdowns After Fighting Irish Lead, 14-13, At Half-Time; Meeting Is Schools' First Since 1909

By Dave Hoff

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Michigan's great Western conference team romped over Notre Dame in the third period today to drub the Fighting Irish, 32 to 20, in their first meeting since 1909, and a capacity throng of 57,500 howled their approval that the game was worth waiting for.

After a whiz-bang first half, in which each team scored two touchdowns and Notre Dame held a 14 to 13 edge by virtue of Angelo Bertelli's two conversion points, the Wolverines turned loose all their power for three quick touchdowns. That stunned the Irish, and although they pulled out one more touchdown in the final period, they couldn't catch up.

The undermanned Wolverines used only four substitutes.

Michigan, in ending Notre Dame's five game winning streak, sent its array of crushing backs into constant action and they amassed 319 yards by rushing. Tom Kuzma, Bob Wiese, Paul White and Don Robinson gained almost as well as Michigan's rugged line broke down the opposition, and the Wolverines had occasion to punt only twice.

In the third period the Wolverines struck three times with stunning regularity. They came up from the kickoff to parade 59 yards for a touchdown. Three minutes and 45 seconds later, after recovering Notre Dame's fumble on the kickoff, they went 25 yards for the second touchdown.

The Irish entirely shackled after the kickoff, punted, and the Wolverines were off again. They charged to the two before being stopped, and when Bertelli recklessly tried to pass from the end zone White intercepted it on the 25. That was the springboard, and Kuzma threw a pass to Phil Sharpe on the one-yard line. Kuzma then tallied his second touchdown of the period and Michigan led, 32 to 14.

Notre Dame rallied somewhat to get a touchdown opening the final period, Crichton Miller's 14 yard run on the Statue of Liberty play bringing the points after a 66-yard drive.

VOLUNTEERS EDGE OLE MISS, 14-0

Tennessee Meets Surprising Opposition From Rebs In Loop Duel

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 14.—(AP)—The highly regarded Tennessee Vols ran into unexpected opposition today from the victory-poverished Mississippi Rebels and emerged with only a 14-0 triumph for their Southeastern conference duel.

Some 10,000 spectators saw the Rebels threaten touchdowns twice in the second half, and, all in all, come up with a moral victory.

The Vols, listless through most of the game, scored their first touchdown late in the first quarter when Bobby Cifers, fleet foot, clicked off 48 yards on a punt return to reach the 12. Bill Nowling and Cifers shared the ground attack from there, the former going over center from the 2 for the marker. Mitchell made the extra point from placement.

Walter Slater and Bill Hillman largely accounted for the other marker in the second quarter. A pass, with Hillman on the receiving end, was good for 34 yards to reach the 4. Clyde Fuson punched across from the one-foot mark on the third play and Slater's placement was good for the 14-0 score.

The Rebels, throwing up a good defense through most of the day, thwarted a Tennessee touchdown drive late in the half with a magnificent goal-line stand.

The Vols drove 78 and got within one yard of the pay mark but four line plays ended with them a foot short. The Rebels apparently took heart from this stand for they came back in the second half with new life. Freshman John Shelby intercepted a Tennessee pass on his 45 and returned to the Tennessee 26—their farthest penetration thus far.

Faking a pass, Shelby ran to the 15 but the Vols held for downs.

When Tennessee's punt got out only to their own 42, the Rebels knocked on the door again. Shelby heaved to Stag to reach the 29 and tossed another to Frank Thorsey, who leaped high to pull it down on the 10. Again the Vols were equal to the occasion with Bill Meet intercepting a pass behind his goal line.

The Vols threatened in the waning minutes of the game, Slater pitching the ball twice to get to the 16. Ground plays mixed with aerials reached the one-mark where Charles Conerly intercepted a pass to stop the drive.

The triumph was the second within the conference for the Vols and left the Rebels without a major victory for the season. However, the score as well as the performance was surprisingly favorable to Mississippi which has 23 varsity players of last year in the nation's armed forces.

Hughey registered his first marker when he gathered in a long aerial and stepped ten yards over the goal line. The passing play stemmed from Shorty Ward was good for 42 yards.

Hughey broke loose midway the final quarter on a 75-yard end around, out-footing the Commodores down the sidelines.

FISH YARN

If you don't believe it, here's the corpus delicti as evidence, says Paul Wilbanks, sportsman of Chattanooga, Tenn., in telling a whale of a fish story. Sportsman Wilbanks vows he and several companions saw two big-mouth bass making passes at each other in the shallow waters of Dallas lake. Suddenly, they backed off about 10 feet and headed at each other like a couple of M-4 tanks. The big one, size 15 inches, tried to swallow the smaller, size 14½ inches—but couldn't quite make it. And there the matter hung, with Mr. Wilbanks the victor, as shown (so he says).

PENSACOLA HIGH DOWNS GULFPORT COMMODORES

GULFPORT, Miss., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Scoring in the second and fourth periods Pensacola, Fla., defeated Gulfport's Commodores here today 12 to 0 with Harry Hughey, the invaders high scoring end accounting for both touchdowns.

Hughey registered his first marker when he gathered in a long aerial and stepped ten yards over the goal line. The passing play stemmed from Shorty Ward was good for 42 yards.

Hughey broke loose midway the final quarter on a 75-yard end around, out-footing the Commodores down the sidelines.

HARDIN-SIMMONS DOWNS TECH

TEXANS OVERCOME BULLDOG '11' BY 47 TO 13 COUNT

Powerful Victors Have Things All Their Own Way In Grid Contest

ABILENE, Texas, Nov. 14.—(P)—Rudolph (Little Doc) Mobley, the hard-to-catch mite of the unbeaten and untied Hardin-Simmons university's Cowboys, set a new national ground-gaining record tonight in the course of a 47 to 13 victory over Louisiana Tech.

Mobley scored three touchdowns and reeled off 115 yards rushing in 23 carries to boost his rushing yardage to 1,148 for seven games, to surpass the total of 1,121 in eight games by Colorado's Whizzer White in 1937. Little Doc and his teammates still have two games to play, with Texas Tech on next Saturday and with Howard Payne on Thanksgiving day.

Camp Wilson, the "other half" of the Hardin-Simmons ground-gaining punch, had the bigger night, the big fullback scoring twice, and compiling 220 yards in 26 carries.

The Cowboys' other scores came on pass interceptions, Gayle Campbell, sub for Mobley, galloping 27 yards for one such tally, and Center Jim Callam racing 30 yards for the other. Louisiana Tech's hustling club, headed by Johnny Perritt and Ray Peace, scored the final counter in both halves. Jones passed to Newman late in the second period for one score, and Pearce Didier skirted right end from the seven for the other.

Tonight's win was the seventh in a row for Texas' only remaining unbeaten and untied team, and was played before a crowd of 5,000, ending the Cowboys' home season.

Hardin-Simmons, nation's leading rushing eleven, gained 404 net yards on the ground.

MIAMI DEFEATS FLORIDA FOR STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 14.—(P)—Blasting Bob McDougal and Al Kasulin lead the way today as Miami downed a surprisingly stubborn Florida football team, 12 to 0, and took the state championship before 15,538 spectators in the Orange Bowl stadium.

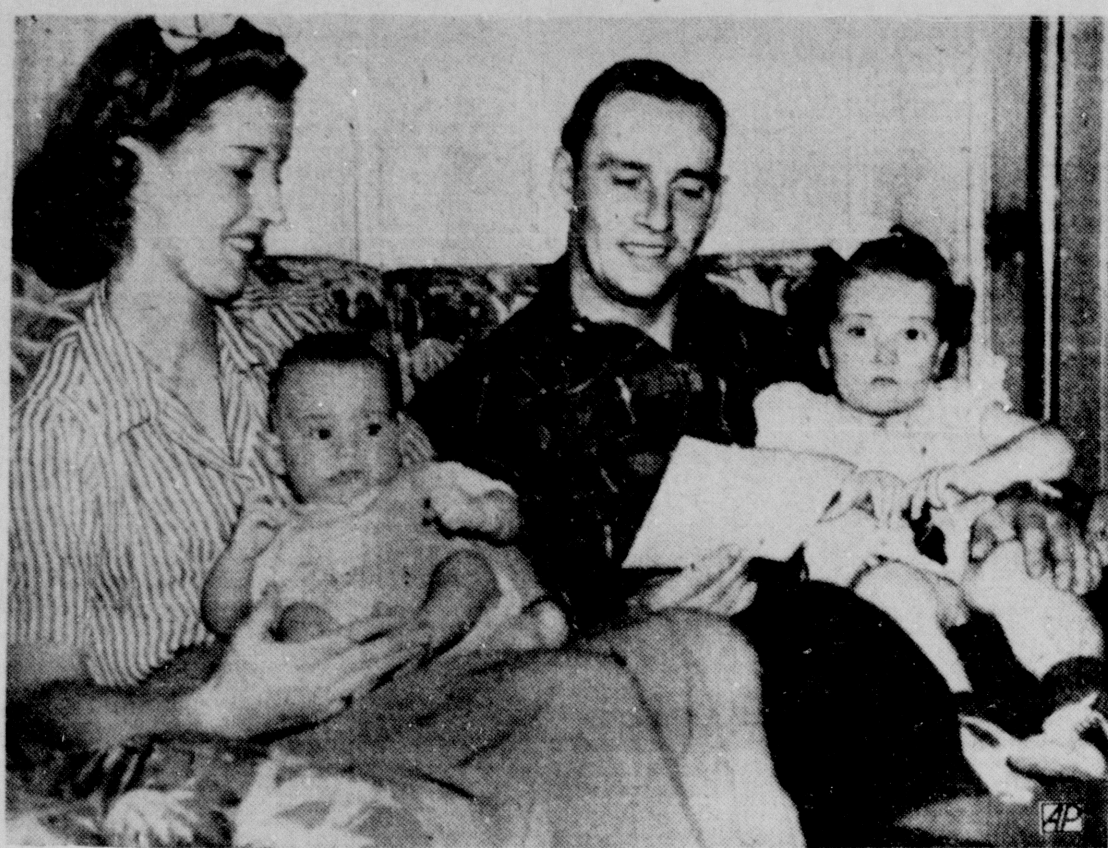

It is Miami's second victory over the 'Gators in their five-game rivalry, and marked the end of a three-year Florida reign over football on the peninsula.

Florida's fleet backs and bulls-eye passers piled up 115 yards from scrimmage to ruin the Hurricanes' previous statistical average of 93 yards, the best in the nation.

NICHOLLS WINS

Ohio State Defeats Illinois, 44 To 20

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14.—(P)—Ohio State, attacking with devastating fury, trounced its old rival, Illinois, 44 to 20 today to take over undisputed first place in the Western conference football race before 68,636 chilly fans.

The loss eliminated Illinois, with one of its strongest teams since the boom gridiron days of the '20s, from the title chase. Iowa, which had been in a three-way tie for the lead with Ohio and the Illini, was toppled by Minnesota 27 to 7.

From the time little Leslie Horvath, Ohio halfback, sprinted 36 yards for a touchdown in the first conference game ever staged here, the Bucks held the edge.

Horvath, hard driving Paul Sarringhaus, the other half back, and Sarringhaus' alternate, red-haired Tommy James, held the spotlight in the high scoring game at Cleveland's Lakefront stadium.

Ohio State scoring: Touchdowns, Horvath 2, James (sub for Sarringhaus) 2, Sarringhaus 2. Points after touchdown, Fekete, Palmer, (sub for Smith), place-kicks. Field goal, Fekete (placement).

Illinois scoring: Touchdowns, Butkovich (sub for Smith), Suele (sub for Carrell), Gibbs (sub for Engel). Points after touchdown, McCarthy, Wilson (sub for Agase), placements.

Wolverines Score Three Quick Touchdowns After Fighting Irish Lead, 14-13, At Half-Time; Meeting Is Schools' First Since 1909

By Dave Hoff

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 14.—(P)—Michigan's great Western conference team romped over Notre Dame in the third period today to drub the Fighting Irish, 32 to 20, in their first meeting since 1909, and a capacity throng of 37,500 howled their approval that the game was worth waiting for.

After a whiz-bang first half, in which each team scored two touchdowns and Notre Dame held a 14 to 13 edge by virtue of Angelo Bertelli's two conversion points, the Wolverines turned loose all their power for three quick touchdowns. That stunned the Irish, and although they pulled out one more touchdown in the final period, they couldn't catch up.

The undermanned Wolverines used only four substitutes.

Michigan, in ending Notre Dame's five game winning streak, sent its array of crushing backs into constant action and they amassed 319 yards by rushing. Tom Kuzma, Bob Wiese, Paul White and Don Robinson gained almost all as Michigan's rugged line broke down the opposition, and the Wolverines had occasion to punt only twice.

In the third period the Wolverines struck three times with stunning regularity. They came up from the kickoff to parade 59 yards for a touchdown. Three minutes and 45 seconds later, after recovering Notre Dame's fumble on the kickoff they went 25 yards for the second touchdown.

The Irish entirely shrank after the kickoff, punted, and the Wolverines were off again. They charged to the two before being stopped, and when Bertelli recklessly tried to pass from the end zone White intercepted it on the 25. That was the springboard, and Kuzma threw a pass to Phil Sharpe on the one-yard line. Kuzma then tallied his second touchdown of the period and Michigan led, 32 to 14.

Notre Dame rallied somewhat to get a touchdown opening the final period, Creighton Miller's 14 yard run on the Statue of Liberty play bringing the points after a 66-yard drive.

How To Beat Jujitsu

By Lieut. Ed Don George (Coach of Rough and Tumble, U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School)

Assailant backs you against a wall, chokes you (1).

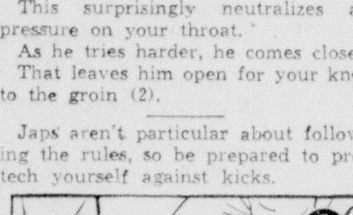

You counter by exerting upward and outward force on his elbows. This surprisingly neutralizes all pressure on your throat.

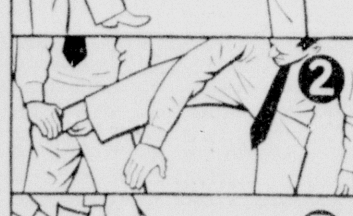

As he tries harder, he comes closer. That leaves him open for your knee to the groin (2).

Japs aren't particular about following the rules, so be prepared to protect yourself against kicks.

Turn your body to the right and catch his foot with your left fore-arm. Turn the leg outward with a toe hold (3).

You now have a bar toe-heel hold (4).

VOLUNTEERS EDGE OLE MISS, 14-0

Tennessee Meets Surprising Opposition From Rebs In Loop Duel

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 14.—(P)—The highly regarded Tennessee Vols ran into unexpected opposition today from the victory-poverished Mississippi Rebels and emerged with only a 14-0 triumph for their Southeastern conference duel.

Some 10,000 spectators saw the Rebels threaten touchdowns twice in the second half, and, all in all, come up with a moral victory.

The Vols, listless through most of the game, scored their first touchdown late in the first quarter when Bobby Cifers, fleet afoot, clicked off 48 yards on a punt return to reach the 12. Bill Nowling and Cifers shared the ground attack from there, the former going over center from the 2 for the marker. Mitchell made the extra point from placement.

Walter Slater and Bill Hillman largely accounted for the other marker in the second quarter. A pass, with Hillman on the receiving end, was good for 34 yards to reach the 4. Clyde Fuson punched across from the one-foot mark on the third play and Slater's placement was good for the 14-0 score.

The Rebels, throwing up a good defense through most of the day, thwarted a Tennessee touchdown drive late in the half with a magnificent goal-line stand.

The Vols drove 78 and got within one yard of the pay mark but four line plays ended with them a foot short.

The Rebels apparently took heart from this stand for they came back in the second half with new life. Freshman John Shelby intercepted a Tennessee pass on his 45 and returned to the Tennessee 26—their farthest penetration thus far.

Faking a pass, Shelby ran to the 15 but the Vols held for downs late in the drive.

When Tennessee's punt got out only to their own 42, the Rebels knocked on the door again. Shelby heaved to Stagg to reach the 29 and tossed another to Frank Thorsey, who leaped high to pull it down on the 10. Again the Vols were equal to the occasion with Bill Meert intercepting a pass behind his goal line.

The Vols threatened in the waning minutes of the game, Slater pitching the ball twice to get to the 16. Ground plays mixed with aerials reached the one-mark where Charles Conerly intercepted a pass to stop the drive.

The triumph was the second within the conference for the Vols and left the Rebels without a major victory for the season. However, the score as well as the performance was surprisingly favorable to Mississippi which has 29 varsity players of last year in the nation's armed forces.

During hibernation a marmot stops breathing altogether, but its blood continues to circulate.

FISH YARN

If you don't believe it, here's the corpus delicti as evidence, says Paul Wilbanks, sportsman of Chattanooga, Tenn., in telling a whale of a fish story. Sportsman Wilbanks vows he and several companions saw two big-mouth bass making passes at each other in the shallow waters of Dallas lake. Suddenly, they backed off about 10 feet and headed at each other like a couple of M-4 tanks. The big one, size 15 inches, tried to swallow the smaller, size 14½ inches—but couldn't quite make it. And there the matter hung, with Mr. Wilbanks the victor, as shown (so he says).

PENSACOLA HIGH DOWNS GULFPORT COMMODORES

GULFPORT, Miss., Nov. 14.—(P)—Scoring in the second and fourth periods Pensacola, Fla., defeated Gulfport's Commodores here today 12 to 0 with Harry Hughey, the invaders high scoring end accounting for both touchdowns.

Hughey registered his first marker when he gathered in a long aerial and stepped ten yards over the goal line. The passing play stemmed from Shorty Ward was good for 42 yards.

Hughey broke loose midway the final quarter on a 75-yard end around, out-footing the Commodores down the sidelines.

TRIBE INVADES OUACHITA COLLEGE FRIDAY

Tigers Have Strongest Team In History Of Schools' Grid Relations

The Northeast Junior college Indians have always had hard, close battles with the Ouachita college Tigers of Arkadelphia, Ark., but from all indications the Tribe is in for its hardest rap of all Friday afternoon when it angles with the Arkansans at Arkadelphia.

The game will be the Redskins' only tilt of the season away from home and one that was "cancelled" at the beginning of the fall campaign but restated recently. Ouachita, like all other Arkansas colleges, excepting the University of Arkansas, announced long in the summer that football was being sidetracked for the duration of the war.

The game which N. J. C. had on schedule was automatically cancelled. Then the Tigers decided to play anyway, and players from the schools of Henderson State, Magnolia A. and Arkansas Tech and other institutions in the neighborhood that had quit the grid flocked to Ouachita, giving the Bengals the strongest team they have ever boasted.

Ouachita Friday night defeated the Louisiana Inter-collegiate champions, Louisiana Normal, 6 to 0, and the result of that game indicated trouble ahead for the Malomen. It is remembered that Louisiana Normal at Louisiana Tech, 10-0; that Tech at Southeastern Louisiana, 56-14; and N. J. C. stopped Southeastern 3-0, thus rating Ouachita an even points better than N. J. C.

But the Tribe's best performance against the Tigers have been when it is rated as the underdog. Notably in 1935 when the locals won, 6-0.

In 1935 Coach Malone took 17 boys to Arkadelphia and on the first play of the game Boley Lemak went 96 yards on a fake kick for a touchdown, kicking by Frank Moseley kept the Indians out of danger for the rest of the game as they protected their lead to win.

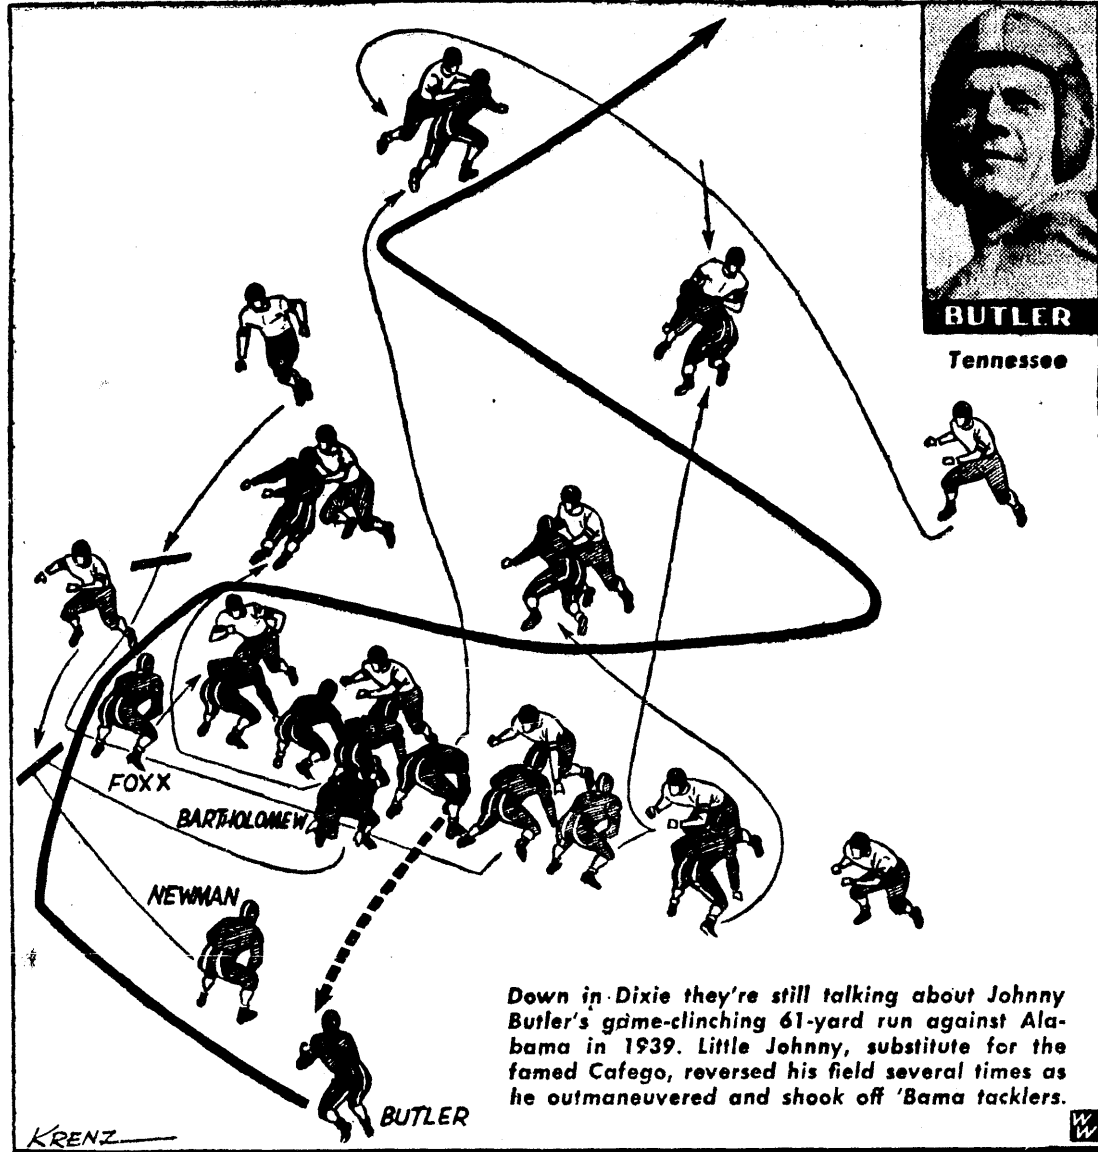

The underdog Tribe came through with stellar kicking again in 1940 when Ouachita was topped 9-0. In that game Ouachita amassed 17 first downs against only two for the Tribe. The locals covered a blocked punt for a touchdown in the first quarter, tapered off with a field goal by Abraham while the kicking of Sievers, now a Monroe police officer, kept the Tigers at bay.

The Indians are hoping for the best scoring break and praying for a kicking to triumph again Friday, the possibility of good punting rests in the hands of Halfback Jack Bishop being able to play. Bishop, nursing an injury that kept him off the field last week, was believed lost to the Tribe for the season, but Coach Malone said last night he hoped Bishop would be available for some service especially when punting would be needed at crucial moments of play. If Bishop isn't able to play, the punting will rest almost entirely on the shoulders of Jim Coyle.

Clayton "Red" Brown, who was declared out for the season because of an eye infection, is still "on the doubtful list" Coach Malone said last night. He will be used only if attending physicians say his eye ailment would be further aggravated.

Coach Bill Walton has an all junior senior line at the four-year institution. The forwards will be considerably heavier than Malone's aggregation, but the backfields will be about evenly matched in weight. One of the best scoring backs in Allen, the same Tiger back whose kick was blocked in the 1940 game, and has a much better back now.

REMEMBER THIS ONE ... ?

Down in Dixie they're still talking about Johnny Butler's game-clinching 61-yard run against Alabama in 1939. Little Johnny, substitute for the famed Cageto, reversed his field several times as he outmaneuvered and shook off 'Bama tacklers.

TIGERS TO PLAY HERE; LIONS GO TO ALEXANDRIA

Neville Meets Rayville And Ouachita Faces Bolton In Week's Tilts

Both Monroe high school grid teams will be in action this weekend, the triumphant Ouachita Parish High school Lions, again champions of the North Louisiana Class AA circuit, invading Alexandria for a non-conference game Friday night with the Bolton Bears, and Neville High school's Tigers meeting the Rayville Hornets here Friday afternoon in Neville stadium.

The Neville-Rayville clash is the only game scheduled to be played here this week.

The Lions, who surprised the Byrd Yellow Jackets with some razzle-dazzle spread formation trickery in the third quarter to gain a 13-14 victory over the Jackets and reclaim the Double-A title for the second straight year Friday, apparently came out of the Yellow Jacket scrap with no more than the usual bruises and sore muscles, but a complete check of the Ouachita physical condition won't be made until tomorrow.

The triumph was quite a feather in the cap of Coach George Riser, the former Louisiana Tech and Ruston High school athlete, who served as assistant coach here from 1932 until he was made head coach this year when Mack Avants became a physical instructor for the navy. His charges started sluggishly, just as they did a year ago, but improved steadily as the season progressed and by the time the Lions reached the stage where conference games were coming up they were playing outstanding ball ... and this was accomplished with only two regulars held over from the team that won the district title and reached the state finals last year.

Regarding the spread formation which caught Byrd unprepared and even dazed the fans since it was the first time the Lions had ever used it. Coach Riser last night revealed he had been considering the spread and its variations since last season.

"I talked over the spread with Mac Givens (assistant coach here last year) last season and when we went up to play his Smackover team last month he asked me if I was using the spread," Riser said. "I had planned to try it out on Smackover but decided to hold back and spring it on Haynesville. We got along without it against Haynesville, but it really served its purpose in bewildering the Jackets who had not been drilled in a defense against it."

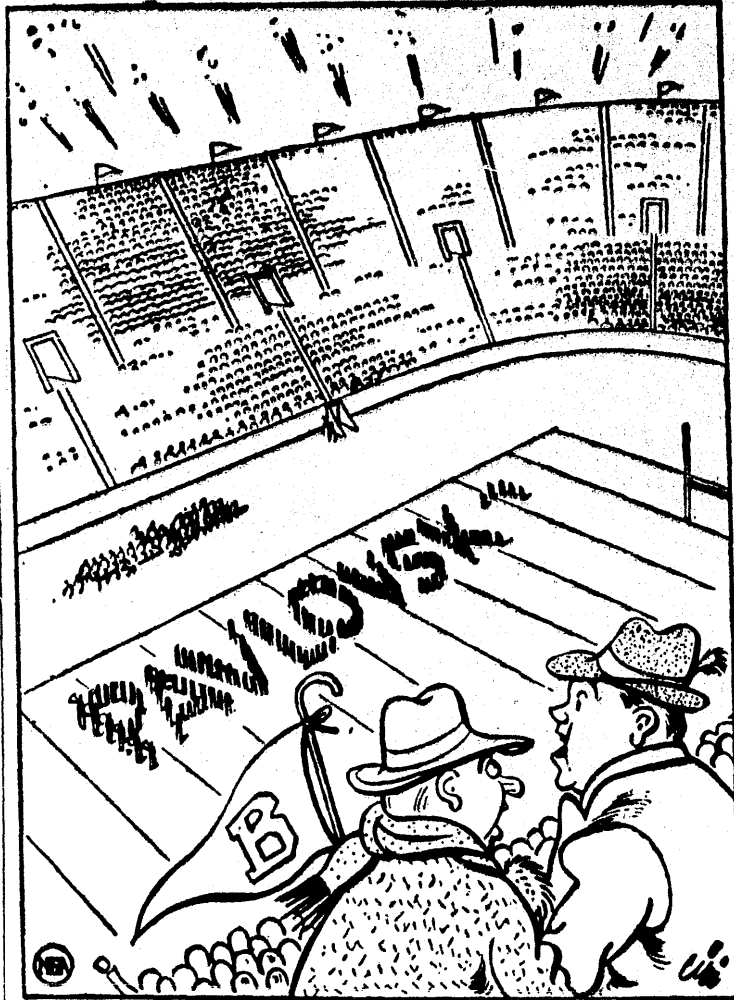

Only eight plays were run from the spread but the Lions, with Richard Pate and Jerry Gregg handling the ball, piled up a total of 113 yards on the eight plays but had two plays nullified, one a 14-yard pass and the other a three-yard gain. Even with the nullified plays, which were among the shortest gains from the spread, the Lions averaged better than 14 yards each try. The first three plays from the spread netted 73 yards.

The Neville Tigers will be going up against Rayville in their best condition of the year and fresh from a 30-13 triumph over the Clarks High school Lumberjacks. Last year the Hornets trounced the Tigers 12-7.

The Bengals will have only one other game after the Hornet invasion, meeting the strong Class A title contenders, the Bastrop Rams, here on Thanksgiving day.

VANDERBILT 21; UNION 0
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Vanderbilt cashed in on every scoring opportunity and stuck by aid and around end to subdue a fighting Union university team 27-0 here today before a crowd of 7,500.

GRID IRONIES

By Babe Hollingbery
(Head Coach, Washington State College)
We won a great game from Stanford in Pullman in 1933 on a play which was made up on the field by Eddie Goddard.

It worked—so I kissed him. Other wise, I'd probably have taken his suit away.

We had been using a shift in which the backs lined up on one side and the line unbalanced to the other. From this we ran and used a flood pass to the weak side.

Goddard noticed that the defensive left halfback was sucking to the left trying to intercept the pass.

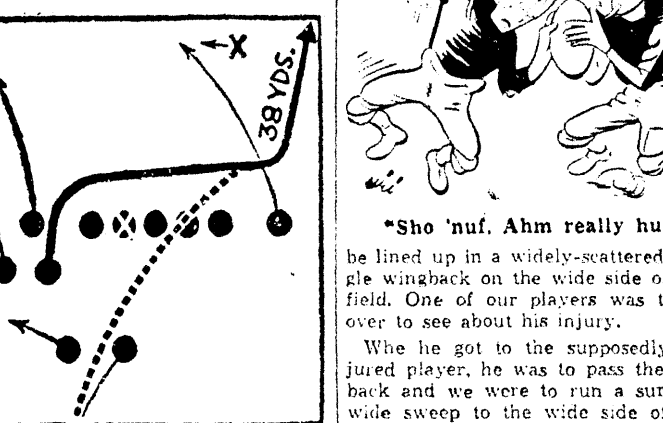

By Lieutenant Ray Wolf
(Head Coach, Georgia Pre-Flight School)
Our tailback was a great runner inside tackle. We figured that if we could work the inside tackle play at an opportune time, he would act as though he was injured after being tackled. One or two teammates were to sympathize with him.

As our opponents became concerned about his hard luck, our team would be lined up in a widely-scattered angle wingback on the wide side of the field. One of our players was to go over to see about his injury.

When he got to the supposedly injured player, he was to pass the ball back and we were to run a surprise wide sweep to the wide side of the field.

When the man got to the injured player, and was about ready to flip the ball back to our safety man, the injured player reached over, put his hand on the ball and said, in a southern drawl: "Sho 'nuf, Ahm really hurt."

This, of course, nullified the play and wasted all of our practice.

"He made it up in the huddle."

Tigers Have Strongest Team In History Of Schools' Grid Relations

The Northeast Junior college Indians have always had hard, close battles with the Ouachita college Tigers. Arkadelphia, Ark., but from all indications the Tribe is in for its hardest rap of all Friday afternoon when it engages with the Arkansians at Arkadelphia.

The game will be the Redskins' only tilt of the season away from home and one that was "cancelled" at the signing of the fall campaign but reinstated recently. Ouachita, like all other Arkansas colleges, excepting the University of Arkansas, announced long in the summer that football was being sidetracked for the duration of the war.

The game which N. J. C. had on schedule was automatically cancelled. It then the Tigers decided to play anyway, and players from the schools are Henderson State, Magnolia A. and Arkansas Tech and other institutions in the neighborhood that had left the grid flocked to Ouachita, giving the Bengals the strongest team they have ever boasted.

Ouachita Friday night defeated the Louisiana Inter-collegiate champions, Louisiana Normal, 6 to 0, and the result of that game indicated trouble ahead for the Malonemen. It is remembered that Louisiana Normal at Louisiana Tech, 10-0; that Tech defeated Southeastern Louisiana, 56-14, and N. J. C. stopped Southeastern 34-0, thus rating Ouachita an even points better than N. J. C.

But the Tribe's best performance against the Tigers have been when it is rated the underdog. Notably in 1935 when the locals won, 6-0. In 1935 Coach Malone took 17 boys from Arkadelphia and on the first play of the game Boley Lemak went 36 yards on a fake kick for a touchdown. Next kicking by Frank Moseley kept the Indians out of danger for the rest of the game as they protected their lead to win.

The underdog Tribe came through stellar kicking again in 1940 when Ouachita was topped 9-0. In that game Ouachita amassed 17 first downs against only two for the Tribe, but the locals covered a blocked punt for a touchdown in the first quarter and tapered off with a field goal by Abraham while the kicking of Sievers, now a Monroe police officer, kept the Tigers at bay.

The Indians are hoping for the best scoring break and praying for kicking to triumph again Friday. The possibility of good punting rests in the possibility of Halfback Jack

REMEMBER THIS ONE . . . ?

Down in Dixie they're still talking about Johnny Butler's game-clinching 61-yard run against Alabama in 1939. Little Johnny, substitute for the famed Cafego, reversed his field several times as he outmaneuvered and shook off 'Bama tacklers.

TIGERS TO PLAY HERE; LIONS GO TO ALEXANDRIA

Neville Meets Rayville And Ouachita Faces Bolton In Week's Tilts

Both Monroe high school grid teams will be in action this weekend, the triumphant Ouachita Parish High school Lions, again champions of the North Louisiana Class AA circuit, invading Alexandria for a non-conference game Friday night with the Bolton Bears, and Neville High school's Tigers meeting the Rayville Hornets here Friday afternoon in Neville stadium.

The Neville-Rayville clash is the only game scheduled to be played here this week.

The Lions, who surprised the Byrd Yellow Jackets with some razzle-dazzle spread formation trickery in the third quarter to gain a 19-14 victory over the Jackets and reclaim the Double-A title for the second straight year Friday, apparently came out of the Yellow Jacket scrap with no more than the usual bruises and sore muscles, but a complete check of the Ouachita physical condition won't be made until tomorrow.

The triumph was quite a feather in the cap of Coach George Riser, the former Louisiana Tech and Ruston High school athlete, who served as assistant coach here from 1932 until he was made head coach this year when Mack Avants became a physical instructor for the navy. His charges started sluggishly, just as they did a year ago, but improved steadily as the season progressed and by the time the Lions reached the stage where conference games were coming up they were playing outstanding ball . . . and this was accomplished with only two regulars held over from the team that won the district title and reached the state finals last year.

Regarding the spread formation which caught Byrd unprepared and even dazed the fans since it was the first time the Lions had ever used it, Coach Riser last night revealed he had been considering the spread and its variations since last season.

"I talked over the spread with Mac Givens (assistant coach here last year) last season and when we went up to play his Smackover team last month he asked me if I was using the spread," Riser said. "I had planned to try it out on Smackover but decided to hold back and spring it on Haynesville. We got along without it against Haynesville, but it really served its purpose in bewildering the Jackets who had not been drilled in a defense against it."

Only eight plays were run from the spread but the Lions, with Richard Pate and Jerry Gregg handling the ball, piled up a total of 113 yards on the eight plays but had two plays nullified, one a 14-yard pass and the other a three-yard gain. Even with the nullified plays, which were among the shortest gains from the spread, the Lions averaged better than 14 yards each try. The first three plays from the spread netted 13 yards.

The Neville Tigers will be going up against Rayville in their best condition of the year and fresh from a 30-13 triumph over the Clarks High school Lumberjacks. Last year the Hornets trounced the Tigers, 12-7.

The Bengals will have only one other game after the Hornet invasion, meeting the strong Class A title contenders, the Bastrop Rams, here on Thanksgiving day.

Bishop being able to play. Bishop, nursing an injury that kept him off the field last week, was believed lost to the Tribe for the season, but Coach Malone said last night he hoped Bishop would be available for some service especially when punting would be needed at crucial moments of play. If Bishop isn't able to play, the punting will rest almost entirely on the shoulders of Jim Coyle.

Clayton "Red" Brown, who was declared out for the season because of an eye infection, is still "on the doubtful list" Coach Malone said last night. He will be used only if attending physicians say his eye ailment won't be further aggravated.

Coach Bill Walton has an all junior-senior line at the four-year institution. The forwards will be considerably heavier than Malone's aggregation, but the backfields will be about evenly matched in weight. MISSOURI 6; OKLAHOMA 6

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Missouri's Tigers, held at bay for three periods, clawed back from the brink of defeat today to tie a surprisingly stubborn Oklahoma eleven, 6 to 6.

The tie, fought out before a homecoming crowd of 20,000, made it practically certain that Missouri would repeat as Big Six champions, for only weak Kansas still stands in its path.

Through the first three quarters the explosive fireworks which the Tigers use to score lightning touchdowns blew up in their faces while Oklahoma crashed over a touchdown in the second period.

Decidedly the underdogs, the Sooners fought down to Missouri's 13-yard marker in the third, and threatened again before the invaders swung out in the fourth.

GRID IRONIES

By Babe Hollingbery
(Head Coach, Washington State College)
We won a great game from Stanford in Pullman in 1938 on a play which was made up on the field by Eddie Goddard.

It worked—so I kissed him. Otherwise, I'd probably have taken his suit away.

We had been using a shift in which the backs lined up on one side and the line unbalanced to the other. From this we ran and used a flood pass to the weak side.

He made it up in the huddle."

He made up the following play: The ball was snapped to the passing back, who faked the flood to the left. Goddard hesitated five counts, cut out to the right, took the pass as diagrammed and ran 38 yards to score the winning points.

By Lieutenant Ray Wolf
(Head Coach, Georgia Pre-Flight School)
Our tailback was a great runner inside tackle. We figured that if we could work the inside tackle play at an opportune time, he would act as though he was injured after being tackled. One or two teammates were to sympathize with him.

As our opponents became concerned about his hard luck, our team would be lined up in a widely-scattered single wingback on the wide side of the field. One of our players was to go over to see about his injury.

Who he got to the supposedly injured player, he was to pass the ball back and we were to run a surprise wide sweep to the wide side of the field.

When the man got to the injured player, and was about ready to flip the ball back to our safety man, the injured player reached over, put his hand on the ball and said, in a southern drawl: "Sho' nuf, Ahm really hurt."

This, of course, nullified the play and wasted all of our practice.

AMAZON VALLEY YIELDS RUBBER

Natives Get Product In Quantities Exceeding All Expectations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—Down in the steamy jungles of central America and the Amazon valley of South America, natives are hacking their way into little or never before explored wilds and are bringing out natural rubber in quantities greatly exceeding expectations.

Trading posts not unlike those once set up in pioneer fur trading days in this country are springing up throughout the 16 Latin-American republics with which the state department has made agreements for exploitation of wild rubber resources. The board of economic warfare maps out the program, the rubber reserve company, subsidiary of the reconstruction finance corporation, executes it.

The arrival in Dallas, Tex., early this month of Tom Braniff, airline operator, with a plane bearing 4,000 pounds of crude rubber from Nicaragua, exemplifies the rapid strides being made in the efforts of the United States to obtain in the western hemisphere the rubber supplies to partially offset the loss of normal sources when the Japanese overran the East Indies.

The rubber was loaded in the plane at Managua, and in a matter of hours was delivered to this country, the first such shipment to come by air from Nicaragua. It was the forerunner of many to follow.

Transportation of crude rubber imports from Latin-American countries, however, will be accomplished largely by boat, an official of the BEW said. The present stockpile of crude rubber already on hand is considered sufficient to meet all essential requirements for more than a year.

The BEW has made arrangements so that whenever planes en route to the United States have available cargo space, they should be loaded with crude rubber.

Speaking of the Nicaragua rubber resources, the BEW official said:

"There had been a hat full of rubber shipped out here in 30 years. On the basis of previous surveys, we estimated when we started this program that importations from Nicaragua might average 200 tons a year. It begins to look like we may get five or ten times that much."

The same pleasant surprise in rubber yields is turning up on the program gets under way in the tropics everywhere in the western hemisphere. Production in Panama was described as two or three times more than expected, and a survey just about completed in Mexico indicates that the yield there will be considerably more than in any of the central American countries.

Let someone might interpret these results to mean there would be any less need for rubber conservation, the official warned that even with above-expectation importations, shipments of natural rubber still would be woefully small and destined only for military and naval needs.

It was last April 13 that the BEW received an order from President Roosevelt to initiate a program of rubber conservation. The program, which was possible and compatible with the good neighbor policy to tap the vast and mostly unknown natural resources of this hemisphere.

The personnel and industrial organization of large American companies long established in Latin-American countries were utilized as much as possible. For example, the big chewing gum and copra industries, with their thousands of native employees, were called upon to serve.

Almost impenetrable jungles had to be cleared. Equipment had to be rushed down by boat, train and plane from American factories—machines, tin snips for catching the valuable latex, medical supplies. Even outboard motors were hurried in, to be attached to native canoes and boats and go put-putting deep into regions where only the cry of bird and beast had been heard.

Many natives had to be taught, and still are being taught, how to recognize rubber trees and how to go about tapping them. The whole program is being developed so that they bring their latex to the "trading posts," which may be only a thatched roof building in a remote section of a country. From these original gathering points the latex is concentrated to still more focal points and so on until ready for shipment to the United States.

Under the agreements reached between the state department and the Latin-American governments, this country is to acquire all of the natural rubber produced in excess of their own essential needs.

The rubber reserve company must finance much besides actual purchasing of the rubber. In some instances roads and bridges must be built to get supplies in and out of the region, boats brought and transported overland to rivers that go inland to the rubber tree country.

In some instances, rubber-producing regions are so remote that transportation of latex to more accessible areas is most practicable by air. That is particularly true in the vast Amazon river valley of South America.

OPEN WAR PLANTS TO GIRLS 16, 17

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—The labor department opened the gates of war plants today to girls 16 and 17 years old.

Secretary of Labor Perkins, under authority of the Walsh-Healey public contracts act which permits her to exempt employers from the 18-year age limit for women on federal contracts, dropped the age requirement to 16 to permit more girls to take their places on the production lines.

She acted at the request of the war and navy departments and the maritime commission which found that continuation of the 18-year limit would "impair seriously the conduct of government business by standing in the way of the successful prosecution of the war in which the United States is engaged and which requires the complete utilization of the human and national resources of the nation."

The order specifies that the girls may not be employed contrary to state laws governing the number of hours

'Sixteen Of Us Had Died In Boat Of Original 24'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—"Sixteen of us had died in the lifeboat. Of the original 24, only eight of us remained. One day a large bird flew into the boat. We killed it and ate it raw. Another time a pole covered with barnacles and small shellfish floated by. We picked it clean and ate it."

These excerpts from an account of 38 days spent in a shrapnel-riddled lifeboat by survivors of a merchant ship sunk in the Pacific were released today by the navy department.

The ship, the Donerail, was sunk by a submarine in mid-Pacific en route from Suva, Fiji Islands, to Vancouver, B. C., two days after the attack on Pearl Harbor but the navy said that "it was not until eight haggard men landed at a west coast port, months after the loss of their ship, that the full facts became known."

Sigfred K. Brunn, radio operator of the Donerail, whose address was unknown here, was spokesman for the program. He told how shells from the submarine killed most of the crew and sank the Donerail without a trace. Twenty-four survivors, crowded into one boat, took stock of their situation and found little to encourage them.

Many were wounded by shrapnel, some seriously; all were thinly clad, and the night was cold.

The boat was riddled with shrapnel holes. In spite of the frantic efforts of bailers, the water rushed in and the boat sank level with the water, where its air tanks held it with the gunwales awash.

That first night four men died from wounds and exposure. After the dead men's clothing had been removed and distributed among the neediest of those remaining, their bodies were put over the side.

With the coming of daylight the sea subsided and the boat was finally raised by plugging the holes with wood, rags and wax. Most of the provisions had been washed away. All that remained were 40 tins of canned milk, a few salt-water-soaked biscuits and three small bottles of vitamin pills. The water-bearer was three-fourths full.

There was talk of determining their position and plotting a course to the nearest land but the second mate died without regaining consciousness. He had been the only survivor from the wheelhouse watch and the only one who knew the ship's position.

Brunn supplied a rough estimate and a sail was rigged in the hope of reaching the Hawaiian Islands. The boat, however, was flat-bottomed, without a keel, and would sail only in the direction the wind was blowing. So, from the force and direction of the prevailing winds, it was decided to set a course for the island of Tarawa, 2,000 miles to the southwest.

There was almost always a stiff wind, and the seas were heavy. The men suffered most at night, when the cold penetrated their soaked clothing. During the next ten days, seven of the more severely wounded died.

On the 14th day the captain was lost overboard. He was taking his turn at the tiller, a frail makeshift affair, when it broke as he leaned on it and he was thrown into the sea. They threw him a lifejacket, which he reached, and an effort was made to bring the boat about and go back but the wind and sea was too strong.

During the next 14 days several more men died from wounds, exposure and starvation.

After 30 days, the only food left was a little milk and the spoiled biscuits. Occasionally they caught a flying fish, and once a large bird flew into the boat. It was promptly killed and eaten raw. Another time a pole covered with small shellfish floated by. It was picked clean and eaten.

One man went out of his mind, but he was not violent and was no problem to the boat.

On the 38th day, the weak voice of the lookout raised a joyful cry. On the horizon there rose a dim, misty shape which proved not to be a cloud or a mirage.

Swiftly closer to the island, but it became apparent that strong currents beset the shore and it would be impossible to make land without rowing. The exhausted men could scarcely lift the heavy oars, but their efforts were sighted by natives and 10 canoes put out to meet them and guide them to a landing.

From this island, which the navy did not identify, the men finally made a rendezvous with a rescue ship after careful planning and at length reached United States soil.

or time of day they may work, and imposes conditions of employment to apply generally.

SAY PROFIT MUST TAKE 2ND PLACE

Archbishops Assert It Must Be Made Subservient To Common Good

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(Sunday)—(P)—The Catholic archbishops and bishops of the United States declared in a statement today that "in the post-war world, the profit element of industry and commerce must be made subservient to the common good of communities and nations if we are to have a lasting peace."

The members of the hierarchy drafted the statement during a two-day session here. They declared that "in the discharge of our pastoral responsibility, we are gravely concerned about the world peace of tomorrow."

"Secularism cannot write a real and lasting peace," the statement said. "Its narrow vision does not encompass the whole man, it cannot evaluate the spirituality of the human soul and the supreme good of all mankind."

"Exploitation cannot write a real and lasting peace. Where greedy might and selfish expediency are made the substitutes of justice there can be no securely ordered world."

"Totalitarianism, whether Nazi, Communist or Fascist, cannot write a real and lasting peace. The state that usurps total power, by that very fact, becomes a despot to its own people and a menace to the family of nations."

"The spirit of Christianity can write a real and lasting peace in justice and charity to all nations, even to those not Christian."

Commenting that war brings about normal conditions in the life of a nation, the hierarchy said:

The church government has announced that the war emergency makes it necessary to employ an unprecedented number of women in industry. While we are wholeheartedly cooperating with our government in the prosecution of the war, we must, as shepherds of souls, express our grave concern about the Christian home in our beloved country in these crucial days. When mothers are engaged in industry a serious child problem necessarily arises.

"Every effort must be made to limit, as far as necessity permits, the employment of mothers in industry, particularly young mothers. Due provision * * * should be made for the day care of the children of working mothers. The health and moral welfare of mothers employed in industry should be thoroughly safeguarded."

Saying, "Let us all unite in praying for a victory and a peace acceptable to God," the hierarchy proposed that Tuesday, December 8, the feast of the immaculate conception of our blessed mother, be set aside as a special day of prayer.

On the aerial war front, MacArthur's bombers struck in the Solomons at an enemy convoy off New Georgia Island, presumably moving on the south-east. A heavily loaded transport of 12,000 tons was set ablaze by bombers which dropped their lethal loads from low altitude despite anti-aircraft fire.

(This news of the Jap convoy came while reports from Washington told of navy battles in progress in the Solomon Island area.)

The aerial blow at the transport followed the successful bombing of four troop-laden ships in the harbor at Buin in the North Solomons two days ago and the setting ablaze yesterday of another troop transport in that harbor.

In the New Guinea land fighting, the communiqué made it apparent that the annihilation of the Japs at Oivi, where they had held out stubbornly for a week, broke the back of the enemy defenses. Today, General MacArthur announced that an Australian column had driven the Japs eastward from Linow and Wairoi—scene of the oft-bombed Wairoi bridge—and had seized the main Kumusi river crossing. That is in an area some 30 miles from Buin.

Ahead of the Japs, ready to trap them, an American force closed in.

Under steady bombardment from the air, the Japs suffered heavy casualties and even were abandoning their wounded in their frantic flight.

The Allied advance on Buin is the climax of a drive across the tortuous jungle trails from Port Moresby on the southeast New Guinea coast.

On the 14th day the captain was lost overboard. He was taking his turn at the tiller, a frail makeshift affair, when it broke as he leaned on it and he was thrown into the sea. They threw him a lifejacket, which he reached, and an effort was made to bring the boat about and go back but the wind and sea was too strong.

POST CARD REPORTS LARRY ALLEN WELL

BERN, Switzerland, Nov. 14.—(P)—The first direct word of the safety and well-being of Larry Allen came today in a post card from the Associated Press correspondent who has been a prisoner of the Axis since a British destroyer was sunk from under him during a commando raid on Tobruk in mid-September.

The card, to the International Red Cross at Geneva, bore no date and gave no clue to his whereabouts.

It said only that he was "all right," a war prisoner of the Italians, well treated and expects soon to be transferred to a prisoners' camp. He said he would write again then to give his address.

The post card probably was a considerable time in the mails so the question still is unanswered whether Allen would be freed by the British recapture of Tobruk yesterday. Although he was known to have been captured there the Axis has not disclosed where he was being held.

Nurses will be 'WOMEN OF YEAR'

FORT DIX, N. J., Nov. 14.—(P)—Two army nurses who were among the last to leave Corregidor before that Philippine island fortress fell to the Japanese will share the honor of being named 1942 "Woman of the Year."

They are Captain Florence McDonald, now assistant superintendent of nurses at the Fort Dix station hospital, and Lieutenant Helen L. Summers, now stationed at Mitchell Field, N. Y.

The awards will be presented to them in New York's Madison Square Garden next Thursday by Mrs. Wendell Wilkie on behalf of the Women's International exposition.

It is given annually for outstanding "service to the nation by a woman." The first such award, made by the women's organization in 1929, went to Amelia Earhart.

JOHNSON SETS WEEK OF 'WOMEN AT WAR'

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 14.—(P)—Governor Paul B. Johnson today proclaimed the week of November 25-28 as "women at war" week in Mississippi and urged that citizens of the state "give their support and cooperation to the women of this state" by buying war bonds and promoting the sale of bonds.

The governor pointed out that Mississippi's share of the November war bond quota is $4,200,000 and urged purchases to make the state's record for that month nationally outstanding.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(P)—Stocks

generally crawled over a narrow trail in today's brief market session.

While sentiment was bolstered by further good war news from Egypt, Africa and Russia, buyers of many recently buoyant peace issues inclined to cash profits on the idea the run-up in this group may have been overdone and that, notwithstanding latest Allied successes, an all-out victory might be a long drawn-out affair. Conversely, pressure on armament securities lessened appreciably although the majority did little in the way of recovery.

Transfers for the two hours ran to about 250,000 shares, one of the smallest turnovers for the past several months.

Bonds maintained a moderately steady course. Major commodities were uneven.

SALVATION IS CALLED SIMPLE

Dr. Millard Tells Of God's Grace For Sinful World

"Calling Upon the Lord," was the theme of the sermon by Dr. W. J. Millard at the First Presbyterian church, Friday night.

He said in part:

"When Paul was writing to the church in Rome, he wished to make the plan of salvation as simple as possible to a group of people who had not hitherto had much instruction concerning the salvation which Christ offered to those who believed in him. It seems that he arrived at complete simplicity when he said, 'Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.' Salvation through Christ is just as simple as that. Many people and churches have muddled the waters and minds of men by making it more complex and difficult. Yet God has taken pains to preserve the simplicity of the redemption which he freely offers by recording the way in three different books of the Bible under three different circumstances in order that every one might know without mistake that all that is necessary is to call upon the name of the Lord to be saved.

"This salvation, of course, is from sin. Sin is the worst scourge in the experience of man. It weakens the body, poisons the mind, and condemns the soul; for if the Scriptures teach one thing, they consistently teach that the soul that has sinned is by that fact marked for death.

"Yet there are many people who, in spite of the simple way by which they may be saved from sin, have not accepted God's plan. Possibly most of these people do not feel the need of salvation. Surely one will not want to be saved until he first realizes that he is lost. We must, therefore, look into our own souls by the light of God's righteousness to see if there is not much evil there that should be forgiven and eradicated. Moral reforms are good insofar as they go, but they often fail in the future and are certainly helpless to secure forgiveness for those sins which we have committed in the past. It is against God that we have sinned and it is God who must forgive. Therefore, the only way by which we can escape the penalty of our past and the evil power of life in the future is to accept God's way of escape which he has carefully planned and put into operation through Christ Jesus. This can be done by asking for his forgiveness in a sincere way."

KURT THIES IS P.-T. A. SPEAKER

Discusses Community Welfare To Central Grammar Group

The Central Grammar school P.-T. A. met in the school auditorium Wednesday afternoon with the guest speaker, Kurt Thies, of the state department of public welfare.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. B. G. Cole, and Mrs. Frank Patterson led in prayer, followed by pledge to the flag. As program chairman, she introduced Mr. Thies.

Discussing "Community Welfare," he outlined the work of his department. The organization was set up in 1936 to give aid to the needy of whom there are four general classifications as follows:

1. Old age over 65 who lack resources.

2. Children who are dependent; widows with small children who have no father or other bread winners in the family.

3. Aged to the blind.

4. Miscellaneous groups requiring assistance and not included in the three previous classifications.

Under the department of public welfare, people obtain food stamps when eligibility has been determined. This eligibility is determined through case workers who investigate all cases.

The speaker said that 50 per cent of Louisiana people over 65 years of age need aid. He said the largest number were farmers who had failed through the years to accumulate a surplus.

Residence requirements he said had of course to be determined in all cases.

Miss Lela Germany read an article by E. S. Culver.

The president stated that in December, the P.-T. A. will meet at night so that fathers can attend.

Mrs. R. A. Gorton, vice-president, resigned because of removal from Monroe and in her place Mrs. Patterson was unanimously elected.

The two rooms to tie for attendance records were those of Mrs. Eulalia McCoy, 2-A, and Miss Eleona Brunsmaide, 5-A.

FOOD PROMISED BEATEN PEOPLE

Lend-Lease Supplies Will Go To Areas Taken From Germans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(AP)—While the Yanks in North Africa drove an unexpected blow into the Nazi breadbasket, the cold, hungry and disarmed peoples of axis-occupied lands had President Roosevelt's pledge today that food, clothing and fighting equipment would be provided them with the coming of the allies.

By presidential order, lend-lease supplies will be sped to the people of French North Africa—where American capture of vital axis-bound food and materials in recent days is expected to put morale-damaging cramps in German stomachs and production lines alike.

In a strategic move aimed at softening even pseudo-resistance to the spreading late yesterday made it clear that the same consideration would be given any territory occupied by United Nations troops, "if it is humanly within our powers."

Meanwhile, the office of war information pooled studies from domestic and enemy sources and predicted that American occupation of North Africa would hit Germany heavily in food and raw material sources and slash some of the Nazis' blockade-running supply lines from Japan.

Specifically, the predictions said the North Africa coup would cost Germany annually 50,000 sheep, thousands of barrels of wheat and flour, 80,000 kilograms of olive oil, 2,000,000 tons of phosphate, 2,000 tons of rubber, small but important shipments of cobalt, manganese, molybdenum and antimony, and quantities of cocoa, coffee, tobacco, dates and bananas.

In addition, OWI said Germany had been getting some tin, tungsten and rubber from Japan, frequently using North African ports.

"There can be little doubt that loss of these supplies will hit Nazi war production seriously," OWI said.

"More, the loss will hit German people in the stomach—a good way to break morale."

GRADUATION HELD FOR NAVIGATORS

Captain Charles V. Williams Delivers Principal Address At Post

The development of fearless leadership in the face of overwhelming odds was the keynote of the address delivered by Captain Charles V. Williams, principal speaker at the graduation of Class 42-15 of the Monroe AAF Navigation school yesterday.

Captain Williams, who is Plans and Training officer of the Monroe field and holds the distinguished service cross for bravery in the last World War, told the graduating class of air navigators that although they now had a sound background in navigation, there was much to be learned that only experience could give them.

"Be confident at all times," he said. "Keep an open mind. Learn to make changes and adopt newer and better methods."

Captain Williams spoke after the opening of the exercises by First Lieutenant Philip H. Oxnam, Protestant chaplain of the post, who gave the invocation.

The speaker was introduced by Major William R. Nevitt, commanding officer of navigation training groups. He told how Captain Williams won the distinguished service cross during the last World War, when, as a corporal in a tank outfit, he rescued his injured lieutenant under enemy fire.

After Captain Williams' brief talk, Colonel Norris B. Harbold, commanding officer of the Monroe AAF Navigation school, handed to each new navigator his diploma, and Major Nevitt presented to each his navigator's wings.

Captain Theodore B. Merrill, secretary of the navigation school, then administered the oath of office to the class as second lieutenants.

The program came to an end with a benediction by First Lieutenant John P. Finke, Catholic chaplain of the post.

"As an officer greater responsibilities will be given you," Captain Williams told the new air navigators. "The lives of a trained crew and valuable equipment will be your responsibility."

"We are proud of you and proud to send you out to navigate our bombers and transports over the entire world."

Present on the platform at the exercises was Senator D. Y. Smith, of Sterling. Also present were Dr. W. L. Bendel and Gordon Cummings.

Music for the occasion was played by the navigation school band under the direction of Warrant Officer Willard I. Shepherd.

War Girl Of The Week

MISS STELLA JONES

"Blond, vivacious, and efficient" will introduce our first "War Girl of the Week," Miss Stella Jones, chief clerk of the engineering department of the Monroe sub-depot. Miss Jones not only serves as secretary to the engineering officer, Lieutenant Enos Payne, but also supervises the work of the eleven girls under her jurisdiction.

Stella was born in Electric, Ala., as one of the eight Jones sisters, who, early in life, moved into Louisiana to make their home at Vivian. It was here she attended grammar and high school, and in her senior year decided upon a career in the business world. After taking a post-graduate course at Vivian High school, she entered the Meadows-Draughon Business college in Shreveport. After nine months of diligent study, Miss Jones turned to practical application of her profession by spending the summer substituting for various city stenographers on vacation, and in the fall stepped into a position in the office of a downtown department store.

Having ambition and foresight, Stella chose as her next job that of under-clerk typist, civilian position, at the Sub-Depot section of Barksdale field. She accepted this placement October 13, 1941 and today, just a little over a year, has climbed to the top of the ladder to the position of chief clerk.

The Sub-Depot Engineering office was organized for the maintenance and repair of aircraft. The main project of the department is to keep all airplanes of the Navigation school in operation. Much of the credit of this smooth running plan should go to Stella Jones, whose knowledge of her duties and those under her supervision, is helping the entire department to "Keep Them Flying."

Dancing and movies are the two favorite lines of recreation of this charming, five-foot-four-inch lass. She also spends much of her leisure constructively studying advanced methods of shorthand and reading, with book length novels in magazines as a special treat. This business girl's pet peeve, and probably that of nearly every woman, is the current shortage of silk hose.

When asked about her new home here, Miss Jones said: "I like Monroe very much. The people here are lovely and I am proud to be one of them."

Plans for the future must be put aside until she has done her part in helping behind the lines toward winning of this war and then, well, "it's time for things like wedding rings—"

REGISTRATION OF PROPERTY BEGINS

Landlords In Monroe-Bastrop Area Must List All Rentals

Registration of residential rental property by landlords will begin Monday, November 16, in the Monroe-Bastrop Defense Rental area.

John L. Madden, area rent director-at-large, pointed out that this registration is only for landlords of dwelling units, including houses and apartments, and that registration for hotels and rooming houses will be held at a date to be announced later.

Federal rent control went into effect in Ouachita, Morehouse and Union parishes on the first of this month, with a ceiling placed on rents as of March 1, 1942.

The forms, known as registration statements, will be available at the area rent office, 306 O-achita National bank building.

Landlords are requested to read carefully the instructions outlined on the face of the registration form. Each house, apartment or similar rental accommodation must be registered if it is either rented or offered for rent.

Each landlord receiving rent from one or two roomers must register such rental accommodations at this time. If rent is received from more than two roomers, the person receiving such rent will register later as a rooming house operator. A person may rent a house and in turn rent rooms; if so, he registers his rental units since he is also a landlord.

Registration forms are in triplicate—one for the rent Director-Attorney's office, one for the landlord and one for the tenant.

When the statement is received at the area rent office, it will be carefully inspected, and if it appears to be in order as to the rent being charged and services provided, with respect to the maximum rent date of March 1, 1942, the carbon copies will be sent to the landlord and tenant, and the original will be retained in the area rent office.

Instructions to the tenant are on the reverse side of his copy of the statement and he is thus notified that unless otherwise instructed by the area rent director-at-large, he is to pay no more rent than the maximum legal rent as stated in the section marked by the heavy green arrow.

In the event the tenant disagrees with any of the statements in the form, he is to list his objections and return his copy of the statement to the rent office within 15 days. If the tenant does not disagree with any of the facts, he keeps his copy of the statement.

The instructions also tell the tenant he cannot be evicted for refusing to pay more than the maximum legal rent.

Instructions to the landlord are on the reverse side of his copy of the registration statement. He is told that when the present tenant vacates, and the premises are rented to another tenant, he must show the new tenant the registration form and have him sign it. Then, within five days of the change in tenancy, the landlord must report the change on a form which the area rent office provides.

A false statement on the registration form or an evasion or attempted evasion of the maximum rent regulation may subject the offender to a $5,000 fine or imprisonment for one year, or both.

Mr. Madden urged landlords to obtain their registration forms and fill them out as early as possible, to avoid unnecessary delays.

Miss Jane Dawkins And Captain William Hudson Married At Grace Church

Impressive Ceremony Performed Saturday

Reception At Home Of Judge And Mrs. Ben Dawkins Follows Nuptials Here

A brilliant nuptial event characterized by dignity, solemnity, and elegant simplicity and claiming the affectionate interest of a vast number of friends in this section of the state, was that of Miss Jane Gordon Dawkins, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Benjamin Cornwell Dawkins of this city, and Captain William Thompson Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell Hudson of Alexandria, La., Saturday night, November 14, at eight o'clock.

Long before the nuptial hour, Grace Episcopal church, fragrant with the pungent odor of chrysanthemums, was filled to overflowing with a fashionable throng of guests, many of whom occupied the pews set apart for intimate friends. These seats were marked with clusters of white chrysanthemums.

High on the altar, fringed with white chrysanthemums, cathedral tapers in pyramid formation burned in white candlesticks. Chrysanthemums also fringed the choir railing where low tapers were placed at regular intervals. The stained glass windows were illuminated by candles burning in white candelabra encircled with English ivy. Candles also flamed high from the balcony left entwined with graceful lengths of English ivy.

Superb white chrysanthemums, overflowing from white wrought iron candelabra of graduated length supporting white tapers, formed a flowery candelit enclosure for the wedding party.

While the guests were being seated by the groomsmen, Richard Sedler, Jr., Lieutenant McVea Oliver and James Stader Richardson, the organist, Leon Hammonds, rendered a pre-nuptial concert and accompanied the soloists, Mrs. Clyde Paine who sang, "Because," and Mrs. John Thurmon of Ruston who sang, "You Truly." Organ music flooded the church before the nuptial hour and throughout the entire ceremony. Most impressive was the candle-lighting ceremony performed by two acolytes, Alynor Montgomery, Jr., and Elmer Slagle, Jr.

The bride's attendants all wore distinctive models of white chiffon, long and full, with tight fitting bodice, sweetheart neckline, three-quarter length sleeves puffed at the shoulder. They wore single strands of pearls, long white kid gloves and chaplets of fresh American Beauty roses. A dramatic touch of color was created by the arm bouquets of gorgeous American Beauty roses tied with long lengths of wide, crimson satin ribbon.

The maid of honor was Mrs. James Stader Richardson of Alexandria and the matron of honor was Mrs. Benjamin Dawkins, Jr., of Shreveport. The bridesmaids were Mrs. William Potts Clark of New Orleans, Miss Lela Germany and the bride's cousin, Miss Peggy Prindle of Tulsa, Okla.

The ring bearer was the bride's niece, Cynthia Ashley Dawkins. She carried the rings on a white satin pillow used by generations of brides in the family of the bride's mother. The flower girls were Helen Louise Theus, Caroline Cummings, Ashley Hamilton and Virginia Blanks. They wore diaphanous white gowns, exact replicas of those worn by the bridesmaids, and carried a single American Beauty rose. Coronets of fresh crimson roses were worn.

The bride, walking down the candlelit aisle on the arm of her father, wore the traditional ivory satin wedding gown, a Hattie Carnegie model fashioned along simple lines. The long, tight fitting shirred bodice with a cowl neckline was buttoned down the back with self-covered buttons. The sleeves were long and tight fitting, puffed at the shoulders, ending in points over the hands. The voluminous skirt ended in a court train over which fell an imported Belgian lace veil over a cloud of white tulle. It was caught to the hair with a coronet of orange blossoms from the wedding veil of the bride's mother. For some time, the bride's mother, Mrs. Benjamin Dawkins, Jr., carried by the bridegroom's mother on her wedding day. The beautiful star sapphire ring encircled with diamonds, a wedding gift from the bridegroom added distinction to an ensemble unsurpassed for classic beauty and elegant simplicity. The bride carried in her arms a sheaf of calla lilies caught with bridal tulle and satin ribbon.

thorn, Jr., of Alexandria, wore his army uniform.

The ceremony was performed by Reverend Edward F. Hayward, rector of Grace church.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Dawkins' home on Island Drive. Considerable beauty of detail was noted in every section of the spacious home. The wedding party stood in the drawing room directly beneath the double crystal chandeliers. In the background tall pedestals were overflowing with white chrysanthemums and candles gleamed in handsome silver candelabra. The scene was reflected in the handsome, floor length antique mirror.

Judge and Mrs. Dawkins stood with the wedding party to receive the guests. Mrs. Dawkins wore a poufde blue crepe model trimmed with blue sequins and a corsage of orchids. Mrs. Hudson, the bridegroom's mother, wore a French blue chiffon model with orchid corsage and a small close fitting hat of blue.

Assisting in the courtesies were: Misses Clara Virginia Terria, Beverly Russell, Violet Meyer, Dorothy Graves, Carrie Jo Hill, Sara Cole Morrison; Mrs. Harry Lemert, Mrs. Walter Kellogg, Mrs. Allan Sholars, Mrs. Morris Haas, Mrs. Clarence Oakley, Mrs. Clyde Brown, Mrs. John Sherrouse, Mrs. Thomas Hayes, Mrs. Howard Greene, Mrs. Edward Seymour, Mrs. John Beard, Mrs. J. Q. Graves, Mrs. Gordon Wright, Mrs. Amos Smelser, Mrs. Clyde Paine, Jr.

Trays of luscious chicken salad, a variety of confections, and salted almonds were passed by white and attendants. Punch was served from huge bowls of ice in which were frozen full blown red roses. The ice bowls were placed on glass top tables in the solarium and at other vantage points.

In the upstairs living room the wedding gifts were on display. Noted among the gifts were a complete chest of silver in the Fiddle and Thread pattern and two complete sets of Spode china. A magnificent collection of crystal in the Olive and Wreath pattern was also noted among the gifts. Noted also were gifts of linens, bric-a-brac, objets d'art, a silver tea and coffee service and considerable electrical equipment.

Before departing on their honeymoon, the bride and bridegroom at the wedding cake, a luscious confection in pyramid shape surmounted with a crystalized urn overflowing with fresh white lilies and placed on a silver rimmed reflector. The bride's table, developed exclusively in silver was overlaid with imported point Venise lace and adorned at either end with low arched bowls filled with white chrysanthemums and calla lilies. White tapers gleamed in antique silver candelabra. Tall silver candelabra held salted almonds and wedding ring mints.

The bride changed her wedding tulle for a smart tailor of slate blue dress with a burgundy colored hat, purse and shoes of alligator. The corsage of orchids completed the beautiful costume.

Captain and Mrs. Hudson will honeymoon in New Orleans, enroute to Albuquerque, N. M., where Captain Hudson is squadron commander of the 38th School Squadron at the government air base.

Mrs. Hudson, member of one of the pioneer families of this state on both her paternal and maternal side, and long prominent in cultural, civic and social affairs, is one of the most popular members of the young people's organization of the Neville high school and Mary Baldwin college, and has been a prominent figure in Junior League circles ever since her graduation. She was a member of the Spitzer club until disqualified by marriage. Her paternal grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Dawkins, originally of South Carolina who resided for many years in Farmerville. Her maternal grandparents are Mrs. Henry Wyatt McLeod and the late Captain McLeod of Ruston. The bride's mother was the former Alice McLeod.

Captain Hudson is a graduate of the Bolton high school, Alexandria, La., and the Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, with a bachelor of arts and science degree. He is a member of Delta Sigma Phi social fraternity and Delta Sigma Pi scholastic professional and honorary fraternity. He received his R. O. T. C. training at L. S. U. and was called into active duty August, 1941.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Miss Peggy Prindle of Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. Benjamin Dawkins, Jr., and daughter Cynthia of Shreveport, Judge and Mrs. Gaston L. Frank Breese Marries Miss Eula Beth Jones Ceremony Performed In Picturesque Methodist Church At Marshallville, Ga.

Claiming the interest of friends in this section of the south is the marriage of Miss Eula Beth Jones of Marshallville, Ga., and Lieutenant Frank Chandler Breese, Jr., of this city.

The wedding was solemnized at the picturesque, ivy-covered Methodist church in Marshallville. White dahlias and chrysanthemums formed the setting for the ceremony performed by Reverend J. A. Roundtree. The church was illuminated exclusively with white cathedral tapers placed in tall white candelabra of graduated lengths.

The organist, Mrs. Edward Frederick, played softly during the ceremony and accompanied the soloist, Miss Bettie McLemore, who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The groomsmen were Lieutenant Woodrow Yarnini of Dallas, Texas, and Robinsfield, Ga., and Major John H. Kerkin of Miami, Fla., and Camp Wheeler, Ga. Miss Bettie McLemore of Statesboro was maid of honor. She wore a gown of ice blue satin and carried a nosegay of old-fashioned garden flowers. Miss Rebecca Taylor of Fort Valley served as bride's maid. She wore a rose colored model and carried a nosegay of autumn flowers. Annandale Lester, flower girl, wore a floor length model of white net over yellow satin. Jerome Mascoe Walker was ring bearer for the double ring ceremony. He wore a soldier's uniform.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March the bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Captain Woodrow Yarnini of Dallas, Texas, and stationed in an old fashioned wedding gown perfectly styled according to the 1830's. The decolette basque was fashioned with tiny pleats and finished with a cording of ivory satin. The bouffant skirt over hooped skirts was gracefully draped on each side of the front panel with heron and child. Caught up in cascades of orange blossoms. The pleated flounce forming the train completed the beautiful and unusual contour of the gown. Over all fell the voluminous long veil held by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried an antique prayer book. The wedding gown an heirloom of over a hundred years, has been worn by generations of brides. It was last worn two years ago by Miss Mollie Irene Murph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Murph who was wedded to Opie L. Shelton, now in pursuit ship training at Victoria, Texas.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick Jones of Thronateska plantation. Her mother is the former Miss Louise Crocker. She is the fifth generation of her family to be born in the ancestral home still owned by the family. On her maternal side she is descended from Mrs. Eula McKinney Crocker of Macon and Marshallville and the late Miles L. Crocker of Marshallville. On her paternal side she is the granddaughter of the late Montora Cooper Jones and the late John Beaugrand Jones of Springfield Plantation near Marshallville. She is a graduate of the Marshallville High school and State college, Statesboro, where she has an outstanding student. She is listed in Who's Who in the Association of American colleges and universities. She is a member of the Lambda Theta Chi sorority, Alpha Psi Omega Dramatic fraternity and Mu Sigma national music fraternity. She is now a member of the Marshallville high school faculty.

Lieutenant Breese is the son of F. C. Breese of St. Louis, Miss., formerly of Monroe, La., and the late Dora

Montieth Breese of Monroe. On his maternal side he is descended from the late Captain Houston Montieth and the late Carolyn Fletcher Montieth of Long Reach, West Virginia, and later of Old Mentor, La., where they were engaged in early steamboating on the Otuchita river. His paternal grandparents were the late Joseph C. Breese and the late Agnes Wagner Breese of San Francisco, Calif. Lieutenant Breese attended Tulane university and Louisiana Polytechnic institute. He completed his education at Centenary college, Shreveport, La.

He is a member of Delta Sigma and Alpha Lambda Tau fraternities. His sisters are Mrs. F. L. Jones and Mrs. Bailey Grant of Monroe, La., Mrs. J. L. Gimler of New Orleans, La., and Mrs. J. L. Coom, Wickett, Texas.

After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Jones entertained with a reception at the home of Major and Mrs. W. J. Davis. The lace covered table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake surmounted with a soldier and his bride. The table was decorated with white chrysanthemums in silver compotes and lighted white tapers in silver holders completed the table decorations. The cake was cut by the bride and groom with a sword used by the Marquis de Lafayette at the cotillion when he visited Georgia. Dahlias were used profusely in the reception rooms.

The mother of the bride wore a becoming gown of green taffeta. She was assisted in entering by Mrs. J. P. Lester, Mrs. W. H. Lee, Mrs. D. L. Mascoe, Mrs. C. C. Walker, Mrs. F. B. Murph, Mrs. Boots Frederick, Mrs. J. M. Walker, Mrs. W. M. Slapp, Mrs. C. C. Haslam, Mrs. J. C. Walker, Mrs. H. H. Frederick, Mrs. J. C. Walker, Sr., and Misses Florence Lester, Dorothy Davis, Anne Lester, Claudia Lee, Dorothy Ware, and Katherine Slade.

The bride chose as her going away costume a wine colored suit with black accessories. She wore an orchid corsage. The couple left immediately after the reception for Louisiana where they visited relatives. Lieutenant Breese is stationed at Fort Jay, Governor's Island, New York, where he is in the Adjutant General's department. Out of town guests were Mrs. M. L. Crocker, grandmother of the bride, Major and Mrs. J. H. Gerken, Captain and Mrs. J. N. Bostick, Lieutenant Woodrow Yarnini, Sergeant Aaron Boggs, and Mrs. Benji Marcellio of Macon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones, Lamont, Fla., Mrs. Cooper Jones, Misses Dorothy and Betty Jones and John Barfield, Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Haslam, Miss Rebecca Taylor and Mrs. Leroy Fager of Fort Valley, and Dru Rambo, Griffin.

The Tri-Y Club of the Girl Reserves met on Wednesday afternoon with Dorothy Ann Mitchell, president of the club presiding. The devotional, which was the Girl Reserve Quest, was given by the devotional chairman, Sue Hunt. A treasurer's report was given by the club treasurer, Johnnie Daise. The club voted to participate with other clubs in the "Share-a-Dress" project, bringing books for the soldier recreation room and making scrapbooks. A report was given about the club's furnishing cookies for the U. S. O. cookie jar. The club voted to have a hike and picnic on Saturday, November 21. The program, including clever skits and short dramatics, was led by the program leader, Leta May King. The meeting was closed with the club code, slogan and purpose.

Flower Show And Tea Held By Garden Club

Event Presented At Home Of Dean And Mrs. Colvert Is Outstanding Affair

Those who attended the flower show and tea in the home of Dean and Mrs. C. C. Colvert, sponsored by the Welcome Garden club recently, will entertain pleasant memories for many days to come. Mrs. Jack Bagwell, president of the club, is due considerable credit for the exquisite arrangements found in every section of the spacious home. This flower show was decidedly different from all others taking place in Monroe. Choice flowers were gathered from the gardens of club members, and artistic arrangements were made to harmonize with the color scheme of each room. No points were given nor prizes awarded, as beauty and harmony was the object of each arrangement.

In the reception room suite the furnishings are maroon and green, and only crimson roses were used. Outstanding was the oblong arrangement of rosebuds on the mantle reflected in a handsome mirror, and flanked on either side by beautiful gold and onyx lamps with crystal prisms.

Handsome lemon colored dahlias, fashioned in a crescent shape on a flat vase line container, were placed on the coffee table in the sun-parlor, where the furnishings were shades of brown and yellow. The tea-wagon decorated by Mrs. Curtis Freeman, containing a horn-of-plenty overflowing with colorful fruits, and the one decorated by Mrs. A. S. Tidwell with pomegranates, Japanese persimmons, oranges, apples, and purple grapes, attracted much attention.

In the bedrooms were bridge tables covered with handsome linens and set with hand-painted plates, antique coffee cups and glassware to blend with the flowers and the color scheme of the room. For instance in the master bedroom where yellow predominated, there was a card table overlaid with orange linen which harmonized with the amber goblets used. In the library only orchid flowers were used, and the china on the card table was in shades of violet and pink. Masses of beautiful pink roses were placed in the guest chamber to accentuate the white and pink of the color theme.

The dining table was overlaid with an exquisite cloth bordered with handmade Brazilian lace. The central decor was of large, white, lacy, spoon chrysanthemums with superb white Henry Robinson chrysanthemums and maiden hair fern at the base. On the buffet was a mass of white Doty chrysanthemums in a silver bowl, placed on a reflector and flanked by tall white tapers in silver holders.

Mrs. Kate Morrice and Mrs. C. N. Jones presided over a silver tea and coffee urns at either end of the beautiful appointed table, from which a variety of confections were served. Hostesses were: Mrs. C. C. Colvert, Mrs. Jack Bagwell, Mrs. Ralph Gibson, Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. John R. Lewis, Mrs. F. E. Black, Mrs. C. N. Jones, Mrs. Carey Holmes, Mrs. A. J. Spear, Mrs. J. F. Stover, Mrs. E. B. Johnson, Mrs. H. B. Cruthirds, Mrs. Kate Morrice, Mrs. John Harper, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. Harry Schroeder, Mrs. R. W. Bandy, Mrs. A. S. Gunter.

World Fellowship Week Observed Here

An impressive and inspiring meeting was held at the Y. W. C. A. on Thursday morning in observance of the World Fellowship week of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. R. H. B. Gibson, devotional chairman of the Y. W. C. A. board, was the leader for the service. Mrs. J. R. White, president of the Y. W. C. A. board, extended greetings to the group and gave the theme for the service: "The Enduring God." Rev. R. T. Watson gave the devotional, using several passages of Scripture as the basis for his remarks which made each person realize the importance of that faith in and knowledge of an cal and inspirational address by Rev. E. F. Hayward who talked on "Courage in the Present Crisis," stressing the thought of the importance of "Christ living in each individual life" and the importance of Christian faith to give us that peace, inner security, and power. The meeting was closed by the group singing: "Be the Tie That Binds" and the benediction by Rev. Hayward.

Miss Jane Dawkins And Captain William Hudson Married At Grace Church

Reception At Home Of Judge And Mrs. Ben Dawkins Follows Nuptials Here

A brilliant nuptial event characterized by dignity, solemnity, and elegant simplicity and claiming the affectionate interest of a vast number of friends in this section of the state, was that of Miss Jane Gordon Dawkins, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Benjamin Cornwell Dawkins of this city, and Captain William Thompson Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell Hudson of Alexandria, La., Saturday night, November 14, at eight o'clock.

Long before the nuptial hour, Grace Episcopal church, fragrant with the pungent odor of chrysanthemums, was filled to overflowing with a fashionable throng of guests, many of whom occupied the pews set apart for intimate friends. These seats were marked with clusters of white chrysanthemums.

High on the altar, fringed with white chrysanthemums, cathedral tapers in pyramid formation burned in white candlesticks. Chrysanthemums also fringed the choir railing where low tapers were placed at regular intervals. The stained glass windows were illuminated by candles burning in white candelabra encircled with English ivy. Candles also flamed high from the balcony loft entwined with graceful lengths of English ivy.

Superb white chrysanthemums, overflowing from white wrought iron floor standards alternated with candelabra of graduated length supporting white tapers, formed a flowery candlelit enclosure for the wedding party.

While the guests were being seated by the groomsmen, Richard Sadler, Jr., Lieutenant McVee Oliver and James Stader Richardson, the organist, Leon Hammonds, rendered a pre-nuptial concert and accompanied the soloists, Mrs. Clyde Paine who sang, "Because," and Mrs. John Thurmon of Ruston who sang, "I Love You Truly." Organ music flooded the church before the nuptial hour and throughout the entire ceremony. Most impressive was the candle-lighting ceremony performed by two acolytes, Almyer Montgomery, Jr., and Elmer Slagle, Jr.

The bride's attendants all wore distinctive models of white chiffon, long and full, with tight fitting bodice, sweetheart neckline, three-quarter length sleeves puffed at the shoulder. They wore single strands of pearls, long white kid gloves and chaplets of fresh American Beauty roses. A dramatic touch of color was created by the arm bouquets of gorgeous American Beauty roses tied with long lengths of wide, crimson satin ribbon. The maid of honor was Mrs. James Stader Richardson of Alexandria and the matron of honor was Mrs. Benjamin Dawkins, Jr., of Shreveport. The bridesmaids were Mrs. William Fitts Clark of New Orleans, Miss Lela Germany and the bride's cousin, Miss Peggy Prindle of Tulsa, Okla.

The ring bearer was the bride's niece, Cynthia Ashley Dawkins. She

BRIDE AND BRIDEGROOM

Lieutenant George H. Lugin, Jr., of Long Island, N. Y., is seen with his bride, who before her marriage was Miss Dorothy Kyle Gibbs, daughter of Mrs. Ann Gibbs of this city. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, November 6. Lieutenant and Mrs. Lugin are honeymooning in New Orleans.

carried the rings on a white satin pillow used by generations of brides in the family of the bride's mother. The flower girls were Helen Louise Theus, Caroline Cummings, Ashley Hamilton and Virginia Blanks. They wore diaphanous white gowns, exact replicas of those worn by the bridesmaids, and carried a single American Beauty rose. Coronets of fresh crimson roses were worn.

The bride, walking down the candlelit aisle on the arm of her father, wore the traditional ivory satin wedding gown, a Hattie Carnegie model, fashioned along simple lines. The long, tight fitting shirred bodice with a cowl neckline was buttoned down the back with self-covered buttons. The sleeves were long and tight fitting, puffed at the shoulders, ending in points over the hands. The voluminous skirt ended in a court train over which fell an imported Belgian lace veil over a cloud of white tulle. It was caught to the hair with a coronet of orange blossoms from the wedding veil of the bride's mother. For something old she wore her mother's strand of pearls and the handkerchief carried by bridegroom's mother on her wedding day. The beautiful star sapphire ring encircled with diamonds, a wedding gift from the bridegroom added distinction to an ensemble unsurpassed for classic beauty and elegant simplicity. The bride carried in her arms a sheaf of calla lilies caught with bridal tulle and satin ribbon.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Dawkins home on Island Drive. Considerable beauty of detail was noted in every section of the spacious home. The wedding party stood in the drawing room directly beneath the handsome crystal chandeliers. In the background tall pedestals overflowed with white chrysanthemums and candles gleamed in handsome silver candelabra. The scene was reflected in the handsome, floor length antique mirror.

Judge and Mrs. Dawkins stood with the wedding party to receive the guests. Mrs. Dawkins wore a pouf de blue crepe model trimmed with blue

South America Subject Of Interesting Papers

Monroe Literary Club Hears Talks On Nations To South Of United States

The Monroe Literary club met in the home of Mrs. W. L. Jones, Jr., Wednesday afternoon for their regular meeting. The club president, Mrs. A. B. Colmer, presided and the club collect was read by Mrs. Floyd Matthews. Mrs. P. E. Massey and Mrs. Jones gave interesting reports of the state convention held at New Orleans. Mrs. J. K. Blue was welcomed into the club as a new member. After a short business session, the program chairman, Mrs. R. E. Wilson, introduced Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, who gave a very interesting paper on Colombia, carrying out the study theme for the year, "Eyes South."

Mrs. Montgomery gave her listeners a "Glance at Colombia" as follows: In six hours you can fly from Miami, Florida, to Colombia in South America, or say breakfast in United States and lunch in South America. So you see aviation has foreshortened the Western Hemisphere and made neighbors of people who only a short time ago were far apart and virtually strangers. Colombia has widely separated cities and airplanes are the chief means of transportation for three ranges of rugged Andean mountains running northward through Colombia interpose tremendous barriers to road and rail. Colombia's capital, Bogota, is enthroned on the Andean heights more than a mile and a half above the coast, six days to two weeks from the Caribbean by river steamer or train, and three hours by air.

All kinds of people use the airline and the first airline was founded by the Germans in 1919, who ran it until it was nationalized by the Colombian government a few years ago. Colombia has two big seaports, the cities of Barranquilla and Cartagena. Barranquilla has been a seaport only since 1935, for it is located about seven miles up the big Magdalena river and had to be cleaned out for big sea going vessels. Barranquilla's industrial and commercial trade has been built up in the last ten years, its factories produce mostly cotton, wool, rayon fabrics, beer, rubber, oxygen, metal furniture and cement tile. Cartagena is southwest of Barranquilla along the coast and is perhaps the best preserved of old Spanish fortified cities of the Americas and is one of the principal seaports of the republic. Magnificent docking facilities handle huge quantities of oil and coffee, the oil being brought to Cartagena through a 365 mile long pipeline from the Department of Santander, the line running for most part beside the Magdalena river. Bogota, the capital of Colombia, is located against the base of Eastern Cordillera mountains. Its climate is a big change from the coast as it is about a mile and a half above sea level, and the thin air of 8,660 feet high plateau doesn't retain heat very long after the sun sets, so after dark woolen clothes are worn.

About fifteen miles from Bogota are the Traquandama Falls, being two and a half times higher than Niagara. Emeralds, the most valued gems in the world, are found in Colombia, and the richest deposits are those of Muzo, about 75 miles north of Bogota. The government has a monopoly on the mining, ceiling and marketing of all Colombian emeralds. Colombia is rich in orchids. One grower sends cut flowers by air to the United States. Popayan, another city, founded in 1536, is a city of high cultural tradition. Its Casa university has produced writers, painters and statesmen. Several presidents of the republic have come from Popayan.

A paper, "Paradoxical Peru," prepared by Mrs. W. T. Ellis said in part: There are really three Perus, west to east, the narrow strips along the Pacific coast, the stupendous chain of the Andes, and the burning Amazon lowlands. Together they form an area about twice as big as pre-war Germany. The coastal strip contains Lima the capital city. The automobile trip from Lima into the Andes takes you from sea level to 16,000 above in 8 1/2 hours from Lima to Iquitos on the Amazon.

Book Review Will Be Feature Of Tea Hour

"Big Doc's Girl" by Mary Medearis is the book Mrs. J. Norman Coon will review Friday afternoon, November 20, at three o'clock at the Y. W. C. A., where members of the library commission of the Welcome Branch Book club will serve as hostess during the tea hour. It is hoped, on this occasion to add many new books to the library on the grounds of the G. B. Cooley Sanatorium from the contributions received at this time.

"Big Doc's Girl" is a story of a primitive country in the back reaches of Arkansas, and the people who live there and take their qualities from the landscape. It is a story of disease ridden Black Hollow and Big Doc's crusade against malaria, of Mount Horch and the great Granter tride which Phineas ruled in his old age like a veritable patriarch. It has delicacy, poetry, the strength of the earth and the true flavor of America. It is a novel which lays hold of the memory and the heart.

The public is invited through this medium to hear the review and enjoy the social interlude following.

Miss Dawkins Honoree At Luncheon Friday

The harvest season was beautifully portrayed in the golden hued cornucopia overflowing with luscious fruit and placed on the beautifully appointed luncheon table in the mirror room of the Frances Friday at one o'clock when Mrs. John Breard, Mrs. Edell Blanks, Mrs. Scott Hamilton and Mrs. Henry Blanks entertained complimentary to Miss Jane Dawkins. At either end of the table were placed small cornucopias filled with chrysanthemums in shades of bronze and yellow. Amber compotes filled with confections also accentuated the autumn color theme.

Amber service plates and tall goblets of amber crystal created additional beauty.

Graceful sprays of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums hung from the mantel and bowls of flowers in the autumn shades were placed on low coffee tables.

South America Subject Of Interesting Papers

Monroe Literary Club Hears Talks On Nations To South Of United States

The Monroe Literary club met in the home of Mrs. W. L. Jones, Jr., Wednesday afternoon for their regular meeting. The club president, Mrs. A. B. Colmer, presided and the club collect was read by Mrs. Floyd Matthews. Mrs. P. E. Massey and Mrs. Jones gave interesting reports of the state convention held at New Orleans. Mrs. J. K. Blue was welcomed into the club as a new member. After a short business session, the program chairman, Mrs. R. E. Wilson, introduced Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, who gave a very interesting paper on Colombia, carrying out the study theme for the year, "Eyes South."

Mrs. Montgomery gave her listeners a "Glance at Colombia" as follows: In six hours you can fly from Miami, Florida, to Colombia in South America, or say breakfast in United States and lunch in South America. So you see aviation has foreshortened the Western Hemisphere and made neighbors of people who only a short time ago were far apart and virtually strangers. Colombia has widely separated cities and airplanes are the chief means of transportation for three ranges of rugged Andes Mountains running northward through Colombia impose tremendous barriers to road and rail. Colombia's capital, Bogota, is enthroned on the Andean heights more than a mile and a half above the coast, six days to two weeks from the Caribbean by river steamer or train, and three hours by air.

All kinds of people use the airline and the first airline was founded by the Germans in 1919, who ran it until it was nationalized by the Colombian government a few years ago. Colombia has two big seaports, the cities of Barranquilla and Cartagena. Barranquilla has been a seaport only since 1935, for it is located about seven miles up the big Magdalena river and had to be cleaned out for big sea going vessels. Barranquilla's industrial and commercial trade has been built up in the last ten years, its factories produce mostly cotton, wool, rayon fabrics, beer, rubber, oxygen, metal furniture and cement tile. Cartagena is southwest of Barranquilla along the coast and is perhaps the best preserved of old Spanish fortified cities of the Americas and is one of the principal seaports of the republic. Magnificent docking facilities handle huge quantities of oil and coffee, the oil being brought to Cartagena through a 365 mile long pipe line from the Department of Santander, the line running for most part beside the Magdalena river. Bogota, the capital of Colombia, is located against the base of Eastern Cordillera mountains. Its climate is a big change from the coast as it is about a mile and a half above sea level, and the thin air of 8,660 feet high plateau doesn't retain heat very long after the sun sets, so after dark woolen clothes are worn.

About fifteen miles from Bogota are the Tequendama Falls, being two and a half times higher than Niagara. Emeralds, the most valued gems in the world, are found in Colombia, and the richest deposits are those of Muzo, about 75 miles north of Bogota. The government has a monopoly on the mining, ceiling and marketing of all Colombian emeralds. Columbia is rich in orchids. One grower sends cut flowers by air to the United States. Popayan, another city, founded in 1538, is a city of high cultural tradition. Its Casa university has produced writers, painters and statesmen. Several presidents of the republic have come from Popayan.

A paper, "Paradoxical Peru," prepared by Mrs. W. T. Ellis said in part: There are really three Perus, west to east, the narrow strips along the Pacific coast, the stupendous chain of the Andes, and the burning Amazon lowlands. Together they form an area about twice as big as pre-war Germany. The coastal strip contains Lima the capital city. The automobile trip from Lima into the Andes takes you from sea level to 16,000 above in 85 from Lima to Iquitos on the Amazon, tifully appointed and candlelit, marked covers for the bride and bridegroom, members of the wedding personnel and out-of-town guests including Mrs. F. R. Meyer and the bridegroom's nephew, John P. Old III. Cadet and Mrs. Biscomb will be at home to their friends at 205 Ingleside lane.

National Book Week To Be Observed Here

Many New And Interesting Books Are Listed As Available For Twin City Readers

Readers have the satisfaction these days of knowing that books will not be rationed. In fact men, women and children are urged to spend more time reading the new books as many of them incite to greater thoughtfulness.

Observance of National Book Week

November 14 to 22, will have greater significance this year than ever before and plans are being made for the entertainment of visitors in the public libraries in the Twin Cities.

The first National Book Week was held in America in 1919, and has continued one of the most popular special weeks ever since. In the beginning, the emphasis was on children's books, and the week was known as Children's Book Week. Now, however, it has been extended to young adults and grownups as well, and is known as National Book Week.

This year it will be observed with the slogan "Forward With Books." No slogan could be more suitable at this time, for while the dictatorship countries are banning and burning books, we in the United States are increasing their production and dissemination.

Although Book Week focuses attention on children's books for just seven days, one of the purposes has always been to arouse public enthusiasms and energies which will spread throughout the year. Another purpose of Book Week is to encourage the love of books and reading in boys and girls. With such love of books it is hoped that ownership and companionship of them may play its part in the development and maintenance of the family.

Like other celebrations begun for children, it has proven so popular that grown-ups claim it too, now Book Week emphasizes good books for all Americans. So may we take this year's slogan, Forward With Books, to heart, so that our reading in the future will be an outward sign of an inviolable growth of the mind and spirit.

Many fine books for boys and girls have been published during the past year. Some of the titles which are available at the public libraries in Monroe and West Monroe are:

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Claiming the interest of friends in this section of the state is the announcement made today of the engagement and approaching marriage of Mary Virginia Beard, daughter of Mrs. Lottie C. Beard and the late Walter E. Beard, to Lieutenant Earl W. Yancey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yancey, Sr., of Jonesville, La., who is stationed with the U. S. army at Camp Wheeler, Ga.

Dorothy Kyle Gibbs Weds Lieut. Gurgin

Marriage Solemnized At Bride's Home; Reception Follows Ceremony Here

A wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends was that of Miss Dorothy Kyle Gibbs, daughter of Mrs. Ann Gibbs of this city, and Lieutenant George H. Gurgin, Jr., of Long Island, N. Y.

The marriage was solemnized in the home of the bride's mother, Friday evening, November 6, at 8:30 o'clock with the Reverend D. D. Cantrell of the Central Baptist church in Monroe officiating.

Mr. Lloyd Walters, pianist, rendered the Bridal Chorus from Wagner's "Lohengrin" as the young couple walked to the improvised altar in the living room where beautiful white chrysanthemums were placed in the background.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Mr. Henry L. Gibbs, was attractive in a modish beige suit with brown accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. For something old, she wore a necklace that belonged to her paternal grandmother. For something borrowed, she carried a lace handkerchief of Mexican work belonging to her maternal grandmother. For something new, she wore a lovely pearl and diamond-studded watch given to the groom's mother by her father when she was a young girl touring abroad with the family. The bride was also presented with another girlhood treasure, a lovely strand of matched pearls with a diamond clasp.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. Harry Fernandez, who wore black crepe and black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations, and Miss Geraldine Earl, who was attractive in a beige ensemble with brown accessories and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. Lieutenant John Adams of the Monroe A. A. F. Navigation school served as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. Receiving were Mrs. Gibbs in an attractive green model with corsage of yellow chrysanthemums, and Mrs. A. V. Shaddix, the bride's sister, who wore black crepe and a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

The dining table, covered with a handsome lace cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. White tapers burned at either end. The cakes and iced frappe were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. George

Joe Craig To Review Educational Survey

Mr. Joe Craig, principal of Ouachita parish grammar school, will give a review of the book, "Louisiana Looks At Its Schools," when the Ouachita Parish P. T. A. Study Group meets in Room 111, High school building at 3 o'clock.

The Louisiana Educational Survey commission in carrying out its responsibility to report on the school system of Louisiana worked through committees in local communities. In each parish committees were formed including both educators and business and professional men. The laymen explained what they wanted of their schools and suggested ways to secure it. The educators stated the case of the schools, their achievements, their efforts and their handicaps. It was the task of the experts on the commission to sift this mine of information into concrete recommendations to show how the demands of the public could be realized.

The recommendations are specific, far-reaching and hard hitting. To answer that most insistent demand,

"Give Us Better Citizens," the commission calls for better trained and more adequately paid personnel, the expense of which it is proved can be met from savings on a public school transportation system. It calls for a twelve-year school program for better care for all kinds of exceptional children, for better buildings and better health education. Emphatically it calls for a new deal in negro education.

This book is a heartening record of what happens when a democratic state decides to find out whether or not its schools are fulfilling their obligation to the public. When they fail and how they may be improved.

Mrs. C. W. Williams, chairman of the study group, states that special topics of the survey will be discussed each month at the study club which meets one hour preceding the regular P. T. A. meeting.

49 SKILLED JOBS OPEN TO NAVY MEN!

EVERY MAN A SPECIALIST

The United States Navy is an organization of experts. Almost every man is trained to become a specialist in his specific job. If you have had previous training or experience in a trade when you enlist, you will be given a chance to continue in the same type of work. If you have not had previous experience, you may qualify for training under skilled Navy instructors for the kind of job for which you are best fitted.

There are seven branches of Naval Service for enlisted men comprising 49 different classes of jobs—or ratings. The men who hold these ratings are known as Petty Officers. There are four grades of Petty Officers—Third Class, Second Class, First Class and Chief—through which a man may advance according to his skill and experience.

Most men enlist as Apprentice Seamen. As such, you are automatically promoted with an increase in pay after two months of preliminary training. Thereafter, you may advance through trade school training or practical experience at sea as rapidly as your ability permits up through the various classes of Petty Officer. Men who qualify by reason of special training or experience in a trade may become Petty Officers in their particular specialty, provided there is a vacancy, immediately upon enlistment.

GOOD PAY . . .
QUICK PROMOTION

You'll go ahead fast in the Navy. The Navy wants you to become skilled in your trade. And it will move you up as rapidly as you can learn your job. You don't have to ask for promotions. If you're willing and able, they'll come to you automatically. And each one is accompanied by a raise in pay.

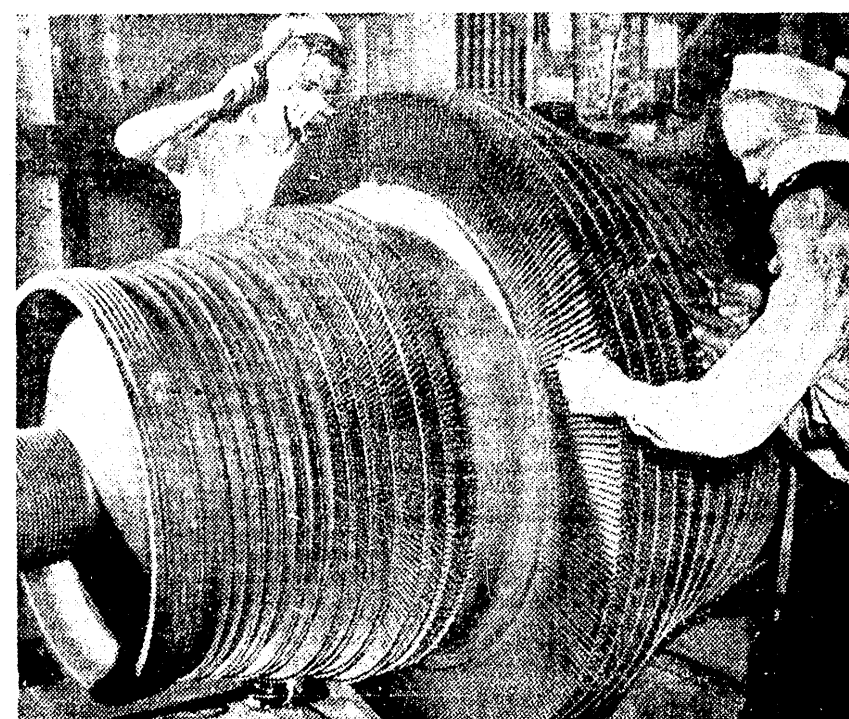

JOIN TODAY! THE NAVY NEEDS "SEABEES". "SEABEES" Construction Battalions, are building advance base facilities for the fighting forces in foreign territory. TRAVEL! ADVENTURE! ACTION! Apply Room 308, Customhouse, New Orleans, La.

PREVIOUS TRAINING NOT ESSENTIAL

Remember, you do not need previous training in civil life to advance from Apprentice Seaman to a Petty Officer rating. In most cases your advancement will depend upon two things: (1) initial training the Navy gives you after you have enlisted; (2) proof of your ability to apply that training.

Except for a few ratings, there are no special educational requirements. However, practically all Navy jobs call for use of arithmetic, mathematics, elementary physics and science. So, if you have a basic knowledge of these subjects, it will help you to get more out of the training the Navy will give you.

In addition, if you have taken high school or college courses in any subject which has a special bearing on a particular Navy job, it will naturally help you to get ahead faster. For example, a course in manual training will be helpful to the man who wants to be a carpenter's mate. Knowledge of how to read blueprints will be valuable to machinists and metal-smiths, etc.

Spinster Club Gives Novel Dancing Party

'Sadie Hawkins' Affair Sponsored By Group With Air Base Officers Guests

There is really something new under the sun according to members of the dancing set who attended the "Sadie Hawkins" dance at the Lotus club given by members of the Spinster club complimentary to the officers at the A. F. Navigation school.

"Sadie Hawkins" of comic-strip fame was the inspiration for the unique entertainment planned by the Spinsters. Sawdust covered the "bar-room" floor and beer kegs piled high in the background added a note of realism. Refreshments were served at tables covered with red and white checked table cloths and centered with beer bottles supporting red candles. "Sadie Hawkins" posters covering the walls brought to mind the comic strip character.

Informal revelry was the keynote of the evening with the blaring music of the nickelodeon adding the last touch of realism.

Spinners and their "dates" were: Virginia Earl Kerah and Lieutenant Minor Ross; Miss Robertine Rhymes and Lieutenant Charles Fetter; Miss Nan Buckner and Lieutenant Bud Hatch; Miss Dorothy Graves and Lieutenant Earl Wills; Miss Margie Farmer and Lieutenant Al Godwin; Miss Betty Rely and Lieutenant Al Bonner; Miss Ellen Hale and Lieutenant Harold Lander; Miss Jean Hale and Lieutenant Frank Hicks; Miss Beverly Russell and Lieutenant Lyle Knighton; Miss Anna Lee Russell and Lieutenant Bill Queenan; Miss Clara Virginia Terza and Lieutenant Bob Lytle; Miss Sara Cole Morrison and Lieutenant H. Current Literature Club Hears Review

Members of the Current Literature club were delightfully entertained in the home of Mrs. Mike John, Jr., on Filhiol avenue. The program, presided over by Mrs. Conway, included a current event given by Mrs. John Naylor, a very timely discussion of the "Local Housing Facilities" by Mrs. Louis Peters and a review of Joseph E. Davies' book "Mission to Moscow," reviewed by Mrs. Harmon Harris.
"This is finally going to be adjudged one of the most important books of this, or any other, decade. Joseph E. Davies finished school at the University of Wisconsin, then took his law degree there and set up his practice as an expert on international law."
"Being one of the best of his business boomed, and soon he was retained by most corporations doing an international business. President Wilson appointed him Commissioner of Corporation and there he met and formed a life long friendship with Franklin D. Roosevelt. Later he was appointed ambassador to Moscow by President Roosevelt, at that time it was stylish to sneer at Russia and all it stood for. But Davies never did that, he told them that our system was better, but that he had no missionary work to do. They had never had such frankness from a diplomat and it was refreshing."
"They liked him and believed it when he told them the only design we had on them were mutually profitable trade agreements. Finally, when the Germans struck at Russia, Davies, almost alone, prophesied the resistance of Russia would amaze the world. The best military brains of the world said the Reds might last six weeks and Hitler would be in Moscow. But Davies spoke of what he had seen and this information had been in our State Department since he secured it. Therefore, back in those dark days, when we had so little to help in stopping the Nazi horde, we gave it to Russia and they held. The book has a style all its own. Some excerpts are in his diary. It's rich in contemporary history and if you want to read how wars are made, specifically this one, and what makes European politicians tick, you should read it."

Refreshments were served to: Mesdames R. L. Conway, G. M. Heidenreich, J. M. Menefee, John Naylor, Louis Peters, R. F. Seiler, Earl Stovall, W. O. Webb, William Whitfield, Harmon Harris and three guests, Mrs. Raymond John, Mrs. A. L. Vandergiff, and Gwen John.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Loe, who have been residing in Burma, where they spent 15 years, were guests of Mr. Loe's sister, Mrs. A. L. Cooke, of Brees avenue. They spent some time in Calcutta before they sailed for home.

He received his commission at Officer's Training school, Miami Beach, Florida, and further military training at Randolph Field, Tex.

Miss Mary Hanna of Supply visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hanna, in Minden last week end and had as her guest, Miss Dorothy Dennis, of the same department. Miss Novaline Sentell spent last week end visiting relatives and friends in Shreveport and Engineering's Esther Dean is on her way to Rhode Island where she will visit husband, Robert Dean, of the United States Navy Submarine school.

November 1 brought a change in working hours to many of the departments here. The installation of time clocks to check daily attendance records and the inauguration of a third shift brought groans for the "would-be 'stay-up-laters.'" The three shifts for the employees will be:
Shift "A"—hours 8:00 a. m. to 4:45 p. m.
Shift "B"—hours 4:15 p. m. to 12:15 a. m.
Shift "C"—hours 12:15 a. m. to 8:00 a. m.

In honor of Captain and Mrs. James M. Harris and Lieutenant James A. Desmond, Mr. and Mrs. Haskel Fairchild entertained with an informal dinner party at their home on DeSiard street.

Newcomers to the Parachute department were Ruby Vallee, Edith Montgomery, Sunshine Tooke, and Mary Morris, all of Tyler, Texas, and graduates of the Cox Parachute school. To headquarters came Mary Helen Williams of Delhi, and Peggy Kilpatrick of Fort Wayne, Indiana, formerly of the U. S. Navy office of Ingalls Shipbuilding corporation in Pascagoula, Mississippi. Mrs. Bernie Bradlock of Bastrop and Mrs. Dot Johnson of Monroe have joined the ranks of Supply typists.

Major Castex P. Conner, the commanding officer, is a native of the Pelican state, having spent most of his life in Jennings, Louisiana. A West Pointer, Major Conner received his flying training at Randolph and Kelly fields and before coming to Monroe, was Sub-Depot commander at Moore Field, Texas.

The "Sub-Depot Mess" is a new organization founded by the employees to promote good fellowship and to contribute to the mental and physical improvement of all its members. One of the main projects of the club will be the collecting of a fund for the establishment of a cafeteria here in the Sub-Depot section. A constitution has been formed and the newly elected officers who will serve for the coming term are: President—Mary Hanna; vice president, Thomas Strange; secretary-treasurer, Virginia Poole.

Perhaps one of the outstanding social events was the "Tacky Party" given by the employees Halloween night at the Knights of Columbus hall. With plenty of music and refreshments, the employees gave one of their best affairs. Mrs. Benjamin Campbell and Mr. Thomas Strange received the prizes for the "tackiest" costumes and petite Dorothy Dennis served as bouncer for the evening.

Wings Over the Monroe Sub-Depot, our official newspaper, is again in circulation after a short period of reorganization of the publications staff. It contains information about life as a civilian employee at an Army Air base, office chatter, and humorous experiences. Members of the new staff include: editor, Mary Hanna; assistant editor, Dorothy Dennis; reporters, Thomas Strange, Nona Barnwell, Rosalie Ballard, headquarters; Peggy Kilpatrick, Novaline Sentell; supply, Mrs. Helen Penick; artist, Martha L. Mauldin.

With pay-day here and gone we now present our poem of the week:

GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN
Little pay check, we must part
Let me press you to my heart,
All month long, I've worked for you
I've been faithful, you've been true.

Miss Helen Atwood And Lieut. Childress Wed

Of widespread interest was the marriage of Miss Helen Earl Atwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Atwood of Delhi, La., to Lieutenant Robert F. Childress of Stamford, Tex.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents Saturday, October 31, at 8 o'clock in the evening. The Rev. J. E. Hearn, pastor of the First Methodist church, read the impressive double-ring ceremony before an improvised altar entwined with southern smilax and flanked by white tapers, which were lighted by Masters John Carl Bryan and Clarence Cutler, Jr., preceding the ceremony. Tall baskets of yellow chrysanthemums also flanked the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a costume suit of soldier blue, trimmed with red fox, and black accessories. Her corsage was of orchid asters.

Her only attendant was Mrs. Julian Thompson, lifelong friend and school-mate, who wore a moss green afternoon frock with accessories of black and a corsage of yellow carnations and daisies. The bride's mother was charmingly gowned in black with a corsage of pink carnations.

Lieutenant Childress wore the dress uniform of the United States army officer. Mr. George K. Anding served as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony, they left for a brief visit with the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer H. Childress, in Stamford, Tex., before returning to Fort Bragg, N. C., where Lieutenant Childress is stationed.

Mrs. Childress attended school at Dodd college where she was a member of Eta Upsilon Gamma sorority and received her degree from Louisiana Polytechnic institute where she was a member of Theta Upsilon sorority. For several years she has been a member of the Delhi High school faculty. Lieutenant Childress is a graduate of Texas A. & M. He served as agricultural instructor in the Texas schools before entering the army.

Interesting Talk Presented At Meeting Of Opera Club In Home Of Mrs. Colvin

The story of Cavaleria Rusticana and the life of Mascagni was related in interesting manner by Mrs. M. L. Padgett at the regular meeting of the Opera club in the home of Mrs. Parker Colvin with Mrs. J. C. Kramer, co-hostess.

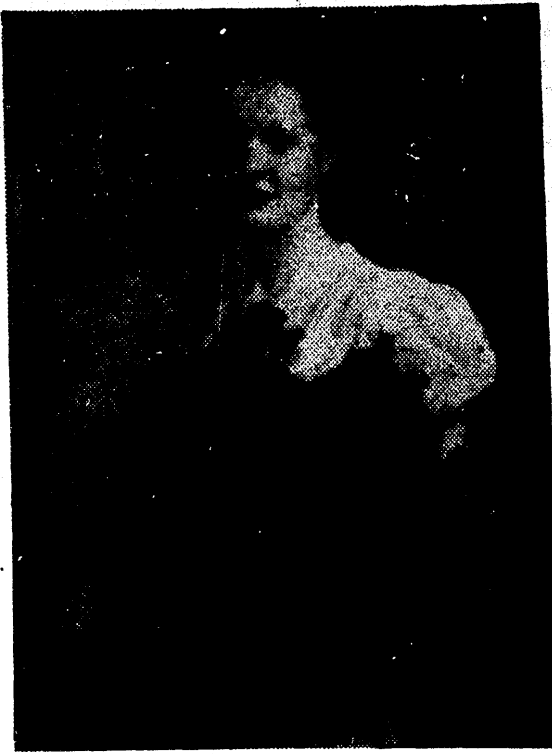

The president, Mrs. P. A. Poag, presided during the brief business session during which it was agreed to make a donation of five dollars to the community chest. Miss Chloë Harsharger was welcomed as a new member at this time.

Mrs. Padgett, addressing her audience, said in part: "Cavaleria Rusticana brought its composer fame and fortune almost overnight, before it was performed. Mascagni was a struggling music teacher in an Italian village who one time had been compelled to exist on a plate of macaroni a day. He was born December 7, 1863, the son of a lowly baker at Leghorn. His father, ambitious for the boy, wanted him to study law. Pietro, preferring music, studied that art secretly; in this sympathetic uncle helped him financially. Several small successes at composition won the favor of Count Stanislao de Larderel, a wealthy amateur, who sent him to the famous conservatory of Milan. There he did not succeed in spite of the sympathetic encouragement of his teachers among whom was Ponchielli; he couldn't endure the routine studies of counterpoint and fugue and soon ran away from school. For several years, he was a conductor of obscure travelling opera companies. Finally, he married and settled at Cerignola. In 1889 the music publisher, Sonzogno, offered a prize for the best one-act opera to be submitted to him. Mascagni obtained the libretto of "Cavaleria Rusticana," and in an incredibly short time set it to music. He submitted his work and with it won the first prize. The opera was performed for the first time at the Costanzi Theatre, Rome, May 18, 1890. Before the performance was over, the rather small audience was wild with enthusiasm and excitement.

The composer's fame was made. Medals were struck in his honor. His native city, Leghorn, welcomed him back with torchlight processions and illuminations, and the King of Italy conferred upon him the Order of the Crown of Italy, an honor not bestowed upon Verdi until middle life. Cavaleria was played everywhere in the music loving world, always with amazing success. The work set a fashion for one act operas. Most of these with plots that were more and more melodramatic and sordid, have been forgotten. "Cavaleria" remains. Mascagni has frequently tried to duplicate this first success of "Cavaleria," and has always failed.

"These of a critical mind believe even this melodramatic treatment of trivialities, love of mere noise, a thinly disguised lack of melodic and rhythmic invention. Yet "Cavaleria" has continued as one of the most popular of operas on the modern stage. It survives because its simple, lurid plot contains genuine drama—Elvira's distress in it as a stage tragedy—and because to this simple story of Sicilian life is wedded music of like colorfulness and passionate intensity."

A general discussion was led by Mrs. B. B. Martin followed Mrs. Padgett's talk. The afternoon's program was completed with a beautiful piano number, Overture, by Miss Clara Freiberg and a brilliant violin number, Intermezzo, by Mrs. C. E. Woodham. Refreshments were served to the following members and guests: Mrs. Charles G. Bennett, Mrs. P. A. Colvin, Miss Clara Freiberg, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. E. C. Gibson, Mrs. J. C. Kramer, Mrs. B. B. Women Help Finance America's War Efforts

Mrs. Elmer Richards Appointed Local Chairman Of War Savings Committee

For the first time in history women have been called upon to help finance a war and they have rallied to the cause in characteristic manner.

Mrs. Emma Michie of Lake Charles, state chairman of the Women's War Savings committee, spent a few days in Monroe last week for the purpose of informing the women of the Twin Cities on the subject of war savings. She appointed Mrs. Elmer Richards local committee chairman. In order to establish satisfactory working relations with the various state workers women's organizations, Mrs. Richards has appointed a large advisory committee composed of the presidents or the board and stamp chairmen of the various state women's organizations. Represented are federations of clubs, lodges, churches and labor union auxiliaries, etc. While this large advisory committee may meet only once or twice during its entire term of existence, it serves to give the state women's organization a sense of direct participation in the war savings program. It also provides a framework in which the state women's chairman can use these powerful state organizations in suitable ways to further the state women's war savings program. For example, in some states, women's Republican committees and women's Democratic committees have worked together, canvassing block by block for war savings pledges.

Those appointed by Mrs. Richards are: Mrs. Fagan Cox, women's club chairman; Mrs. H. V. Collins, materials chairman; Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, speakers and entertainers chairman; Mrs. Blanche Oliver, radio chairman; Mrs. Henry Hinkle, special features chairman; Mr. Thomas Davenport, bond instructor chairman.

The chairman's responsibility is to encourage as many state organizations as possible to participate actively in the war savings program. One approach might be to call a statewide meeting of state organization presidents to explain the purposes of the war savings program and to tell them what bonds and stamps are. For such a conference the help of one of the regional advisors' women's activities appointed by the national women's division might be enlisted.

Mrs. Michie, speaking before a representative gathering of women in this city, said: "The work of every chairman must be integrated with the work of every other chairman. And to achieve success there must be harmony between all the parts. In some localities time has been wasted because old rivalries have stood in the way of the efficient functioning of Women's War Savings committees. Women should remember that this is no time for personal or organizational disputes. To win the war we must have united action."

'Wings And The Woman' Plays At Paramount Today

Anna Neagle, who plays the role of Amy "Johnny" Mollison, is co-starred with Robert Newton as Jim Mollison in the production "Wings and the Woman," showing today only at the Paramount theater. It is a heart warming drama of the careers of Amy and Jim Mollison who sought to live like ordinary people behind the spotlight that was focused on them.

Neagle And Newton Top Film's Cast

Story Of Daring Amy And Jim Mollison Brought To Screen Here

THE monumental saga of two great aerial pioneers whose achievements apart and together provide a story stranger and more romantic than fiction, "Wings and the Woman" has Anna Neagle and Robert Newton as a dazzling new star combination in the world's motion picture screen. It plays at the Paramount today.

Daring to bring the real story of Amy Johnson and Jim Mollison to the screen with all the triumph that marked their success, the romance that attended their first meeting and the drama that ended their marriage, the new film is a vivid disclosure of the private lives of two public idols.

Blending thrilling spectacle with the fascinating personal study of two people whose achievements stirred and thrilled the whole world, the new feature moves at a rapid speed against realistic backgrounds.

Everybody acclaimed "Johnny" after her epochal flight from England to Australia. The applause had scarcely abated when a young man leaped into the limelight by breaking her record. The whole world linked their names, but few guessed they were to be partners in an union courageous and astounding as their great flights.

The meeting which led to their romance, the events that brought matrimonial disaster and the intense drama as each sought rehabilitation at the time of their country's greatest need, are among the highlights leading to the suspenseful thrill-laden conclusion. Amy's crash into the sea while on patriotic duty for her country made her a national heroine and tragic figure of world-wide significance. Jim Mollison survives and carries on with British air service.

Giving Anna Neagle a superb opportunity to display her talents as the immortal Amy Johnson, and presenting Robert Newton as the humorous, capricious and dare-devil Mollison, "Wings and the Woman" now presents two favorite artists in roles attuned to their highly-favored histrionic ability.

Miss Neagle is remembered as the versatile international beauty who impressed the movie clientele with her American performances in "Nurse Edith Cavell," "No No, Nanette" and "Sunny" as well as her British productions "Victoria the Great" and "Sixty Glorious Years." Robert Newton is currently the hit of the British thriller "The Great Escape" and worked in "Wings and the Woman" on leave from his service as a seaman in the empire's volunteer mine sweeper squadrons.

Painted against a canvas of the whole world with realistic recreations of Amy's Australian flight and official reception in Sydney; the flyers' joint Atlantic trip and crash at the Bridgeport, Conn., airport in America; Amy's investiture by the king; and Jim's proposal of marriage at London's Grosvenor House as the outstanding incidents, "Wings and the Woman" was spectacularly produced.

C. railroad at Sixth and DeSiard streets. There were three grass fires just out of town on the Winnboro road. Other grass fires were at the 300 block of Bell, 900 S. Third, Park avenue, the McGuire golf links, Powell and DeSiard, three miles out on DeSiard and at 2611 Richmond street.

Cranberries also have been eliminated in deference to Britain's restricted wartime diet.

Here's the A. E. F.'s Thanksgiving menu: Vegetable soup, celery, pickles, cheese, roast pork, apple sauce, mashed sweet potatoes, string beans, lettuce and tomato salad, plum pudding with rum sauce, hot rolls, butter, jam and cocoa.

Until he suffered a partial stroke of paralysis some time ago, Mr. Shell had done all his work, but after the stroke, it was necessary for him to hire harvesters.

'Wildcat' Now Here At Capitol

Richard Arlen And Arline Judge Top Cast Of Story Of Oil Fields

A ROARING drama of the fight to wrest American's life-blood from the earth—oil—comes cascading into the Capitol theater for a local run beginning today.

It's Paramount's high-speed action story, "Wildcat," starring Richard Arlen and Arline Judge, and featuring "Buster" Crabbe, Arthur Hunnicutt and Elisha Cook, Jr.

Pipelined from the talented typewriters of authors Maxwell Shane and Richard Murphy, the new film of the battle for "black gold" was produced by William H. Pine and William C. Thomas, the successful combination which has given us several exciting action movies in the past.

The story brings to the screen the colorful characters haunting the Western oil fields looking for the main chance to set up wildcat oil derricks. They're tough, adventurous men with oil in their blood, seeking quick fortunes from the earth. It is men like these who risk their lives daily to help America in the struggle for the vital black fluid.

Richard Arlen is one of these picturesque men of action. Helped by his pal, Elisha Cook, Jr., he finds oil on a piece of land, buys the land and sets up his drilling machinery. Cook is killed as the result of an act of sabotage by rival drillers competing for the prize money put up for the first well to come in. Pretty Arline Judge, returns to the screen in "Wildcat" in the role of the scheming girl confederate of a good-natured confidence man, William Frawley. She poses as Arlen's dead partner's sister. Falling in love with Arlen, she changes her mind about swindling him out of the oil well, and helps him battle an oil fire in a thrilling climactic scene.

For some time now Richard Arlen has been starring in fast, roaring action pictures. One's pulse automatically got set to accelerate the moment he came into view on the screen, for it was a certainty that the handsome, hard-muscled film hero was going to become involved in some fast, furious doings in just a few moments, if not immediately.

NATCHITOCHES, La., Nov. 14.—(Special)—The entire campus of the Louisiana State Normal college is being organized for intensive participation in the war effort. It was announced here today by Miss Esther Cooley, head of the department of home economics and chairman of the mobilization program.

The opening gun of the campaign was fired at a dinner in the private dining room of the student center today when presidents of all student organizations on the campus heard college officials outline plans for the war effort at the college. Speakers on the program included President Joe Farrar, S. W. Nelken, coordinator of civilian defense on the campus; Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, director of instruction; and Dr. Andrew Hunt, director of student welfare.

Recommending that 108 hours of the 168-hour week be devoted to necessary items such as study, classwork, sleep and meals, college officials have issued a call for all students here this semester to give their free time for national defense work, such as surgical dressing, Red Cross and first aid activities. A veterans' fund to be used to finance students of the college now serving in the armed forces through college after the war is being raised on the campus and the purchase of war bonds and stamps by both faculty members and students is in full swing.

The college here has sponsored two visits of the presentation board composed of representatives of the army, navy and marines this semester and scores of men students, including 24 members of the varsity football team, have enlisted in various branches of the reserve corps. The college is also sponsoring a civilian pilot training program under the direction of Albert T. Browne, coordinator.

Miss Hazel Bradley, nutritionist in the federal security administration in the division of defense, health and welfare for Louisiana, Texas and New Mexico, will address the students at a special assembly here Wednesday, officials stated today.

In an address ushering in education week, President Farrar told the students that the job of higher education at present is to train the youth of America so that they may contribute their maximum to the war effort and to educate them for the peace that is to come.

"Standard curricula and the pet hobbies of the academicians must be sneered for the duration and every effort of higher education devoted to winning the war. Higher institutions of learning must also train the youth to take their proper places and perform well their proper functions in the post war world," declared President Farrar.

PRESERVE BAILING WIRE BEING ASKED

The farmers of Ouachita parish have been warned by the USDA war board chairman, W. F. Ross, that unless this year's supply of baling wire is saved and put to use again, farmers may be unable to buy baled hay in 1943.

Mr. Ross pointed out that while this year's baling wire production was nearly 50 per cent greater than in normal years, reports indicate a serious shortage existed in many areas.

Next year, according to all present indications, only a fraction of a normal year's supply will be produced. Unless as much baling wire is saved and put to use again, farmers may be unable to buy baled hay in 1943.

Since army remount stations, stockyards and farmers in areas which do not produce enough hay for their own use are the biggest consumers of baled hay, they should take particular pains to save baling wires, but farmers in every part of the country can help, the war board chairman said.

To conserve baling wires, farmers should cut as close to the tie as possible; it should then be straightened and put away where it will not rust. Various devices for straightening baling wires have been developed by farmers and state colleges.

'Wings And The Woman' Plays At Paramount Today

Anna Neagle, who plays the role of Amy "Johnny" Mollison, is co-starred with Robert Newton as Jim Mollison in the production "Wings and the Woman" showing today only at the Paramount theater. It is a heart warming drama of the careers of Amy and Jim Mollison who sought to live like ordinary people behind the spotlight that was focused on them.

Neagle And Newton Top Film's Cast

Story Of Daring Amy And Jim Mollison Brought To Screen Here

THE monumental saga of two great aerial pioneers whose achievements apart and together provide a story stranger and more romantic than fiction, "Wings and the Woman" has Anna Neagle and Robert Newton as a dazzling new star combination in the world's motion picture screen. It plays at the Paramount today.

Daring to bring the real story of Amy Johnson and Jim Mollison to the screen with all the triumph that marked their success, the romance that attended their first meeting and the drama that ended their marriage, the new film is a vivid disclosure of the private lives of two public idols.

Blending thrilling spectacle with the fascinating personal study of two people whose achievements stirred and thrilled the whole world, the new feature moves at a rapid speed against realistic backgrounds.

The story is of a girl from Yorkshire, rebellious at school, restless at her work, with her head and heart forever winking their way across the skies to the distant lands that lay beyond Britain.

Everybody acclaimed "Johnny" after her epochal flight from England to Australia. The applause had scarcely abated when a young man leaped into the limelight by breaking her record. The whole world linked their names, but few guessed they were to be partners in an union courageous and astounding as their great flights.

The meeting which led to their romance, the events that brought matrimonial disaster and the intense drama as each sought rehabilitation at the time of their country's greatest need, are among the highlights leading to the suspenseful thrill-laden conclusion. Amy's crash into the sea while on patriotic duty for her country made her a national heroine and tragic figure of world-wide significance. Jim Mollison survives and carries on with British air service.

Giving Anna Neagle a superb opportunity to display her talents as the immortal Amy Johnson, and presenting Robert Newton as the immortal Jim Mollison, "Wings and the Woman" now presents two favorite artists in roles attuned to their highly-favored histrionic ability.

Miss Neagle is remembered as the versatile international beauty who impressed the movie clientele with her American performances in "Nurse Edith Cavell," "No, No, Nanette" and "Sunny" as well as her British productions "Victoria the Great" and "Sixty Glorious Years." Robert Newton is currently the hit of the British thriller "Hatter's Castle," and worked in "Wings and the Woman" on leave from his service as a seaman in the empire's volunteer mine sweeper squadrons.

Painted against a canvas of the whole world, with realistic recreations of Amy's Australian flight and official reception in Sydney; the flyers' joint Atlantic trip and crash at the Bridgeport, Conn., airport in America; Amy's investiture by the king; and Jim's proposal of marriage at London's Grosvenor House as the outstanding incidents, "Wings and the Woman" was spectacularly produced.

Next year, according to all present indications, only a fraction of a normal year's supply will be produced.

Unless as much baling wire as possible is saved for reuse, there is certain to be a very acute shortage. Since army remount stations, stockyards and farmers in areas which do not produce enough hay for their own use are the biggest consumers of baled hay, they should take particular pains to save baling wires, but farmers in every part of the country can help, the war board chairman said.

'Wildcat' Now Here At Capitol

Richard Arlen And Arline Judge Top Cast Of Story Of Oil Fields

A ROARING drama of the fight to wrest American's life-blood from the earth—oil—comes cascading into the Capitol theater for a local run beginning today.

It's Paramount's high-speed action story, "Wildcat," starring Richard Arlen and Arline Judge, and featuring "Buster" Crabbe, Arthur Hunnicutt and Elisha Cook, Jr.

Pipelined from the talented type-writers of authors Maxwell Shane and Richard Murphy, the new film of the battle for "black gold" was produced by William H. Pine and William C. Thomas, the successful combination which has given us several exciting action movies in the past.

The story brings to the screen the colorful characters haunting the Western oil fields looking for the main chance to set up wildcat oil derricks. They're tough, adventurous men with oil in their blood, seeking quick fortunes from the earth. It is men like these who risk their lives daily to help America in the struggle for the vital black fluid.

Richard Arlen is one of these picturesque men of action. Helped by his pal, Elisha Cook, Jr., he finds oil on a piece of land, buys the land and sets up his drilling machinery. Cook is filled as the result of an act of sabotage by rival drillers competing for the prize money put up for the first well to come in. Pretty Arline Judge, returns to the screen in "Wildcat" in the role of the scheming girl confederate of a good-natured confidence man, William Frawley. She poses as Arlen's dead partner's sister. Falling in love with Arlen, she changes her mind about swindling him out of the oil well, and helps him battle an oil fire in a thrilling climactic scene.

For some time now Richard Arlen has been starring in fast, roaring action pictures. One's pulse automatically got set to accelerate the moment he came into view on the screen, for it was a certainty that the handsome, hard-muscled film hero was going to become involved in some fast, furious doings in just a few moments, if not immediately.

"Wildcat" ought to give him just the opportunities for his exceptional talents. It's got lots of action, drama and romance. Given these elements, Arlen is unsurpassable.

PROGRAM PLANNED FOR THANKSGIVING

500 Local Girls To Be Invited To Entertainment At AAF Post

Plans for a Thanksgiving entertainment for all enlisted men of the Monroe AAF Navigation school already have reached an advanced stage under the direction of Capt. Arthur M. Culpepper, post special services officer, it was announced yesterday.

Preparations are being made to invite about 500 girls to the post under joint USO and navigation school auspices, for a parade, dancing and buffet supper. Two committees of women, one on the post and one working in close cooperation with Charles Julian, Monroe USO director, have already made plans at meetings held during the past week.

The committee on the post is called the Navigatorettes, and will act in the capacity of hostesses to the girls from town, and the older members of the post organization will act as chaperones. Headed by Miss Mannie Grogan as chairman, the Navigatorettes will number about 75. Distinctive badges with a wing motif will distinguish them.

The USO-sponsored committee, of which Mrs. P. A. Poag from Monroe is chairman, will invite girls under the same procedure by which they are admitted to the USO, and act as chaperones.

Girls who are not members of the Girl's Service organization are urged to register at USO headquarters, telephone 3792, by Thursday, Nov. 19, giving their name, address and telephone number.

MOSQUITO ERADICATORS Mosquitoes can be killed in their early stages by plants that emit small quantities of oxygen in water in which the insects breed, according to experiments at Cornell university.

NATCHITOCHES, La., Nov. 14.—(Special)—The entire campus of the Louisiana State Normal college is being organized for intensive participation in the war effort, it was announced here today by Miss Esther Cooley, head of the department of home economics and chairman of the mobilization program.

ELDER LEE WILL ADDRESS PUBLIC

Mormon Church Leader Will Tell Of Famed Security Program

Elder Harold B. Lee, Salt Lake City, member of the quorum of the twelve apostles, will give a public address at the Latter Day Saints church, 307 North Second street, Monroe, Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Elder Lee was one of the instigators of the nationally known Mormon security program and he will outline some of its features in his talk here. The public is invited to attend.

During the darkened days of the depression, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints devised a program, organized primarily for the purpose of caring for its worthy poor. The church security program was inaugurated at the general conference of the church at Salt Lake City, Utah, in April of 1936. Since its instigation it has served very well in providing employment for those stricken and left destitute as a result of the depression with which the world has been faced in recent years. Large numbers of citizens of the nation have been on government or private relief. Through necessity, many of them accepted assistance for which they gave nothing in return, with a resultant loss to their morale and self respect.

In the hope of taking as many as possible off the public dole and providing work by which they might earn their own living, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints devised what has become known as the L. D. S. or "Mormon" church security program. This program has proven to have 1st, increased the spirit of love and brotherly kindness; 2nd, taught men and women how to work cooperatively for the benefit of the entire group; 3rd, overcome the evils of the dole relief system and the cure of idleness; 4th, stimulated the spirit of brotherhood and fraternalism among the male members, to the end that they will be solicitous of each other's welfare; and 5th, secured through welfare projects and by donations, food, clothing, fuel and other necessities to provide for all who are in need.

Because of these many achievements, many people have become vitally interested in this great system. Even government officials have contacted church authorities concerning the relief program that they might perhaps better their own relief system.

Man In Monroe Tells Of His Flight From Burma

Loes Abandoned Rangoon Few Hours Before Invaders Came

Escaping from beleaguered Rangoon, Burma, a few hours before its fall into the hands of the Japanese and fleeing to Calcutta, India for safety, later making their way to Bombay and thence to New York by steamship, has been the exciting experience of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Loes. They have been in Monroe the past few days but left Friday for Alexandria and New Orleans. Mr. Loes is a brother of Mrs. A. L. Cooke, 607 Bres avenue, Monroe.

Mr. Loes, a native of Louisiana, went to Burma with an oil company and lived there for 15 years, marrying a Burma-born wife whose parents were English.

As a side line and when oil operations did not prevent, Mr. Loes developed an extensive racing stable of some of the finest horses anywhere obtainable. His most brilliant coup was his capture of the Coronation Cup race in Rangoon in 1936. His horse came in first, and the governor of the province personally awarded a handsome loving cup as first prize. Mr. Loes won a number of other handsome loving cups in races, another one being the Burma cup given in 1941 and which his horse "Dixie" captured. He brought this cup with him, large and ornate, solid silver standing several feet high on ebony base.

He stated that his fine stable of horses he had taken from the city and secreted in a dense jungle such as are common to Burma. He left feed for four months for the choice animals but he is fearful that they are now in Japanese hands and may be being entered in races by the Nipponese.

The flight from the country, as one may easily suppose, was extremely hazardous. When the Loes finally, after many trying experiences reached Calcutta, they had to stay for three months before they could get passage for the United States from Bombay.

The trip to New York was naturally through treacherous waters, but at last New York was reached in safety. Mr. Loes was well off financially as a result of his stay in Burma, but all his resources have been wiped out by the Japanese marauders.

He is now back in Louisiana and expects to remain here. He says that his next effort will be to secure a job that will pay a living wage. He expects to be able to find one in New Orleans.

2 MISSING BIKES RECOVERED

Two bikes were reported as missing to police and both recovered Friday. The bicycle belonging to Mrs. J. L. Newcomer, taken from 301 DeSiard street, was recovered by the owner. The blue and red Latonia belonging to Albert Cooper, Swayze's dairy, taken from in front of the Delta theatre, was recovered by Officer McMullen.

MUSIC OUTFITS GOAL OF DRIVE

Federated Clubs Ask For Donation Of Unused Instruments

Mrs. Henry Whitfield, regional chairman of the Federated Music clubs of Monroe, is urging cooperation of the public in a drive starting today and ending Sunday, November 22, which has for its purpose securing musical equipment for the 17 recreational rooms at the local airport.

The group which Mrs. Whitfield heads as chairman, is to sponsor efforts to be exerted through the schools and churches and the general public to have donated by them unused but still usable musical instruments of any nature such as radios, victrolas, guitars, mandolins or other instruments available.

Principals of schools will be contacted and pastors of churches will make the announcement to their congregations urging that there be donations of instruments.

The grand finale will be held on the roof of Hotel Frances Sunday, November 22, when art work will be shown which will be offered on display from local artists and also from talent at the airport. The hours for this public display will be from 3 to 6 p. m. and the public is invited. A free will offering will be received in a large fish bowl. It is hoped to raise enough money to purchase a piano, or make substantial payment on a piano for the airport.

ELDER LEE WILL ADDRESS PUBLIC

Mormon Church Leader Will Tell Of Famed Security Program

Elder Harold B. Lee, Salt Lake City, member of the quorum of the twelve apostles, will give a public address at the Latter Day Saints church, 307 North Second street, Monroe, Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Elder Lee was one of the instigators of the nationally known Mormon security program and he will outline some of its features in his talk here. The public is invited to attend.

During the darkened days of the depression, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints devised a program, organized primarily for the purpose of caring for its worthy poor. The church security program was inaugurated at the general conference of the church at Salt Lake City, Utah, in April of 1936. Since its institution it has served very well in providing employment for those stricken and left destitute as a result of the depression with which the world has been faced in recent years. Large numbers of citizens of the nation have been on government or private relief. Through necessity, many of them accepted assistance for which they gave nothing in return, with a resultant loss to their morale and self respect.

In the hope of taking as many as possible off the public dole and providing work by which they might earn their own living, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints devised what has become known as the L. D. S. or "Mormon" church security program. This program has proven to have: 1st, increased the spirit of love and brotherly kindness; 2nd, taught men and women how to work cooperatively for the benefit of the entire group; 3rd, overcome the evils of the dole relief system and the cure of idleness; 4th, stimulated the spirit of brotherhood and fraternalism among the male members, to the end that they will be solicitous of each others welfare; and 5th, secured through welfare projects and by donations, food, clothing, fuel and other necessities to provide for all who are in need.

Because of these many achievements, many people have become vitally interested in this great system. Even government officials have contacted church authorities concerning the relief program that they might perhaps better their own relief system.

N. J. C. STUDENT WINNER OF TRIP

Alvin Lord To Enter Poultry Judging Contest In Chicago

Alvin Lord, Northeast Junior college freshman major in agriculture from Winnsboro, was named winner of a trip to Chicago by coming off with second place in poultry judging at the Louisiana livestock show held in Shreveport. He will leave November 23, for Chicago where he will compete with 144 contestants in the national poultry judging contest. There he will be a guest of the International Harvester company that has arranged a varied program of trips, movies, exhibitions of agricultural interest, meetings, and banquets.

Lord, who is president of the Franklin parish 4-H club, has taken poultry as his project ever since he entered club work four years ago, and he has won several trips in recognition of ability in this field. In addition, he makes money selling the Barred Rocks that he breeds. Lord says that he plans to continue his agriculture course and eventually do enough in this line of work to help feed the nation.

The trip to the national livestock show is one of the greatest honors that can be earned by an Agriculture student. This marks the second time the local college has been represented at the national meet. Last year T. A. Caloway won a trip to the 4-H club congress in Chicago.

CHURCH OF GOD IS PLANNING REVIVAL

Beginning Sunday (today) the Church of God at 305 Pine street, is conducting a two-week revival meeting. Services will be held nightly at 7:45. Rev. A. Q. Bridwell, of Decatur, Ala., will be the evangelist. The public is urged to attend.

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path." During times of great crisis and perplexity in all ages of the past men have turned to God and His word to find relief and a way out of their difficulties. And, though man has failed in many respects to please his Maker, yet when he comes with an humble and contrite heart God never fails to give him courage and strength and show him the way out. These are days of fear, doubt, and uncertainty. To many the way is dark. To all such, Jesus says, "I am the way, the truth, and the life."

DICK TRACY

TAKING HIS HELICOPTER PLANE, PRUNE FACE RISES FROM THE ROOF OF THE BUILDING WHERE TRACY AND DENNIS ARE PRISONERS AND THEN SETTLES AGAIN ONLY TWO BUILDINGS AWAY.

PRUNE FACE BRINGS THE MACHINE TO REST OVER A CERTAIN SPOT, WHEREUPON THAT PORTION OF THE ROOF DROPS SILENTLY AND THE PLANE DISAPPEARS.

A FALSE ROOF SLIDES INTO PLACE AND ALL IS QUIET.

THAT'S WHAT I CALL A PERFECT GETAWAY.

I SEE NOW, PRUNE FACE, WHY YOU WANTED TWO BUILDINGS. AUTHORITIES WOULD NEVER DREAM OF LOOKING FOR YOU SO NEAR YOUR ORIGINAL HEADQUARTERS.

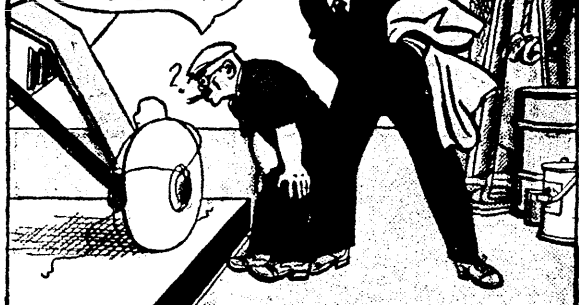

AND WITH THAT DIS-APPEARING "LANDING" FIELD ANY AIR SPOTTER WOULD BE ACCUSED OF INSANITY FOR REPORTING A PLANE IN FLIGHT.

IT'S A GREAT IDEA, TOGO.

HM? WHAT'S THIS? I PRESUME YOUR TAKE-OFF WAS NOT WITHOUT INCIDENT.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN?

LOOKS LIKE WIRE - IT IS WIRE! HM? DID YOU PERCHANCE SNARE A TELEPHONE LINE AS YOU LEFT THE OTHER ROOF?

AND MEANWHILE -

YEAH, THERE'S YOUR SHORT CIRCUIT, JOE. THE POLE NEXT TO THAT CHIMNEY.

YOU'RE RIGHT! LET'S GET THE LADDER.

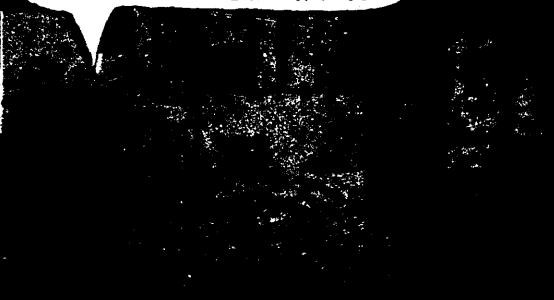

AND DOWN IN THE BASEMENT -

PINCH ME! I CAN'T BELIEVE WE'RE STILL ALIVE, TRACY.

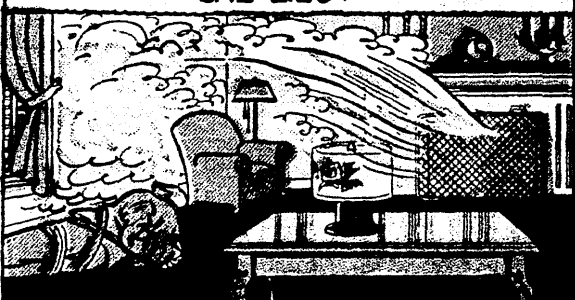

STARTING THAT BLOWER MOTOR OF THE HEATING SYSTEM HAS DONE IT, DENNIS.

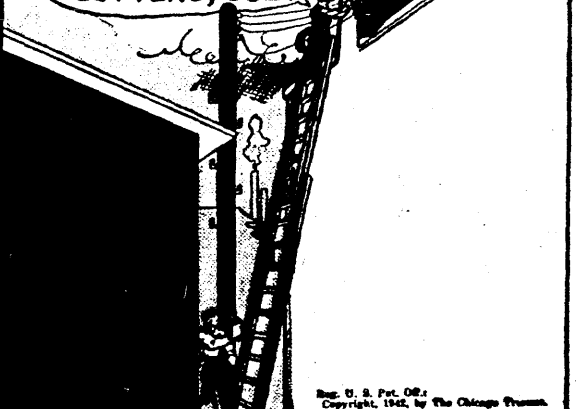

YOU SEE, THE AIR DUCTS ARE ALL SEALED UP. AND AS FAST AS THAT GAS COMES DOWN THE COLD AIR DUCT IT'S BLOWN RIGHT BACK UPSTAIRS.

NOT ONLY IS THE GAS BEING BLOWN BACK UPSTAIRS, BUT IT IS GRADUALLY FINDING ITS WAY UP THE FIREPLACE CHIMNEY FROM THE ROOM WHERE CAL LIES.

BRING UP THE BIG CUTTERS, JOE.

HEY, JIM! WH-??

DID YOU HEAR SOMETHING FALL?

POOR "DADDY"---"KILLED IN ACTION"--- "UNCONFIRMED ENEMY CLAIM", O' COURSE-- BUT SOMEHOW THIS TIME I'M FRAID
IT'S TRUE--THAT LAST LETTER HE WROTE--HE EXPECTED THE END--THAT WAS NEVER LIKE "DADDY"--HE MUST HAVE BEEN PRETTY SURE ABOUT IT--

WELL, I'LL BET HE AND PUNJAB AND
TH' ASP AND CHUCK TOOK PLENTY O'
THOSE LITTLE SLANT-EYED BABOONS ALONG WITH 'EM-- WHEREVER HE IS NOW, HE'S HAPPY, I'LL BET---HE WOULDN'T WANT ME TO FOLD UP-- I'M TRYIN' TO TAKE IT, LIKE A SOLDIER---BUT IT'S HARD TO DO!

BUT OTHERS CAN TAKE IT! AUNTIE
PRISS LOST HER HUSBAND AND ONLY SON IN TH' LAST WAR--AND LOOK AT DRIFTWOOD--ALL HIS FOLKS--DEAR ONES--EVERYONE HE KNEW--WIPED OUT! GEE!

IT'S WAR, O' COURSE! WE ALL CAN TAKE IT, AND WE WILL!
AND, BY GOLLY, WE'LL DISH
IT OUT, TOO! AND KEEP ON DISHIN' IT OUT--THAT'S WHAT WILL WIN THIS WAR---

SO MANY MEN ARE GONE--FIGHTIN'-- I CAN'T EVER BE A SOLDIER--I'M EVEN TOO LITTLE TO WORK IN A WAR PLANT-- BUT WE KIDS CAN DO A LOT--AN AWFUL LOT TO HELP--IF ONLY WE TOO KEEP ON DOIN' ALL WE CAN--

KIDS ARE TH' SAME AS GROWNUPS!
THEY GET A GOOD IDEA! WORK LIKE
TH' DICKENS FOR A WHILE-- THEN SORTA LOSE INTEREST AN' SLOW DOWN,
IF THEY DON'T WATCH OUT--WE MUSTN'T SLOW DOWN FOR ANYTHING!

TH' ENEMY ISN'T SLOWIN' DOWN!
NO--AND THEIR KIDS HAVE TO WORK!
LABOR CAMPS! WHIPS! HERE IT'S ALL
UP TO US! MY GUESS IS WE KIDS CAN DO ANYTHING ANY AXIS KID CAN DO-- AND DO IT TWICE AS GOOD, AND ON OUR OWN!

EVERY JOB ANY KID CAN DO, HELPIN' A GROWNUP IN ANY WAY--HELPIN' AROUND HOME, TOO--GIVES THAT GROWNUP JUST THAT MUCH MORE TIME TO GET IN THERE AN' PITCH--IN TH' PLANTS, ON
TH' FARMS, OR WHEREVER THEY CAN DO TH' MOST GOOD!

HEY! THAT FELLOW COMIN' UP TH' STREET FROM TH' STATION--- MUST HAVE COME IN ON NUMBER SEVEN-- DON'T I KNOW HIM? HM-M---BUT THE WAY HE WALKS--SO TIRED-- WHY-- IT'S---IT'S---

DOC ZEE!
YOU'RE HOME!
DIDJA
FURLOUGH?

HELLO, ANNIE!
MIGHTY NICE TO SEE YOU--NO--
I--I DIDN'T GET

ANCIENT BOOK ON WITCHCRAFT, CHESTER-

GOLLY, COUSIN
JUNIPER - THIS BOOK MUST BE HUNDREDS OF
YEARS OLD!

IT IS, LAD - BUT WITCHCRAFT HAS
AS STRONG A HOLD ON MILLIONS OF PEOPLE TODAY AS IT HAD WHEN THIS BOOK WAS WRITTEN!

LOOK!
THIS CHAPTER TELLS HOW TO
TRY IT!

THE ONLY FOLKS WHO EVER SUCCEED IN MAKING GOLD OUT OF LEAD ARE THE ONES WHO OWN LEAD MINES!

GEE - IT LOOKS EASY - WHAT ABOUT THESE DOLLS? THE BOOK CALLS THEM
POPPETS - DOESN'T
IT MEAN PUPPETS?

NO, THEY'RE CALLED POPPETS, LAD - THEY'VE BEEN THE FAVORITE TOOL OF SORCERERS SINCE THE DAWN OF TIME -

WHAT DID THE WITCHES DO WITH THEM?

THEY USED THEM TO DESTROY THEIR ENEMIES - AND IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD WITCHES ARE STILL DOING IT!

HOW

WELL, GENERALLY THEY MAKE A DOLL AS NEARLY LIKE THE VICTIM AS POSSIBLE - THE SPELL IS SAID TO WORK BETTER IF THEY PASTE A REAL HAIR OF THE VICTIM ON THE DOLL'S HEAD!

- THEN THEY STICK PINS IN THE DOLL AND MUTTER STRANGE INCANTATIONS OVER
IT - AND BEFORE LONG THE VICTIM
SICKENS AND DIES!

YOU DON'T REALLY MEAN
WORKS, JUNIPER?

AYE - MOST OF
THE TIME IT DOES SUCCEED - BUT THERE'S NOTHING
MYSTERIOUS
ABOUT IT -

BUT I DON'T

THE TRICK IS THAT THE VICTIM MUST BE TOLD ABOUT IT - SEE?
THEN, SPECIALLY IF HE'S SUPERSTITIOUS,
HE WORRIES HIMSELF TO DEATH!!

NEXT DAY--

GEE - I HOPE HE GETS THAT LETTER--

CHESTER, LAD -
WHAT ON EARTH HAVE YOU GOT THERE?

I'M CASTING A LITTLE SPELL - I DID EVERYTHING
LIKE YOU SAID - I MADE THE DOLL - MAILED A LETTER TELLING THE GUY
ABOUT IT - IT'LL SUCCEED, TOO! HE'S SUPERSTITIOUS -

WHO,
?!!

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

WE MUST REPAIR TH' MOTOR AT ONCE-- I, HERR SCHTINKER, WILL PERSONALLY FIX IT--

LATER

IT'S HOPELESS-- I AM NOT FAMILIAR ENOUGH WITH THIS TYPE OF MOTOR-- I WAS ALWAYS AGAINST THIS MODEL BUT TH' HIGH COMMAND INSISTED--

THEY SAID IT WAS TH' BEST IN THE WORLD-- OUR AGENTS STOLE THE DESIGN FROM AN AMERICAN PLANT-- BUT ITS INTRICACIES ARE TOO FOREIGN TO ME--

WELL, I'LL BE! IT'S TH' SAME TYPE I USED TO BUILD IN ONE OF TH' FACTORIES I INHERITED FROM MY LATE WIFE, JOY--

GOOD! THEN YOU UNDERSTAND IT-- FIX IT AT ONCE AND WE'LL BE SAVED--

M-M-AND IF I DON'T FIX IT TWO AMERICANS WILL LOSE THEIR LIVES BUT I'LL BE KILLING A WHOLE SUB FULL OF AXIS RATS-- BUT ON ACCOUNT OF CINDY-- I-ER--

"I COME IN PEACE," TARZAN CALLED, BUT HIS VOICE WAS LOST IN THE CLAMOR OF HIS ASSAILANTS.

THE AGILE APE-MAN EASILY AVOIDED THE MISSILES FOR THEY WERE THROWN WITH SMALL FORCE.

THE AND TIME AGAIN HE PLUCKED THE SLUGGISH STEAKS FROM THE AIR.

THE CHIEF SHRUGGED HELPLESSLY. "NO HUMAN HAND CAN SAVE US FROM OUR POWERFUL FOE."

NOW AN ELDER WHISPERED: "PERHAPS HE IS STRONG ENOUGH TO TAKE OUR PLEA TO THE REAR OF OUR ANCESTORS."

FLASH GORDON

BY
RAYMOND

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Alex Raymond

Tarzan

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

TIME AND TIME AGAIN HE PLUCKED THE SLUGGISH SPEARS FROM THE AIR.

NOW AN ELDER WHISPERED: "PERHAPS HE IS STRONG ENOUGH TO TAKE OUR PLEA TO THE REALM OF OUR ANCESTORS."

"NEXT WEEK FAREWELL TO LIFE"
